SEEK TO DISSOLVE PHONE INJUNCTION

MOTION FILED AND ARGUED BY COMPANY'S ATTORNEY BEFORE JUDGE BRADSHAW. COURT WILL HEAR CITY'S ANSWER LATE THIS WEEK

Case Is Taken From Local Court and Transferred to Toledo—Company's Motion Alleges That Ordinances of the City Regulating Telephone Company's Franchise Are Void.

Seeking to have the temporary injunction dissolved, which the city secured against the Marshall Telephone Company restraining it from enforcing the new and higher rates put into effect in June, an attorney representing the company filed a motion to lift the injunction in Judge Bradshaw's court at Toledo Saturday afternoon and argued it.

Judge Bradshaw made no ruling. He indicated that he would give City Solicitor F. E. Northup until the latter part of the week to file his answer and make his argument.

Alleges Ordinances Are Void. It was the claim of the telephone company's attorney, as presented in the motion to have the injunction dissolved, that the city's ordinances were void. The gist of their motion is that the ordinance of 1905 is void because at that date no city had ever been authorized by the legislature to grant a franchise to telephone companies. The legislature itself had authorized any company or individual to occupy the streets and alleys of any city, subject only to the right of the city to regulate the setting of the poles and the stringing of the wires.

That in place of the city granting to the telephone company any right, it undertook to limit the right of the company to twenty-five years. The right given the company by the legislature was unlimited.

It was also claimed by the company's attorney that the ordinance of 1910 is void because the legislature had never delegated its right to the city council to fix rates to be charged for telephone service.

City's Attorney Not There. City Solicitor F. E. Northup was not present in the Toledo court when the motion was filed and argued. He said this morning that he was given but one day's notice of the filing of the motion, and because he had a case on trial in the local district court it was impossible for him to be in Toledo. He took the case up with Judge Bradshaw over the telephone, and the court agreed to give him a few days to prepare an answer, which he would hear the latter part of this week.

MILLS' CORN PACK ABOUT COMPLETED

SEASON WILL BE OVER AT WESTERN GROCER MILLS IN DAY OR TWO.

PACK WILL TOTAL ABOUT 55,000 CASES

Crop Was Short About 5,000 or 10,000 Cases Due to Dry Weather—Tomato Crop Proves Better Than Was Expected—To Begin Packing Pumpkin and Kraut Soon.

The corn packing season of the Western Grocer Company Mills is about completed. With one or two more days which will allow pickers to work in the fields the last of the crop grown on the company's leased farms will be put in cans. The packing of corn was resumed Saturday afternoon after an enforced idleness due to the rain.

It is expected that by Tuesday night or possibly Wednesday evening at the latest the last of the pack will be over. Put Up 55,000 Cases.

The total pack will amount to between 55,000 and 60,000 cases. Although this will be from 5,000 to 10,000 cases under the estimate the growing of the crop on such a large scale has been successful.

Tomato Crop Gets Better.
The tomato pack is going on at the rate of from 500 to 700 cases a day. It will continue until frost kills the vines and spoils the fruit. This crop has been much larger than it was at first expected that it would be.

Begin on Pumpkins Soon.
As soon as the tomato pack is over the packing of pumpkin will begin. The company expects to put up 5,000 or 10,000 cases of it. Kraut will be the next pack following pumpkins. This pack will be of from 5,000 to 10,000 cases also.

The company is experimenting with ensilage made of by-products of its corn canning in a silo, which has been built on the Miller farm. The silo has been filled with alternate layers of cobs and husks and the two mixed. If this experiment proves a success a number of large silos will be built at the plant next year and the cobs and husks will be put into them direct from the packing plant.

In the Police Court.
John Reeder was in Justice Millard's court this morning on a charge of assault and battery filed by Glen Crosby, minor son of J. F. Crosby. The plaintiff claimed that Reeder had assaulted him, and in reply Reeder claimed that the plaintiff and other boys had smoked cigars in his barn and had broken window lights. Reeder was fined $10 and costs. The fine was held in abeyance pending good behavior.

John E. Lee, a workman, who was engaged at the county farm, was arrested Sunday at Waterloo and brought to the city Sunday evening by Chief of Police Nicholson, on a charge filed by William O'Brien, of jumping a board bill. The plaintiff conducted the mess outfit at the farm, during the progress of the work. Lee was arraigned this morning in Justice Peck's court, and his hearing was set for Tuesday morning.

M. Watson and J. W. Lang were before Justice Peck this morning, charged with intoxication. Each was given five days in jail.

The elevator, coming down from above caught him between the elevator floor and the edge of the floor of the building. It pinned him by the loins, and but for his cry, which caused the elevator boy to quickly stop the elevator and raise it, the young man would have been killed.

"DO you know you people are fools?" A man said that to us the other day. Had his nerve, didn't he? And he is a good friend too.

His name is Dave May, he sells us Hart, Schaffer & Marx clothing. The other day he was here. While showing him some of the suits we have marked $20 and $25, this is what he said—"Do you know you people are fools to sell worsteds like this grey and that brown for $20 or $25. Why, Chicago and New York stores gets $30 for every one of those suits, why can't you?"

"We could, Dave, but in this country it is different than in New York. While the suits are worth, as you say $25 or $30, the only way we can build a successful business in Marshalltown and put our Hart, Schaffer & Marx label on a high standard is to give values so good that people remember them and come back for a second and a third outfit. In a city so large as New York it is ten to one you won't sell the same man twice; here it is different, the people do come back, when you satisfy them.

The worsted suits Mr. May spoke of are pure, all yarn dyed worsteds, hand tailored throughout, with pure Italian serge lining. The colorings are greys, tans and browns. We have them in stouts, regulars, slims, stubs and short stouts—priced at $20, $22.50, $25.
