NOVAK GETS LONG TERM IN PRISON

QUARRY MAN GIVEN INDETERMINATE SENTENCE OF NOT MORE THAN TWENTY YEARS.

CASE WILL BE CARRIED UP TO SUPREME COURT

Pending the Appeal Novak, Who Will Probably Not be Able to Furnish a $5,000 Bond, Will Go to Fort Madison to Begin Serving His Term, Within Few Days.

Frank Novak, of near Quarry, who was convicted of assault with intent to commit criminal assault on Mattie Olson, an aged Quarry woman, was sentenced to not more than twenty years in the Fort Madison penitentiary by Judge Parker this morning. The second indictment, charging breaking and entering, which was returned against Novak the same time as the one on which he was convicted, was dismissed by County Attorney J. H. Egermayer.

The case will be carried to the supreme court by Novak's attorney, who filed notice of appeal, and who secured an order for a transcript of the case at the county's expense.

Novak's appeal bond was fixed at $5,000 which it is not likely that he will be able to furnish. He will probably be taken to Fort Madison in a day or two.

SEE WAVERLY WATER POWER.

Cedar River Develops About 100 Horse Power at Iowa Town.

The water works committee of the city council visited Waverly, Iowa, Friday to inspect a water power plant in operation there. They found a very simple plan developing about 100 horse power for pumping and generation of electricity, and the Waverly officials seemed to think that their water power was a success. The Cedar river at Waverly is very much larger than the Iowa river here, so some members of the committee are in favor of visiting Eldora on Monday, where a water power is about to be installed in the Iowa river. The Waverly water power cost $4,000 to install but it is estimated that the one here would cost $12,000 or more.

Chairman Clark and Mr. Gregory, of the committee, and Superintendent Madsen of the pumping station, and Superintendent of Mains Mack, constituted the party making the trip to inspect the water power.

MAY ASSIGN CASES AGAIN.

Likely Judge Parker Will Give Saloon Cases to Bradshaw.

It is likely that before Judge J. M. Parker adjourns the August term of court late this afternoon he will assign the four remaining saloon cases for early in the October term, when Judge Bradshaw will preside. These cases were especially crowded for week but other court business crowded them off the calendar. This morning when the anti-saloon attorneys insisted that the cases be hurried to trial, Judge Parker indicated that he might especially assign them for the October term.

Purchases of W. A. Wasson Building Occupied by LaShelle Store.

J. J. McQuire has purchased of W. A. Wasson the business building at 162 East Main street, a two-story block which is leased by the LaShelle Clearing Company. The purchase price, as given in the deed, is $7,500. The property consists of a two-story brick building on a lot 20x50 feet. A few months ago the Iowa Savings Bank of which McQuire is president, purchased of Mr. Wasson the former property, just west of the Wasson property, occupied by the Western Union.

Local Comment

Merritt Greene, of the executive board of the county fair, thinks that before any more buildings are erected on the grounds an effort ought to be made to sell the present grounds and buy forty acres of the Blinford land adjacent to the city park where the county fair could have room enough in which to expand. He says that forty acres down there would be enough cheaper than the town lot value of the present twenty acres to allow enough to pay the cost of moving the barns and of building a new track.

With the magnificent native timber there, the grounds could be developed beautiful beyond description and with both the city park and fair grounds at the end of the same line the street car company could well afford to build to them. Then the Country Club could pick up and move over into the Blinford land where it would be accessible to the same car line. In fact the street car company will have to build somewhere very soon now for its bonds expire in about two years and it can't renew its bonds until it renews its franchise and it can't renew its franchise until it builds some street car lines.

The lecture of Mr. King upon good roads was very interesting and of much value in that it stirred our people to doing something and yet one can't help but lament the fact that people will not apply themselves more practically to their problems than they do. King is so far from being an expert on road building that his public utterances at times are ludicrous. He is not an engineer and prefers to ridicule most of the scientific tenets of the profession. He is essentially an evangelist. His efforts are exceedingly helpful one for it is founded on a belief that so long as we have dirt roads they should be dragged. To this extent he is right and he is entitled to the same credit for success in his evangelism that belongs to Billy Sunday, for in spite of the many things that he says which are not so and in spite of the things which he says that are not in any way new he certainly does get converts when everyone else has failed. He brings 'em right up front to confess their sins and acknowledge the faith. However, we have among our own citizens two men who know more about road building than Mr. King cares to know. Both S. W. Rube and J. W. Burroughs are well enough posted on road building as to be classed as experts, both are engineers by profession, and either man is competent to expose the absurd fallacy of many things Mr. King says but both together can not win one thousandth part of the converts that King wins because first they have not the evangelistic power and secondly because they do not try.

It is somewhat pitiful to watch the unequal struggle between a majority of the council and the city employe whom it is attempted to compel to perform certain duties prescribed in the ordinance creating his job. For six years or more the council has been waiting for the sewer and water main records to be spread on a map and sometime ago the mayor promised to see that the employe performed the work by Oct. 1.

A meeting of the council was held last Monday and most employes would have been in a hurry to appear before the council with the maps for exhibition and demonstration of duty well performed, but not this one. He begged for leniency toward him and the matter was put over until next Monday night, seventeen days after the promised delivery on Oct. 1. It is a safe prediction that when next Monday night's meeting arrives there will still be no maps. Herman will shout for them but there will be either excuses for no maps or such incomplete maps as excuses that he will have wasted his breath. The majority of anything will not get these maps without a fight and it will not get these maps without one. In the meantime plumbers do not even take the trouble to go to the city office for these records because they know that there are no records there and they do not care to follow the employe to the club. The employe sent out their map at the property owner's expense until the pipes are found.

There will be a report made to the city council Monday evening regarding the proposed water power which it has been suggested should be built at public expense in the Iowa river at the city pumping station. The water power, if investigated at Waverly, on the Cedar river, is working successfully.

BOY HAS CLOSE CALL

Wagon Loaded With Oats, and Weighing Ton and a Half, Passes Over 6-Year-Old Boy at Gilman, and Apparently No Ill Effects, Aside From Bruises, Were Sustained—Other Gilman News.

Percy Ellis, the 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Ellis, of Gilman, had a close call from being crushed to death when he was run over by a wagon loaded with oats. The wagon, with its load, weighed a ton and a half, and the wheels passed directly over the lad's body, across the small of the back. The lad's escape from instant death is considered hardly short of miraculous.

So far there are no symptoms in the boy's case to cause any alarm, and the injuries sustained appear to be confined wholly to bruises. The boy is improving nicely, and it is expected that he will soon be himself again.

The Young People's Society of the congregational church has finished the compilation of a book which is declared to be a very complete volume for the use of the household. Mrs. C. P. The 150-acre homestead, which has fairly good improvements, was bid in by Henry Pothast for $131 an acre, a total of $18,340. The forty acre tract was sold to George C. Tigges for $141 an acre, $5,640. The homestead was appraised at $130 and the forty acres at $125. The total selling price of both was $17,980 under the appraised value. The property was sold to divide and settle the estate.

The different churches of the city have contributed to the membership of the class, and now close to 200 will begin the work. The first meeting is to be held in the Friends church, beginning at 7:30. A regular course of study will be pursued, and those who finish the course will formally graduate from the class in June at public exercises, and be awarded diplomas by the International Sunday School Association.

The text book to be used is entitled "Training For Service," and is by Herbert Moninger. Rev. James McGee has been chosen as teacher. Members of the class will be admitted from the age of 15 and upward.

The text book to be used contains fifty lessons, divided into nine parts, as follows: Three lessons on the bible and its books; two lessons on evidences, six on old testament history, six on new testament history, five on bible geography, five on old testament institutions, seven on the bible school, eight on the teacher and his work, and eight on the pupil.

Those who have already signed up membership cards are very enthusiastic over the helpfulness that may be derived from the course of study, and the possibilities of the organization in Marshalltown.

GIRL TO MITCHELLVILLE. Rachel Rust, Aged 13, Ordered Taken to State Reformatory.

Rachel Rust, aged 13, one of the two girls who was arrested about a month ago by the police after they had run away from home, was ordered taken to the state reformatory for girls at Mitchellville, Friday afternoon by Judge J. M. Parker. The girl was arraigned before Judge Parker early this morning but no action was taken in the case, it being hoped that if a little time were allowed a suitable home could be found for the girl.

Dr. Rosa Liebig succeeded in placing her in the Frank Gard home, north of the city, but Mr. and Mrs. Gard were unable to control her, and Friday they returned her to Dr. Liebig, who will probably take her to Mitchellville Monday.
