LENNOX NON-UNION MEN ARE ATTACKED

THREE EMPLOYEES STONED AND RESIST ASSAULT WITH REVOLVER FUSILADE.

ALL STRUCK, BUT NOT BADLY HURT BY FLYING STONES

Assaulted While They Sat in the Yard of the Cooley Home, 402 East Church Street—Whizzing Bullets Arouse Neighborhood But Believed None is Wounded—No Arrests Made.

Two non-union machinists, and a machinist's helper, employed by the Lennox Machine Company, whose machinists are out on a strike, were attacked and stoned by a mob, supposed to be strikers or strike sympathizers, while sitting in the yard of the Mrs. Mary Cooley home, 402 East Church street, Saturday night about 10 o'clock.

All of the men, R. W. Howard, R. J. Benton and William DuLany, were struck by the stones, receiving slight injuries. Opening fire with revolvers the non-unionists shot into the crowd, which was variously estimated to number from a dozen to twenty men.

Shots Probably Went Wild. Five shots were fired, but the men who did the shooting do not think any one was hit, although Saturday night one of the men said he thought one of the attacking party was hit in the leg.

One of the straggle bullets struck the J. K. Patton home, 407 East Church street, while members of the family were on the porch. The firing and the whizzing of the bullets in the neighborhood aroused the neighbors, and caused one of them to send a hurry-up call for the police. The patrol and officers reached the scene a few minutes afterwards, but before they had arrived, and long after the shooting ceased, the attackers had fled up streets and down alleys in various directions. No arrests were made and no complaint has been filed by the non-unionists.

Stones Find Their Mark. Benton was struck on the left side of the jaw with a small stone, which broke the skin, one landed on DuLany's head, and another hit Howard on the right arm.

When a Times-Republican reporter visited the spot the stones, some of which were half as large as a man's head, had been gathered up into a pile. Had one of the larger stones landed the victim would probably have been badly hurt.

Are Threatened Up Town. The three men who were attacked said that they suspect that the men who stoned them were the same five and others, who had talked with them and threatened them in the Capron cigar store earlier in the evening.

According to DuLany he and his friends were playing billiards in the Capron place when a union man engaged him in conversation. The gist of the conversation was that an automobile "job" awaited DuLany in Grinnell if he would go and take it. It was intimated, DuLany said, that if he did not go they would get him.

The men have no means of knowing whether the men with whom they talked in the billiard parlor were members of the mob that hurled stones at them a short time afterwards.

Attacked Without Warning. Returning to their rooming place the three sat down in a lawn swing. A short time afterwards they saw a party of men come from the east on the sidewalk and, without warning, stones and pieces of brick began to fall around them.

The trio in the lawn swing were armed and opening fire they began shooting. Then the crowd scattered in all directions.

Sunday night the three non-union men were sitting in the same lawn swing with loaded revolvers lying on the seat beside them.

Will Protect Themselves. Howard, Benton and DuLany came from Omaha to work for the company last Wednesday. They say they are not professional strike breakers, but are simply non-union men who were offered work here and who took advantage of the chance to get employment.

"We are peaceable men," said Benton, "and we are not looking for trouble. We propose to protect ourselves and if they want trouble they will get it."

These men said that the union was still picketing the plant, there being as many as five pickets there at a time. They had not been molested, they said, in coming and going from the factory. They would not file complaints, they said, because they were not certain who the men who attacked them were.

Entire Party of Forty-Three After Spending Few Minutes Listening to Talk on the Crop.

PARTY IN KINSINGER CORN FIELD. The Picture Shows a Part of the Field in Which Professor Holden Pointed Out Soil Trouble.

Interested in progressive and up-to-date farming methods, a group of forty-three farmers of the Albion-Liscomb neighborhood recently made a 100-mile automobile trip, in company with Professor P. G. Holden, of Iowa State College, and others, to inspect the crops.

The upper picture shows the entire party in the Koehler oats field, north of Conrad, where a stop was made to inspect the stand, and where the Ames professors pointed out shortcomings in the grain, and the method that had been used in seeding the field.

The lower picture shows members of the party in the Kinsinger corn field a few miles from Grundy Center. It was in this field that Professor Holden put the owner on the right track to improve a portion of it so that it would give the same stand of corn as the rest of the field, which was most excellent.
