TIME TELLS THE TALE.

Did You Buy a Suit Made to Order or at the Store?

About this time of the year when your clothes have had about two or three months' wear, how do they look? If you bought a cheap suit that looked fairly good when you got it, it begins to look pretty shabby now, and you wish that you had put a little more money into and bought a better one. When you buy a suit made to order, it is made to fit you, and it is made to last. It is made to measure and it is made to last. It is made to last and it is made to last. It is made to last and it is made to last.

THOMAS HALLINAN DEAD.

Husband of Marshalltown Girl Dies at Kankakee, Ill.

Word received in the city today tells of the death at Kankakee, Ill., this morning, tells of the death of Thomas Hallinan, husband of Mrs. Nellie Minter Hallinan, of this city. Mr. Hallinan's death occurred in the state hospital for the insane, where he had been a patient for about two and one-half years. Mrs. Hallinan is at present in Chicago on a visit, and the telegram that was sent here was forwarded by wire to Mrs. Hallinan's Chicago address.

Hallinan's case has been particularly sad one. In company with his brother, Jack, Hallinan had been engaged in the saloon business in Chicago for several years, and had prospered. Mrs. Minter met Mr. Hallinan while visiting in Chicago, and their engagement followed. About six months after the couple was married, and upon the first opportunity they had had to visit Mrs. Hallinan's parents here, Mr. and Mrs. Hallinan came to the city, arriving on a morning train. Mrs. Hallinan had never noticed anything wrong in her husband's mental condition up to the day she arrived here, and while accompanying Mr. Hallinan on a drive about town began to observe that he was acting queerly. He insisted on returning to Chicago that night, on the ground that he had important business to look after, and, although much to her humiliation before her people, upon bringing her husband here for a supposed visit and then unconceringly returning to the same place, Mrs. Hallinan accompanied her husband home. From that time Hallinan grew worse gradually, and within a few weeks it was necessary to file charges of insanity against him. Mrs. Hallinan visited her husband at the Kankakee institution while on her way to Chicago, and advised friends here at that time that she feared his death was only a question of a short time.

It is not known here what arrangements will be made for the funeral, but it is presumed that interment will be in Chicago.

A POSSIBILITY. That Became a Fact and Pleases Many People. A. R. Lewis, M. D., in a lengthy article in the columns of the American Journal of Health, says concerning hair: "It's deterioration is a constant source of worryment to humanity, consequently bald people are readily deceived by 'fake' hair restoratives. The wish that a hair preparation will 'fill the bill' is father to the fancy that it is likely to do so. A rare case in point is that of Newbro's Herpicide, which actually does 'fill the bill.' It destroys the parasite that attacks the hair root, and prevents dandruff, falling hair and baldness." Sold by leading druggists.
