

Ugly Sores Cured Quick

Piles, Ulcers, Eczema, Fissures, Carbuncles, Boils, Salt Rheum, Wounds, Stings and Eruptions of Any Kind Disappear Like Magic.

Marvelous New Discovery That is Arousing World-wide Interest and Curing Worst Cases in 24 Hours.

A Week Ago I Couldn't Look Anyone in the Face.

A rusty nail scratch has killed an army of people. And yet a new and wonderful species of earth mined in Mexico cures like magic every species of sore, even to cancerous lumps. A carbuncle simply dries up so quick that you are astounded. An old running sore is given a magic touch and years of misery are gone over night. A suspicious cancerous lump that has hung over the mind for years, is gone in a flash.

C. C. Copeland, of Pittsburg, Kan., had a nasty old tender itching ulcer of salt rheum. At Mercy Hospital, Chicago, he says it made the faces of Dr. Murphy and the sisters fairly wrinkle to see it. And yet in a short time Cuticlay cured the sore and all burning itching and pain ceased from the very instant Cuticlay was applied.

It seems like overconfidence to say such things, but Cuticlay is a wonder of nature. It is curing in 24 hours what has defied the best trained skill for years and years. You merely apply the dry powder Cuticlay to any sore spot and the relief is instant, the cure begins then and there. Cuticlay is a strange product of nature. Nothing is added to it, nothing taken away, and yet all the ingenuity of medical skill since the beginning of time never produced anything that will do the work of Cuticlay. It certainly has a magic touch.

You can get a large box of Cuticlay at any drug store for 50 cents, or will be mailed upon receipt of price. If you wish to first demonstrate what the wonderful Cuticlay will do for you, upon the receipt of 5 cents in stamps to pay cost of packing, etc., we will mail you a large trial package. The Cuticlay Company, Chicago, Ill.

It is sold and highly recommended in Marshalltown by McBride & Will, Elder Drug Company, C. J. Lander.

ROOSEVELT GIVEN HEARTY GREETING

THOUSAND OR MORE PEOPLE AT STATION TO SEE AND HEAR FORMER PRESIDENT.

"STICK-TO-IT" SPIRIT BROUGHT GOOD RESULTS

Colonel Wires as Late as 1 O'clock, Expressing Regret at Not Being Able to Speak, But Crowd Insists With Cheers and Roosevelt is Routed Out—Train Here Seven Minutes.

In a message received at 1 o'clock by Marshalltown people that gave them a chance to see and hear Theodore Roosevelt this morning. Another contributing feature was the fact that the train arrived twenty minutes later than was expected at 6 o'clock, when 6:20 was the time given out at Northwestern headquarters as the arriving time of the special.

It was just about 6:40 when the train did reach the station, and awaiting to greet the former president were a thousand or more people, many of whom had reached the station as early as 5 o'clock.

Colonel Roosevelt had not intended, up to the last minute, of making any kind of a speech here, but the persistent cheering of the crowd was not to be ignored.

Had Not Intended to Appear. Colonel Roosevelt had not intended to appear in public here at all, despite the demands made upon him by wire Thursday. He did not want his rest broken, and 6:20 was the time that he expected to reach Marshalltown.

It was a "stick-to-it" spirit of the Times-Republican, dated from DeKalb, Ill., in reply to the message Thursday from this paper to R. H. Ashton, general manager of the Northwestern, Colonel Roosevelt expressed himself as regretting very much that the hour was too early, and that he could not comply with the request to speak.

Crowd Has Its Way. But the crowd had its way, and by its continued calls for Roosevelt, and the cheers that rent the air as the train pulled in, the former president was prevailed upon to appear.

As Roosevelt opened the rear door of the car and stepped out on the platform he greeted the crowd with a wave of the hand and one of his characteristic smiles. The former president had just arisen from his berth, rounded out by the continued cheering of the crowd. Jumping into a pair of trousers, putting on his slippers, and throwing on a mackintosh, the collar of which he left turned up, he appeared, greeted by a thousand throats and a thousand pairs of hands.

Roosevelt was characteristically picturesque, the typical American that he is, when he greeted the crowd after the hush fell following the resounding cheers. "I am glad to see you all," he said, "I was trying to sleep a little longer than I suppose I ought to this morning, but I am glad to be in Iowa, and see you all once more."

Enjoyed the Lions. "I have been traveling in the old country, and have returned only recently from a year and a half abroad, and a year of that time in Africa. While I thoroughly enjoyed it I am glad to get home. I think I enjoyed my trip to Africa and the lions more than the lions enjoyed me. But now I am back, with my fellow countrymen, and I am ready to try to help I can to help with the problems that confront our country today, and it is my thought that even the our grand country is the finest in the world, we all ought to live to make it a little better than it is."

Likes Iowa Baby Crop. "In traveling from north to south, and from east to west, and meeting my fellow citizens, I find that there is a fundamental identity between good Americans wherever you find them—north or south, east or west. The average American, on the whole, is a pretty good fellow, and I think his wife is still better. The kind of people I like best to see are those carrying their little folks—you know my predilection for children. This is a great state, and I raise first class crops, but I believe your best crop is babies. I like your stock, because I believe that you believe in your crop of babies, and I don't want to see Americans depend upon Europe for children."

Train Here Seven Minutes. Colonel Roosevelt's appearance is of a man in the best of physical condition, and from a glance the years are making but very little progress on the most-talked-of man in the country today. Roosevelt has the appearance of the bravest athlete, whose exercise and good habits have built bone and sinew and begotten a good appetite. In fact Roosevelt looks but very little different than he did ten years ago.

Train Here Seven Minutes. Colonel Roosevelt's special was here seven minutes, just long enough for the engine to take on water and not to hurry the colonel in his brief address. Mr. Roosevelt occupied the Pullman sleeper "The Republic" as his private car, on which he will travel to Cheyenne. A large number of newspapermen were on the train, including Mr. Kern and Mr. Curtis, of The Associated Press, "Denny" Ward, formerly of this city, was the conductor in charge of the Roosevelt special.

ELEVEN FOR Y. M. C. A. Older Members of Association Preparing For Football Season. In all probabilities the local Y. M. C. A. will be represented by an eleven on the football field this season. With the coming of the new physical director, who has had great experience in training football material, interest has been awakened in the game, and a number of the older members believe that a fast eleven can be organized in the association. Several members, who have won glory on the gridiron in years past, and who are still young enough to participate in the sport, have grown enthusiastic and expressed a willingness to don the moleskins again.

A list of prospective candidates has been made out and will be turned over to the new athletic director upon his arrival. If a sufficient number become interested to insure a strong team, the eleven will be organized soon and preparations will be made for the season. Those who have agreed to form the nucleus of the team are very optimistic and bar no one from the schedule of games.

FIRE IN FREIGHT OFFICE. Blaze Starts on Roof of Building But Damage is Slight. The Iowa Central freight offices were threatened by fire at about 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening, when a blaze started on the north side of the roof of the building. The fire was probably caused by sparks from a passing engine. The fire caught in the cornice and crept under the slate roof, but by the application of chemicals the department soon subdued the flames, and the damage was slight.

When the department arrived it was at first feared that the fire would be a hard one to contain, as its location could not be found to an exact certainty. The upper rooms of the building were filled with smoke and the seat of the difficulty was not at once determined. By working from within the smoke-filled rooms and on the roof of the building, the firemen were able to locate the blaze and subdue it.

Mr. Biersborn attempted to aid in getting the wagon, and fell under the wheels. Before he could regain his feet the wagon box slid over to one side, pinning him under its weight. The tibia of the right leg was broken in two places. Mr. Biersborn was removed to his home and was resting easily this morning. SUES FOR $5,000. R. G. Homan Brings Suits for $5,000 Damages for Personal Injuries. R. G. Homan has filed suit in the district court against Dr. F. J. Nelman for $5,000. The plaintiff claims in his petition that he called the defendant in October, 1909, to attend a sick horse, and that he was given a throat wash for the animal, which the defendant told the plaintiff could be used without danger of infection, and that there was no necessity to isolating the other horses from the sick animal. The petition sets forth that the wash was used and that the plaintiff contracted blood poisoning from using it. It further alleges that other animals were taken ill from being kept with the sick animal. Suit has also been filed by the American Pearl Button Company, of Wash-
