I. W. RANDALL DEAD.

Former Well-Known Farmer of Vienna Township Succumbs to Old Age.
I. W. Randall, one of the former well-known old farmers of Vienna township, and a resident of the county for thirty-seven years, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Alva T. Stewart, 112 North First street, at 9 o'clock this morning. Mr. Randall's death was due to the general infirmities of age. Mr. Randall had been in feeble health for years, but had been bedfast only about three weeks.
Mr. Randall was born May 28, 1823, at Lewiston, Niagara county, New York, and at the age of 14 accompanied his parents west, settling in Rock county, Wisconsin, on a farm. In the same county, in December, 1847, Mr. Randall took as his wife, Miss Emily Bruce, who died nine years ago when the family was living in Conrad. Upon coming to this county in 1865 Mr. and Mrs. Randall settled on a farm in Vienna township, where they lived until ten years ago last spring, when they moved to Conrad. Two years ago Mr. Randall and his daughter Minnie, who kept house for her father following her mother's death, moved to this city, to make their home with the daughter and sister, Mrs. Stewart.
Mr. Randall is survived by seven children, Mrs. Rosina Cleaver, of Pomona, Cal.; A. W. Randall, and Mrs. Robert Eckles, of Conrad; Mrs. Stewart and Miss Randall, of this city; Charles Randall, who lives on the old home place; and Perry Randall, of Boise, Idaho. Eighteen grandchildren and thirteen great grandchildren also survive. A half sister is living in the person of Mrs. Samuel Miller, of Clinton.
Mr. Randall was a charter member of the Congregational church at Shopshire, Wis., and also of the church here. Upon moving to Conrad, he united with the Presbyterian church, from which the funeral will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:30, in charge of Rev. James Rayburn, of this city. Burial will follow in the Conrad cemetery.
All of Mr. Randall's children were here when the end came. At the funeral six of the grandsons will act as pall bearers.
