SENATOR CUMMINS SAYS PEOPLE OF MIDDLE WEST SHOULD TAKE HAND IN RATE CONTEST.

IOWAN SENDS LETTER TO CONFERENCE IN KANSAS

Says Railroads Propose to Create New Basis on Which Rates Can Be Boosted—Must Face the Question Now or Be Placed at Great Disadvantage.

Des Moines, Sept. 23.—Senator A. B. Cummins is in favor of the people of the middle west taking a hand in dead earnest in the matter of the interstate commerce inquiry into the basis for rail rates.

"I want to emphasize, if I can, the immense importance of the hearing now in progress before the interstate commerce commission, or rather before an examiner appointed by the commission. It must be obvious to anyone who has kept in touch with the movement for the regulation of railway rates that we have reached a critical point in our efforts to protect the people against unfair charges and practices in transportation.

"That they will attempt to prove that the actual worth of the railway property of the country exceeds the aggregate of stocks and bonds heretofore issued is as plain as the alphabet.

"The railway managers hope to show that upon their theory of the value of the railroad property they will be entitled to a return upon something like five billions of dollars in excess of the present capitalization. If they can convince the commission of the justice of their demand they will probably be able to sustain their demand for an increase in rates, and they will certainly be able to defeat any application heretofore made for a reduction in rates.

"You know as well as I do how impossible it is under the existing law to adjust the rates of the railroads on account of the discriminations between localities, and how necessary it is to show in each instance that the rate against which complaint is made is too high in and of itself.

"We are compelled to face the question now or else place ourselves at a very great disadvantage in any future hearings."

But for the fact that Senator Cummins is very much disinclined to do any traveling about it can be avoided.

Bartacek Convicted of Assault and Battery Only—Searsboro Suit. Special to Times-Republican. Montezuma, Sept. 23.—John Bartacek was found guilty of assault and battery only. He was indicted for assault with intent to commit murder, the assault being committed Feb. 22, last, on Andrew Hanson, another farmer living close to the defendant in Jefferson township.

Elias James, of Searsboro, was today placed on trial on a charge of threatening to accuse Nettie Armstrong with crime with intent to extort money. Mr. James claims to have seen Miss Armstrong take several articles from his store and suspected her of taking more, which she denies.

PROFITS OFF PRISONERS.

Waterloo's Police Judge Adopts System That Affords City Much Revenue. Waterloo, Sept. 23.—During the month of August the jail prisoners arraigned in police court yielded revenue to the city aggregating $792.61, bringing the total of fines collected during the five months of Judge Caldwell's administration up to $3,408.25.

Some interesting facts are disclosed in Police Judge Caldwell's report. The fines and labor were derived from 292 persons, but no one was taken into custody for a family, thereby impoverishing the dependents of the prisoner. It is true the judge fined several married men and compelled them to pay up, but the money was not retained by the city. Instead it was turned over to the wife, to be disposed of according to her needs.

BOARDS OF SUPERVISORS CHARITABLE INSTITUTIONS, ACCORDING TO SUPREME COURT.

INVOLVES COLLATERAL INHERITANCE TAX LAW

Situation Grew Out of Bequest of $9,000 Farm to Dependent Poor of County, by Mrs. Grace Spangler, Who in Her Will Named Supervisors as Trustees.

Manchester, Sept. 23.—The Iowa supreme court has ruled that the Delaware county supervisors, thru a unique tangle in litigation, involving the collateral inheritance tax law, form a charitable institution.

After Mrs. Grace R. Spangler died, on Feb. 3, 1905, a bequest was left to the dependent poor of this county in the way of a farm, which was appraised at $9,000.

Washboilers Make Good Drums, Says Anty Drudge.

Bobbie—"See my drum?" (Bang! Bang! Bang!) Mother—Bobbie, stop that instantly. You'll pound a hole in that washboiler and then how can I wash your dirty clothes?"

Light summer clothes are more easily damaged than winter fabrics. That is good and sufficient reason why they should be washed with Fels-Naptha in cold or lukewarm water.

In washing with Fels-Naptha there is no boiling or cooking to weaken the delicate fibres, no hard-rubbing to fray them, no injurious chemicals to eat holes in them.

But there are other reasons. It is far easier on the woman who does the washing. There is no hard-rubbing, no blistering fire, no scalding suds to steam the face and redden the hands.

Fels-Naptha soap does its work best in cold or lukewarm water, dissolving the dirt so it can be washed away with a simple rinsing. Sounds easy and comfortable, doesn't it? And it is just as easy and comfortable as it sounds if you use Fels-Naptha the Fels-Naptha way.
