

BIG CHAUTAUQUA OPENS NEXT FRIDAY

ANNUAL ASSEMBLY WITH PROGRAM OF UNUSUAL MERIT, OPENS JULY 22.

ROYAL ITALIAN BAND SATURDAY'S FEATURE

Prominent Platform Lecturers and Excellent Musical Organizations Make Up Program of Strength and Excitement—Detailed Program for the Entire Week.

Next Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock opens the chautauqua on the West Main street grounds and a review of the program convinces lovers of high class lectures and entertainment that previous offerings will have been exceeded.

Friday, July 22. 2 p. m.—Opening exercises. 2:30 p. m.—Concert, Kirksmith orchestra.

Six winsome girls of delightful pliancy appear and every one an artist, they present a striking picture. No matter what length their programs, we have never known an audience to get enough.

THE KIRKSMITHS' ORCHESTRA

Their versatility makes variety easy for them. From the spirited and often heroic splendor of an ensemble production you are whisked off on the wings of a soft sweet vocal duet; or charmed by the inexpressible beauty of a trio of violin, viola and flute.

Agnes Maude, Marguerite Lillian, Pauline Gartrude—piano, violin, cornet, flute, saxophone, viola—six instruments and four vocalists, many beautiful songs—made with ease.

After a full season on our trans-Missouri chautauquas, the persistent demands of our patrons caused us to repeat the Kirksmiths through that territory last year.

They made better than ever; because the people knew what to expect. 3:15 p. m.—Lecture, "Why?" Matson Wilbur Chase.

4:30 p. m.—Organization King Arthur's Court. Every boy and girl between 6 and 14 should join the court, it will be more popular than the Seton Indian work of the past.

7:30—Concert and entertainment, Kirksmith orchestra; Evelyn Bargett, cartoonist. Evelyn Bargett holds a place unique and exclusive. As a reader and cartoonist, she occupies a field all her own.

8:15 p. m.—Lecture, "Why?" Matson Wilbur Chase. 4:30 p. m.—Organization King Arthur's Court.

Every boy and girl between 6 and 14 should join the court, it will be more popular than the Seton Indian work of the past. 7:30—Concert and entertainment, Kirksmith orchestra; Evelyn Bargett, cartoonist.

feels and therefore says, is in every importance is the approaching engagement of Dr. William F. McDowell, the distinguished bishop of all the Methodist Episcopal churches of America.

Dr. McDowell has been consecutively moved from promotion to promotion; chancellor of the University of Denver, secretary of the board of education, Methodist Episcopal churches, and is now bishop of America; preacher to Harvard University, and president of the board of trustees of Northwestern University. He is a world traveler and immediately after his engagements of the chautauqua platform this summer sails for India, China and Japan.

The character of all programs presented on this day will be in keeping with the best chautauqua ethics. The various concert companies have been instructed to prepare accordingly. The early evening vesper services, that proved so enjoyable to our patrons last year, will be conducted this season. Suitable vesper literature will be furnished free.

Monday July 25. 2:30 p. m.—Recital by A. Ruthven MacDonald, Canadian baritone. He is big enough to be seen and sings so you can understand. You get the story as well as the music.

From heights of vocal splendor among the classics, he drops to the marvelously clever "Bibbity Bob," a popular hit that once heard is always remembered.

3:15 p. m.—Lecture by Henry T. Rainey, democratic congressman from Illinois. He will discuss, in a non-partisan way, matters of government, endeavoring to show that while the people think they are really doing nothing, they are really doing nothing of the kind, but that the country is governed by the interests reaching out thru both parliaments and the representatives of the interests in tariff bills, and other measures; and discussing particularly the methods of building up a tariff bill, showing that only the interests were consulted and that the consumer was regarded as a negligible quantity.

He believes that no political party is attempting to defend the Payne-Aldrich bill and that the position of the president is that some of the schedules can not be defended and that the real revision promised by the republican party will come hereafter as a result of the evidence to be collected by the tariff commission provided for in the Payne-Aldrich bill.

7:30 p. m.—"The Story Beautiful," by Rev. Father MacCorry. There is but one man that can tell "The Story Beautiful" in the inimitable way that Father MacCorry tells it, and that man is Father MacCorry himself. He is unlike anyone else on the platform. He is in a class by himself. His power of holding his hearers spellbound through an evening of his voice and manner, to his intense earnestness, and to a most engaging personality. He touches the fountain heads of art, music and literature and brings the life and times of the Messiah up thru the dim azure of the ages until one thinks it must all have happened a few years ago. His word painting vies in brilliancy, and in some instances wins the mastery over, the exquisite coloring of the paintings projected on the canvass. His scathing denunciation of the injustice of the world at the scene of the woman taken in sin—the injustice which stones an erring woman but condones a more sinful man like a livid stream lava, consuming and irresistible in its fiery force.

Father MacCorry is one of the greatest of popular orators, and "The Story Beautiful" is unquestionably the highest reach of both his artistic and oratorical ability.

Tuesday, July 26. 2:30—Concert by the Music Makers. They get busy with their program as beavers building a dam. Their program moves. There are no tiresome waits. At their appearance on the platform a treat appears to all eyes. They are at the last scene. They make an all bill to the last encore. Their rollicking effusions are rendered with musicianship. They please widely and fully.

Comedy encores with action—real musical hits—classy vocal solos; "stories in verse and song," were invented by the Music Makers. They are universally popular. But that Marimphone band, or "The Light Cavalry" is a genuine sensation. The harmony is bewitching. Everything is set ago by the rhythmic swing of the Music Makers in action. They capture the people at once and make multitudes of friends everywhere. They will fill a big place on our chautauqua programs.

3:15—Lecture by Lee Francis Lybarger, Philadelphia attorney. "How Napoleon Won," a lecture on the psychology of greatness. Napoleon stands as the model of success. His mighty achievements tower above those of all other men; and the source of his imperial power was not in his armies, but in himself. How did he win? What were the elements of mind and character which made his success so natural and inevitable?

7:30—Concert by Music Makers. 8:15—Lecture, "Fables and Trickles," Strickland W. Gillilan. It was immediately after writing "Finnigan" that Gillilan began to be in demand as a reader of his own work. He was afraid of his own oratorical gawkiness and when he first attempted to read "Finnigan" by public he apologized for his appearance in such a way as to render it a monolog hit. This surprised him and caused him to begin to take stock of himself as a platform possibility. His growth has been rapid but sure and lasting. In the humorous lecture he said, "He has been two of his most enthusiastic friends in the work. By their faith, implied and expressed, they gave him much courage to go on being himself for the delectation of his audience."

His sixteen years' active newspaper drudgery gave him an insight into every phase of life, yet he has not lost his helpful illusions. He has kept himself sane by being a devoted family man. His beautiful Baltimore home, containing his wife and three children, is his shrine, his anchorage, his regulating influence.

Wednesday, July 27. 2:30—Recital by Fox Sisters' orchestra. A family of talented artists. They create a sensation wherever they go. The great musical centers of the world have been tested and testified to their splendid accomplishments. Besides being a specialist with one instrument, each successfully manipulates a number of others. The results obtained are marvels of beauty and artistic versatility. Every note is a melody with snap and vigor. It is melody in action. Their string quartet is the delight of everyone and many encores follow. From infancy they have breathed the atmosphere of music and their souls are bubbling over with it.

Their numbers are selected with reference to the people's needs and all are delighted. Stringed instruments, trombone, cornet, drum and bells are all pressed into service with telling effects. Their vocal productions are popular and thoroughly enjoyable.

3:15—Lecture "Lectures Aroused," Dr. Edward Russell Perry, of New York City. Dr. Perry is a member of the American Society of Social Science; he is one of New York City's leading preachers; an active force of grand in the metropolis. His lecture "Lectures Aroused" has received unsolicited praise from Theodore Roosevelt, Senator Robert LaFollette and other great men. He would rather discuss principles than partisanship, and knows that he can give a better lecture on broad progressive lines, dealing partially with reactionary ideas in both parties and presenting his ideas of the duties of citizenship than to give a talk upon the less broad issue of insurgency.

7:30 p. m.—Concert by Fox Sisters' Orchestra. 8:15 p. m.—Concert recital, Leo Fullenwider-Lathrop. Here is the highest gift of music. Here is a genuine concession to critical taste. The trio here presented is absolutely without superior. To hear them is the change of a lifetime. 3:15 p. m.—Lecture—"Heart Strings," by Dr. Monroe Markley, Denver pulpiter orator. He is a natural orator. To a commanding personality, masterful use of language, and a deep, hot glow of wonderful conviction, there is added, in rare degree, that magnetism that is the orator's greatest source of power. Each lecture is an eloquent blending of wit and wisdom, pathos and poetry, logic and love, carrying with it the charm of a magnet to a higher and nobler life, and as inspiring weeks afterwards as when delivered.

7:30 p. m.—Concert by the Redpath Trio. 8:15 p. m.—An evening of magic and telepathy, directed by the Floyds, by their own. He carries $2,000 worth of properties and his stage is very elaborate. He is ably assisted by Mohalab, telepathist, whose psychic wonders have confounded many scientific minds.

8:15—Lecture, "The Morning Hour Work." Let no one imagine that because this session is held in the forenoon that it is not of great importance. On the contrary, the character of the work sought to be done requires a time that offers advantages for study.

Dr. J. George, who will have charge of the Morning Hour, is a moving force. He is an originator, not an imitator. He has had big experience in dealing with the mass. He is an organizer of ability. His lectures will begin at 10:45 a. m., each forenoon of the following days and on the subjects named: Saturday, July 23—"The Story of Babel and the Tablets."

Monday, July 25—"Among the temples and tombs of Egypt." Tuesday, July 26—"Gazer, Jericho and other mounds of Palestine." Wednesday, July 27—"Subterranean Jerusalem." Thursday, July 28—"The Temple. Season ticket holders are admitted free to the forenoon lectures."

King Arthur's Court. Every boy and girl in this town and vicinity holding a child's season ticket, costing $1, will be entitled to membership in King Arthur's Court. Good King Arthur will be at the chautauqua in all his glory. Every boy and girl in the country has read with pleasure the interesting stories of his life and times. Some boy in this neighborhood will be chosen to take the part of King Arthur. Do you remember how Arthur got to be king? It was by his ability to pull a sword from an anvil.

Now, our King Arthur will be chosen by votes. The boy who can get the most other boys and girls to vote for him will succeed. You can have this all arranged for before chautauqua begins. The costumes will be gay and gorgeous. Just like the knights wore in the days of chivalry. It would be a good thing to study up on this in advance. There will be shields, swords, armor, banners, lances, helmets, and coats of mail. It will all be educational as well as gorgeous and beautiful.

The noble character of King Arthur will be impressed upon all for the moral force it reveals. The Princess will be there. So will Sir Lancelot, Galin, The Kitchen Boy, Accolon, The Giant, The Knight, with the Badly Made Coat and other notables. All will go in search of the Holy Grail, in imitation of Arthur's men. The leader will use the occasion to inculcate moral and moral lessons.

In addition to all this the leader will arrange a lot of good games suitable for the occasion. There will be circle games, races, tag games, ball games, active games, rainy day games, tournaments, games for little children.

A competent manager will be provided and the work advanced in full form. There can be no doubt that this will prove to be the greatest child feature ever attempted by a chautauqua management.

Dr. Hugh A. Orchard, Superintendent. The superintendent can make a chautauqua succeed or fail as he chooses or is qualified. Dr. Hugh A. Orchard, of Cedar Rapids, will manage the Marshalltown chautauqua. He is a young man, a lover of clean sport, prominent Scottish Rites mason, and a fearless executive.

Dr. Orchard is peculiarly fitted in temperament and experience for high grade platform work. He is free from the egotistical nonsense which is so disgustingly objectionable in less successful lecturers. At no time does he impose upon you that overworked "I am."

He is a genuine orator, and does not mechanically go thru his lectures like unto a school boy reading a poem on Decoration day. He has spent fifteen years in the public ministry and is a member of the Illinois bar.

LEGRAND HELD KEY TO BIG SENSATION

WIRES TO THIS CITY KEPT HOT IN ATTEMPT TO UNRAVEL SHOOTING MYSTERY.

WIFE OF SUICIDE AND WOULD-BE MURDERER HERE

Mrs. Charles W. Rigdon, Wife of Principal in Latest Chicago Sensation, Was Visiting at LeGrand When Husband Shoots Woman and Takes Own Life—Case Enshrouded in Mystery.

LeGrand held the key Friday night to at least one phase of the biggest and most sensational piece of news in the city of Chicago. A telegram to the Times-Republican told of a double shooting, in which Charles W. Rigdon had killed himself after probably fatally wounding one Mrs. Emma Deufex. The LeGrand end of the story was solving the identity of a woman named "Annie" who had written Rigdon, and in whose pockets the letter was found.

In getting into communication with LeGrand the Times-Republican flashed over the wires to Chicago the information that the "Annie" referred to was the wife of Charles W. Rigdon, and that Mrs. Rigdon was the woman who had shot the shocking tragedy. Mrs. Rigdon left this city at 2:59 this morning for Chicago.

Case Shrouded in Mystery. That the case is completely enshrouded in mystery is shown in a telegram to the T-R, today from Chicago to the effect that the police have accomplished practically nothing as to motives and events leading to the tragedy. Woman Hovers On Brink of Death. Mrs. Deufex, the victim of Rigdon's bullet, is hovering between life and death in the Chicago hospital. Her mind is apparently a blank, and she is not able to shed any light on the mystery. Mrs. Deufex was shot in the intestines and after Rigdon fired at the woman he turned the gun on himself, sending three bullets into his head. He died instantly.

The mysterious letter, equally as mysterious as another longer one supposed to have been written by another woman, which sent the big Chicago newspapers and Associated Press to this city for information, read as follows: "Dear Charlie: I am going for a visit to my brother and sister, and when I return will look for another place to live by the first of August. It is so hot and dusty where I am now at 3116 Walnut. The rent is paid up to Aug. 1. I am sorry I was not home the evening you came, and it was not safe to leave the key there, as I wrote and told you."

"Good-by, Charlie, darling, ANNIE. P. S.: For the next three days my address will be care of Elmer S. Hawbecker, LeGrand, Iowa." The sensational shooting took place Friday afternoon on the eighth floor of the big Bedford building, 215 Dearborn street, in the private office of Edward H. Peters, partner of John C. Peizer, former receiver for the defunct Milwaukee avenue bank and a prominent financier. Miss Mary Wilson, whose identity has not been established satisfactorily as yet, and a friend of the Deufex woman, was a witness to the tragedy. Several clerks in the building also saw the shooting, and the entire floor was panic stricken. It was believed Friday night that the motive for the crime may have been that Rigdon was trying to get hold of 2,000 shares of stock which Mrs. Deufex had and refused to surrender. This fact, however, as a clear motive, has not been established. An unsigned letter in Rigdon's pocket, in which mention is made of bitter personal feelings and a stock transaction, led to the belief that the stock deal had some bearing on the case.

Came to LeGrand Tuesday. Altho it was insisted in Chicago Friday night that Mrs. Rigdon did not leave Chicago until Wednesday, it is not a fact. Mrs. Rigdon reached this city Tuesday morning, and reached LeGrand on the morning local train for the east out of this city. She left Chicago Monday night.

Mrs. Rigdon Talks. When the Times-Republican informed Mrs. Rigdon Friday night of her husband's death she said that she was not aware that Mr. Rigdon was in Chicago. When she left home Monday night she thought her husband had left the city for Reno, Nev., where he is interested in gold mine property. At least he had told her that he was leaving for Reno Monday night.

Never Heard of Deufex Woman. Mrs. Rigdon said that she never heard the Deufex woman, or did not know that her husband knew a woman by that name. She could not surmise what the trouble might be.

Mrs. Rigdon came to LeGrand to visit at the home of her brother, Elmer Hawbecker, a traveling man who makes his home at LeGrand, and is on the road for a Chicago furnace concern. Mrs. Rigdon gave her address as 3116 Walnut street, Mrs. Rigdon has been clerking in the cloak and suit department of the Siegel-Cooper store, and is 28 years old.

Question Raised as to Marriage. In Chicago July Rigdon, aged 35, son of the suicide, said that his mother died twenty years ago, and that as far as he knew his father had never remarried.

Mrs. Rigdon said to the Times-Republican, however, that she and Mr. Rigdon were married in Chicago Jan. 4, 1898, by Rev. Mr. Buell, pastor of the Ridgeway Presbyterian church.

Is Brought to This City. In order to get to Chicago on the first train possible Mrs. Rigdon was driven to this city early this morning by S. R. Piper, brother of Mrs. Elmer Hawbecker. Mrs. Rigdon's train left here on time, at 2:59 and was due in Chicago at 10:30 today. A telegram from Chicago to the Times-Republican this afternoon said that if Mrs. Rigdon reached Chicago no one had been able to find her.

Mrs. Rigdon has a sister, Mrs. C. W. Heinenburg, living at 1341 Racine Place, Chicago, and that is where her LeGrand relatives believe she will be found. Mrs. Rigdon also has a younger brother, Ralph, who is employed by Hibbard, Spencer, Bartlett & Co., Chicago.

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS.

A 6 Per Cent Investment Secured by Marshalltown Real Estate 4 to 1.

In order to raise money immediately carry the investment until deferred payments have been made on its building fund subscriptions, the First Baptist Church Society has placed in our hands for sale to investors an issue of first mortgage, 6 per cent bonds legally secured by mortgages of $100 each. The bonds mature in five years and interest is payable semi-annually but the church reserves the right to pay the principal at any interest payment date.

The Baptists have invested over $1000 in this issue. They will spend $45,000 in their building and on top of this they will have in their possession interest bearing notes of responsible citizens who have subscribed to their building fund all of which notes their committee will have passed on as being good. They do not expect to sell to exceed $25,000 of their bonds and will then begin paying them off from the money received on building fund subscriptions. At the highest point of the loan the mortgage security for the $25,000 would cover $23,000 worth of real estate and would be further secured by at least $15,000 of good building fund notes. Back of this is the membership composed of many of our foremost and most substantial citizens who can be depended upon to see that the new church property is never jeopardized by default of interest or principal. In a very few months the loan will have been so reduced that the security will amount to 4 to 1.

We now offer for sale these five year, 6 per cent bonds, secured by first mortgage trust deed on real estate and further secured by building fund notes. They are in denominations of $100 each with interest coupons attached.

Mrs. Mollie McRaney, Prentiss, Miss., writes that she had a severe case of kidney and bladder trouble, and that four bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy cured her sound and well. She closes her letter by saying: "I heartily recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy to any sufferer of kidney disease. It saved my life." McBride & Will Drug Company.
