

ROW OVER KENNEDY

STATE AGRICULTURAL PAPERS IN AGREEMENT OVER AMES COLLEGE MAN.

ALL DECLARE HE SHOULD QUIT, BUT REFUSE TO FILE CHARGES

State Education Board Stands By Kennedy and Induces Withdrawal of Resignation—Publishers Unite in Writing Letter to Board—Say Kennedy's Usefulness Has Ceased.

Special to Times-Republican.

Des Moines, Sept. 21.—The agricultural interests of the state of Iowa as represented in the agricultural press and in some of the leading organizations, and the new board of education which has charge of the state college at Ames, are in serious disagreement over one small matter relating to the college, which apparently both are disposed to make a test of who's who and what's what in agricultural education.

The difference of opinion came to a head over the matter of retention of Prof. Willard J. Kennedy in the department of animal husbandry. The disclosure of trouble on this score was last summer when it was announced in the papers that Professor Kennedy had resigned and become manager of the Flynn farm in Des Moines, and later it was shown that this had some reference to the then pending question as to who should become president of the college.

Nothing more was heard of it until on the 8th of August when the meeting of the board of education was to be held at the office of the president of the board, and the fact leaked out that the publishers of four farm papers had united in a very brief telegram to the board asking that the resignation of Professor Kennedy from the college faculty be accepted. This was the first known that the previous announcement of his resignation was incorrect.

Asked to Make Charges. It now transpires that when the resignation of Kennedy was received last summer it was referred to the faculty committee with power to act and that at the August meeting of the board the committee reported that it had authorized Kennedy to withdraw his resignation. The board, after receiving the telegram from the publishers of farm papers, appointed the president of the faculty committee, wired the state college and its president wrote a letter to the publishers stating that if they had any charges to make against Kennedy to make them in writing.

Today the publishers of the four farm papers, together with heads of some farm organizations, united in a letter to the board curtly refusing to make any written accusations against Professor Kennedy, reiterating their view that the best interests of the college and the farmers of Iowa would be served by retaining the best of the faculty and offering to make the reasons known in a public meeting of the board at any time should the board desire such information.

Letter a Warm One. The letter to the board of education is said to be couched in such a way as to indicate that the publishers have very little confidence in the desire of the board to serve the interests of the farm community and the college and that it would be useless to present written charges now after the board has acted in reinstatement of Prof. Kennedy. They are anxious that the board of education have the matter cleared up and indicate that they do not regard the agricultural press of the state as representing anything of importance in agricultural education.

There will be no charges filed against Kennedy and perhaps the publishers of farm papers will take no further action, but the mere fact that for once they got together on one matter, in which they are all deeply interested and about which they all know a great deal, had been taken to indicate that the situation must have been peculiar for it is notorious that the farm papers have not been disposed to pull together on much of anything in recent years. The fact is said to be that when this matter was presented to the editors and publishers it was found that they all, without any previous consultation, had arrived at the same conclusion, and that was that the college would be better off without Professor Kennedy. Privately the publishers will talk a great deal stronger about it than anyone would dare put in print. The reasons which they give for stating their judgment that a change should be made touch upon matters vital to the college.

Gist of Complaint. Briefly it is said that Prof. Kennedy has forfeited the confidence of the students of the faculty as a whole, of the stock and farming interests and that his relations with outside interests and his own large private interests are such as to make him undesirable for the place. It had been supposed that Prof. Kennedy was slated to become dean of the animal husbandry department in case of a vacancy there. This fact is said to have had a great deal to do with postponing final settlement of the matter when Prof. Kennedy announced his voluntary retirement from the college. He devotes much of his time to attending fairs and shows as judge or in other capacity. It is supposed that the board of education will welcome the suggestion of an open session for a full airing of the matter. There does not appear to be any personal matter involved. Prof. Kennedy has been a contributor to farm papers and is unquestionably competent as a livestock judge. It seems that he was not connected with the Flynn farm company here, at least not openly connected with it, tho a short time ago he made a bitter attack upon rivals in business which caused some surprise.

Wedding at Traer. Special to Times-Republican. Traer, Sept. 21.—On Tuesday morning at St. Vaclav's Catholic church was celebrated one of the largest Bohemian weddings that has taken place in this vicinity in years when Miss Agnes Dvorak was united in marriage to Joe Husek. There were twenty-one attendants on the bridal couple. After the ceremony the entire wedding party repaired to the home of the bride, three miles west of the church, where an elaborate wedding breakfast was served. Mr. and Mrs. Husek both come from prominent Bohemian families. They expect to make their home on a farm west of Clutier, a gift from the groom's father.

WILLIAM MALONE'S BODY GIVEN TO RELATIVES AFTER MANY WEEKS.

BURIED IN POTTER'S FIELD OVER SIX MONTHS AGO

Sister Finally Learns of Death of Man Whose Name Was Similar to That of Brother Who Had Not Been Heard From For Twelve Years—Body Disinterred and Identified.

Special to Times-Republican.

Burlington, Sept. 21.—After lying in a grave in the Pottery's Field in Aspen Grove cemetery, for over six months, the body of William Malone, who was killed by a train in the Burlington yards on March 17, was disinterred yesterday afternoon by Coroner Prugh and the body was identified by Miss Ellen Malone as that of her brother, William Malone, who left his home in Cedar Rapids twelve years ago and had revisited his native city in that length of time. The body was taken to Cedar Rapids this morning and will be buried in Calvary cemetery at that place.

William Malone was killed in Burlington on March 17 by falling under the wheels of a switch engine while waiting in the yards for an east-bound freight train on which he had a promise of work in railroad construction. With him at the time was Thomas Ryan, also a railroad worker. They had just completed a job for the Santa Fe and had come here from Ft. Madison. Ryan and Malone were on the lookout for a freight and in getting out of the way of one engine Malone stepped in front of a switch engine which was operating on an adjoining track. He lived but a few minutes and was unable to give any information as to where his home was or whom to notify.

Easily Identified. Miss Ellen Malone, of Cedar Rapids, read a dispatch from Burlington in a Cedar Rapids paper, but the name was given as Peter Malone. However, as the months went by she conceived the idea that perhaps she had a brother who was killed and she wrote to Coroner Prugh. From the description this officer furnished she was convinced and came to Burlington yesterday for the purpose of having the body exhumed. The corpse was in excellent condition and was easily identified.

Miss Malone stated that her brother was 43 years of age and had not been home for the past twelve years and that he had not written home for the past five years. The family is well-to-do and there was no reason why Malone should have gone about the country other than that he had a liking for railroad construction work and having engaged in it, followed it wherever it took him. When he left home he had said that they would not see him until he came back with a fortune, as he set out to make his mark in the world.

TOWNER SHIES AT TAFT. Candidate for Congress Has Not Given Presidential Unqualified Endorsement.

Special to Times-Republican.

Des Moines, Sept. 21.—Some of the newspapers of the state last week quoted what Judge H. M. Towner, candidate for congress in the Eighth district, is supposed to have said in an unqualified endorsement of President Taft in a speech at Hameston. His friends now deny that he gave any such endorsement of the president and anyway it was before the letter of amnesty was made public. As a matter of fact, he did not speak at Hameston. Later in the campaign he will open his speaking campaign.

Waterloo, Iowa, Dec. 12, 1907. L. D. McLeod, Mgr. Central Iowa Granite Co., Waterloo, Iowa: Dear Sir: Having placed an order with you several months ago for a fine, large monument to be set in Fairview cemetery, this city, I am pleased to say that the monument has been set in good shape and every detail comes up to my expectations. I have found the Central Iowa Granite Co. very reliable in my transactions with it. Very truly, J. D. CALDWELL, ex-sheriff of Black Hawk county, Iowa, Waterloo, Iowa, Jan. 11, 1908.

CENTRAL IOWA GRANITE CO., Waterloo, Iowa: Having been entrusted with the purchase of monumental work for several cemeteries, I have made a thorough investigation of the matter before purchasing. After taking the matter up with several different firms, I finally decided to purchase from your firm as I found the quality of granite you handle was equal to the best on the market, and the workmanship was higher than the average. After due consideration, I therefore purchased the entire order from your firm. I can further say that the parties for whom I purchased the work in every case were well pleased, and in no case was there any complaint to be found. I will further state that in every case I have found your prices to be very reasonable, and all of our business relations have been very satisfactory to me. I am at present contemplating the purchase of another order which will without question go to your firm. Thanking you for the many favors of the past, I beg to remain, Very truly yours, O. D. YOUNG.
