

Anty Drudge's Washing Test.

Anty Drudge—'This basket of clothes was boiled and rubbed the old-fashioned way but ten times, yet the fibre has been so weakened that they're full of holes. The other basket was washed the same number of times the Fels-Naptha way, and there is not a break in them—fabric as strong apparently as when it came off the loom.'

Does Monday morning find your kitchen like a Turkish bath and steam filtering into every room? If you enjoy the odor of boiling clothes, well and good. If you don't, then use Fels-Naptha soap. Fels-Naptha will cleanse your clothes in cold or lukewarm water—no boiling—in half the time it takes by the old-fashioned way. Hard-rubbing and all the other disagreeable features of wash-day done away with.

Use it according to directions on the red and green wrapper.

INSURGENTS IN DOUBT

ACTION THEY WILL TAKE ON POSTAL SAVINGS BANK BILL IS UNKNOWN.

LOST ONE OPPORTUNITY TO SECURE AMENDMENT

Removal-of-Deposits Clause Carried by Only Five Votes—Good and Other Iowa Congressmen Present. Amendments Which Are Adopted—Insurgents Appear to Hold Balance of Power.

Washington, June 3.—Without attempting to reflect in any manner upon the position of the so-called insurgent republicans on the postal savings bank bill their absence from the house republican caucus Wednesday night defeated the Vreeland amendment to the bill, which provided that 47 1/2 per cent of the deposits could be withdrawn for investment in bonds or other securities of the United States and that 7 1/2 per cent should remain on deposit in banks in each state and territory willing to receive the same under the terms of the act.

The Vreeland amendment was defeated by five votes and had the republican members of the Nebraska delegation plus two insurgent members from the Iowa delegation being in caucus, the Vreeland amendment would have been adopted instead of the Davidson amendment which provides that not exceeding 30 per cent of the amount of such funds deposited may be withdrawn by trustees, requiring that a residue of 65 per cent shall remain on deposit in the banks of the state or territory.

Iowa Secures Amendments. In the caucus Iowa showed up large in amendments adopted. Representative Good securing an amendment to section 9 of the bill which authorizes the board of trustees to take from a bank's securities public bonds, certificates of indebtedness, sewer and water bonds on municipalities supported by taxing power and which the board may deem sufficient to insure safety and prompt payment of deposits which the trustees may make in solvent banks.

Congressman Dawson, who has labored earnestly for the passage of such a bill, secured an amendment as to the investment of bonds or other securities of the United States from the fund which the act provides for when in the judgment of the president the public welfare and the interests of the United States require.

Just what position the insurgents purpose taking on the postal savings bank bill now perfected by the republican caucus is problematical. Unless they join the republicans in supporting the rule to limit debate on the bill it is impossible to predict how long the debate will last and everybody is interested to know with which side the insurgents purpose to play when the postal savings bank bill comes up for consideration.

CATERPILLARS RUIN RANGES. Huge Area in Southwest Is Being Devastated by Pests.

Washington, June 3.—A new variety of caterpillar is devastating the cattle ranges of northwestern New Mexico, southeastern Colorado and northwestern Texas and the department of agriculture is seeking far and wide for an antidote for the pest. It is difficult to imagine so innocent an animal as a caterpillar doing any damage to a cattle pasture, but the official reports at the department indicate that this new one is a dangerous proposition. This is what the reports say about the individuality of the new caterpillar: 'The full grown larvae frequently measures two and a half inches in length with the diameter of a man's index finger, and are so numerous that one has to choose his steps to avoid crushing the huge, spiny, ugly things. The area infested by these caterpillars at this time is known to extend 200 miles from north to south and about 150 miles from east to west. Counts made of a measured square rod show the numbers of the caterpillars in that region to be in some cases as high as 20,000,000 to the square mile, justifying as conservative an estimate of 1,536,000,000 predepreting the infested area.

Development of the Tomato. The tomato, wholesome, toothsome, capable for such variety of edible use as it is, was not found out by man until comparatively recent times. It is a native of western South America, whence it was introduced and cultivated in Europe during the sixteenth century. At first its wrinkled fruits were regarded with suspicion and it was grown to be looked at as a curiosity more than anything else. Cultivation smoothed out the wrinkles and developed the tomato so that in the eighteenth century both yellow and red varieties were known. There are old people, now living today, who relate that in their childhood the tomato was known as the 'love apple' and was poisonous if eaten too much of.

That Iowa will have a dragged road for automobiles from Perry to Sioux City is practically assured now, to be known as the 'river to river' automobile route across the state. Interest is manifested here among the autoists and merchants generally for it is realized that the dragged road would mean much to the city as well as to the state and the cities thru which it passes.

Fort Dodge.

Men to do odd jobs are exceedingly plentiful. They have come to get work on the big jaying jobs here this summer. Many are almost broke and will take any job given them. Contractors are employing many of them where unskilled labor is needed. Carpenters and other skilled labor are very scarce, say the big employers. The large amount of building in Fort Dodge is responsible for the insufficient number of men.

Twenty-one horses were burned to death Tuesday in a fire which destroyed a barn kept by William Terry at 511 Steuben street. When the fire was discovered the interior of the barn was a mass of flames, and all rescue work was rendered so dangerous that no attempt to enter was made. The total loss is estimated at $2,500. A small barn adjacent to the large structure also was burned. Several roomers at the Farmers' hotel, Sixth and Steuben streets, were forced to flee with their belongings. This hotel is only a few feet from the barn. When the fire started several of the lodgers in the hotel were sleeping. Some of these did not awaken until after the firemen were playing their hose on the north side of the hotel, which was then blazing. The water poured into the rooms of the hotel and drenched a few of the roomers. Two men, sleeping in rooms on the north side, had to be dragged down stairs.
