

WANT IT HELD OPEN

PRESSURE BEING BROUGHT TO BEAR ON CARROLL REGARDING SENATORSHIP.

FEAR ADVERSE LEGISLATURE MIGHT NAME DEMOCRAT

Therefore Many Leaders Want Governor to Say He May Appoint Immediately After Election - Judge Kenyon Coming to Iowa to Participate in Campaign.

Special to Times-Republican.

Des Moines, Oct. 25.—The strongest kind of pressure has been already brought upon Governor Carroll to induce him to at least hold open the matter of appointment of a senator after the election and to not say that he will decline under any circumstances to appoint a man. If, for instance, the legislature should be democratic, of course the present legislature might be called to fill the vacancy and could fill it so after the election of another legislature. An appointment by the governor would not be so well grounded.

At any rate the governor is not going to say that he will refuse to consider any candidate after election. It is sufficient for the present that all republicans do their best to make sure of a big republican majority in the next legislature.

Yesterday afternoon Senators F. L. Maytag, J. H. Allen and Robert Hunter met in the Savery lobby just by accident and for a few minutes discussed the situation. They all agreed that the only thing for all republicans to do at this time is to unite in making sure that republicans are elected to the legislature, then to permit the legislature to handle the senatorship in a manner that will do the state the most good. They agreed that the many good men in whom the people would have confidence and that the choice of the legislature could hardly be other than a good one.

The state committee announces that W. S. Kenyon, assistant attorney general, has been secured for a number of speeches in the campaign. In a sense he would come to speak for the national administration, as will James Wilson, secretary of agriculture. Judge Kenyon will not before done any campaign work in Iowa and if he speaks his addresses will be of a more general deep interest. The first suggestion of his name for the senatorship came from a very prominent railroad man who hinted that possibly the national administration would get back of Judge Kenyon with a view to harmonizing everything in Iowa. It is not believed, however, the national administration would openly take any hand in Iowa affairs.

How can an Iowa man get back home after becoming a Canadian and taking ill? That was the problem put up to Secretary Sumner, of the board of health. The problem was passed up to Surgeon General Wyman, of the marine hospital service at Washington. Mr. Sumner received a pathetic letter from a man who had gone to Saskatchewan and in order to secure land had become a subject of the king, but he has been stricken with infantile paralysis from which he has partially recovered, and he now wants to get back to Iowa. He wrote for a permit to enter the state.

Presumably he will have to subject himself to the rules of the emigration department, and so the matter was referred to Washington.

The fact that the Des Moines papers are urging all voters of the city to insure and register their names on Thursday or Friday of this week, has brought many inquiries from other parts of the state as to the status of registration. The reason the Des Moines voters will have to make an entire new registry this year is because since the last registration the precincts have all been changed about and reorganized. Otherwise there would only be a correction of the registration. Generally in the state the complete registration comes only in presidential years.

The Spragueville train service case before the state railroad commission is still causing a great deal of friction in the eastern part of the state. Spragueville holds the distinction of being the largest railroad town in the state where the trains never stop. It is very wary of this distinction and way long last May put it up to the railroad commission to gently hint to the Milwaukee railroad that it would be a good thing to have a train stop at Spragueville occasionally and pick up some business. But all the trains go whizzing by and Spragueville is not on the railroad map.

The state board of control has just placed boiler insurance on steam boilers which the state owns for heating the various institutions. The main purpose in taking out the insurance is to secure the inspection, for the surety companies enter into contract for inspection of each boiler three times a year. The lives of hundreds of the wards of the state are at the mercy of these large boilers.

The legislature will next winter be asked to make purchase of additional land for the penitentiary at Fort Madison. The small farm which the state owns there has proved to be immensely profitable, and without it the state could hardly have paid all bills for expense at the institution. The prisoners, under Warden Sanders, can be made use of to excellent advantage there.

Des Moines ministers are to preach on the duty of voting and will talk politics from their pulpits next Sunday. The ministerial association is responsible for the movement. They have been asked especially to urge a vote for temperance principles, and presumably many of them will urge that their people vote for the prohibition candidates for state office. The association also announces that it will print the names of all persons signing the muck-contract petitions next year.

The officers of the state teachers' association realize now what a drawing card it is to have Theodore Roosevelt on the program and it would be hard to convince them that he has lost any of his popularity in Iowa by having played politics at Saratoga. The enrollment for the association meet is now about 5,000 and it is sure to go much higher. The program is an exceptionally good one, however, aside from the address by the ex-president and it is going to be a good deal of a puzzle how to care for all the visitors.

SHOTGUN CHARGE IN FACE.

Clinton County Man May Lose Eye From Hunting Accident.

Clinton, Oct. 25.—Charles Gerhard of Lyons, a suburb was seriously injured about noon time by a charge fired from a shotgun, and as a result may lose the sight of one eye.

Mr. Gerhard, with a few friends, had gone up Elk river on a canoeing trip. As he was sitting in his boat, reading, he suddenly looked up just in time to receive, full in the face, part of a charge from a shotgun in the hands of one of a party of men going up the river in another boat. Also blinded by the shot, he is almost certain he recognized some of the members of the reckless party, but can not be absolutely sure. One of the shots struck him in the eye and penetrated into the eyeball, another in the lip and thru into his tongue. Still others struck him in the nose, ear and forehead.

His friends, hearing the shot, came to his assistance and brought him back to Lyons, where he was removed to Mercy hospital. The injury to his eye is the most serious of all, but it can not be determined for some time whether the sight will be destroyed.

HAS AROUSED VOTERS

Senatorial Vacancy and Fear of Democratic Legislature Will Result in Larger Vote and More Straight Republican Ballots.

Special to Times-Republican.

Northwood, Oct. 24.—The death of Senator Dolliver may, in the opinion of local men who are watching the situation, make a decided difference in the vote of the county for member of the lower house of the legislature.

Ed Collin, dean of the Worth county bar, who is the republican candidate, has been unable on account of illness to make much of a canvass. While James Seater, a prominent farmer, who was nominated by the democrats has been making a strong campaign, and had received many assurances of support in precincts which are overwhelmingly republican. It seemed for a time that Worth county might depart from her custom of fifty years and send a democrat to the legislature.

The coming election of a United States senator, however, has given voters who would have otherwise voted the ticket something to think about, for they might break the lines and vote for a democrat in ordinary years, but do not in most instances wish to risk giving the other party another vote when the toga is handed out.

Mr. Collin has just come from a Cedar Rapids hospital, where he underwent a serious operation. He is again at his office, but is not yet fit to undertake a canvass.

Clean Up Campaign Results.

Des Moines, Oct. 25.—During the first week of Superintendent Zell G. Roe's "morality crusade," 330 persons were arrested by the police. Of that number, 180 were fined or imprisoned and 150 were released pending their good behavior or because of a lack of evidence against them.

More than half the persons arrested during the week were picked up for intoxication and vagrancy. Others were arrested on charges ranging from robbery to disturbing the public quiet. Superintendent Roe and Acting Chief of Detectives W. D. Sims, who is in charge of the crusade, are pleased with the results of the first week's cleanup.

Children Out of Jail.

Waterloo, Oct. 25.—The two small children of Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Robinson, who have been in the county jail with their mother, who is being held with her husband, on an indictment charging arson, have been removed to a home in this city, where the two older girls are being cared for. This arrangement is only temporary, or until the outcome of the hearing of the parents, which will be commenced in district court next week.

The mother disliked to part with the small children, but the court and the judge thought it would be for the best that they be placed in a home.

Scheatzel, a banker of San Diego, Cal., who with his parents will be here for the wedding. The bride's father, Dr. D. W. Fahn, was pastor for thirteen years of the Presbyterian church of Independence.

Large Yield of Potatoes.

Special to Times-Republican.

Trass, Oct. 25.—Will Kieth, having the largest acreage of potatoes in this vicinity, nearly twenty-five acres, is now digging them up. They are yielding about 135 bushels to the acre. The potatoes are ripier than many that have been marketed and are of good quality for this year. Mr. Kieth has marketed several hundred bushels, the price averaging around 50 cents.

Riverman for Sixty Years.

Davenport, Oct. 25.—Captain Tom Sherwood, one of Davenport's veteran rivermen, was 77 years of age Monday. He is still in good health and is a familiar figure on the streets of the city, having many friends here. For practically sixty years he has been engaged in river work, starting his career on the steamer Clara Dean, on the Ohio river between Pittsburg and Louisville in 1850.

"It Beats All."

This is quoted from a letter of M. Stockwell, Hannibal, Mo. "I recently used Foley's Honey and Tar for the first time. To say I am pleased does not half express my feeling. It beats all the remedies I ever used. I contracted a bad cold and was threatened with pneumonia. The first doses gave great relief, and one bottle completely cured me." Contains no opiates. CUMMINS IS HOPEFUL

TELLS CHICAGO INTERVIEWER REPUBLICANS WILL CARRY EVERY IOWA DISTRICT.

WILL BE NO SPLIT IN PARTY WHEN IT COMES TO VOTING

Expresses Belief That Dolliver's Successor Will Be a Progressive—"In-surgents" in Party Are Not Bolters—Democratic Dodgers Barred at Hamilton Club Meeting.

Chicago, Oct. 23.—Iowa hotbed of insurgency, will not only stay in the republican ranks Nov. 8, but Iowa democrats will lose the solitary seat they hold in congress, according to Senator Albert B. Cummins. In his suite at the Congress Hotel the Hawkeye state leader yesterday coined epigrams on the political situations between meditative puffs on a fragrant Havana.

"Iowa will not change its political complexion Nov. 8," he said. "Conditions are such just now, but they are rapidly coming out of the sulks. The state will not only remain republican, but the republicans will capture the seat now held by the democrats, the Jameson district. Two other districts are good fighting ground, but when the votes are counted my belief is that the republicans will be winners. The party will elect a solid delegation to congress."

Progressives Not Bolters.

"Nothing appeals to me as being so absurd as a republican trying to elect a democrat to congress because he is dissatisfied with the tariff act. The progressives are not party bolters. Their very name precludes that. One would not call a congressman to jump over a precipice. The standpat party, too, I am convinced, will not be party bolters, altho they do more of that than do the progressives. Republicans will be republicans because to be otherwise would be absurd and foolhardy."

As to the successor to Senator Dolliver, a progressive republican will be elected to the vacancy. The progressives are in control of the legislature and they will select a progressive. If a standpatter is appointed to fill the vacancy it will be only for the few days' period between the convening of congress and action on the part of the legislature. As yet the situation has not crystallized to the point where there is much definite consideration of candidates. I have no idea who will succeed my late colleague.

Says Democracy Dangerous.

The senator from Iowa burst into a hearty laugh when told that the democrats were planning to "capture" the Orchestra Hall meeting by distributing leaflets containing excerpts from his speeches on tariff and railway legislation.

"Help that along," he said. "I could not ask anything better. If you have any influence with them, use it in spurring them on. It will give me the inspiration I want for tonight's speech. It won't be the first time the democrats have talked in that strain.

"The democrats are wrong in theory and principle. It would be absurd and disastrous to put them in power. Admitted that many republicans are dissatisfied with the tariff act, what would they gain by electing a democratic congress?"

Campaign Coup Blocked.

An aggrieved air was worn by leaders at democratic headquarters yesterday when the police authorities refused them permission to distribute leaflets at the Cummins meeting. Daniel Sullivan, publicity manager, called up Vernon Bean, Mayor Busse's secretary, and presented a request. Bean referred him to Chief of Police Steward, who referred him to James Markham, who looked up the ordinances and dug one up on which he based a refusal of the request.

"Our campaign of education is stopped by policemen's clubs," protested Sullivan later in the day.

The lake is about a mile wide, and several miles long, and the special seine to be used for the purpose, is just being turned out of the Chicago factory, where it will be inspected before being sent to Lake View. The seining will undoubtedly attract a large number of people from all over this vicinity.

Lake City Miscellany.

Special to Times-Republican.

Lake City, Oct. 25.—Douglas D. Hammond of this city, auctioneer, has entered into a partnership with Orville Lee, of Sac City.

A Dolliver memorial service at the Methodist church Sunday evening was largely attended. Hon. John W. Jacobs was the principal speaker, and delivered an impressive address. All the ministers of the city also spoke. Rev. J. M. Deschamps, of the Baptist church, particularly emphasized the distinction that Dolliver was a christian man, and was a statesman, not a politician.

Electrician's Injuries Fatal.

Davenport, Oct. 25.—Robert P. Mullen, the young Davenport electrician, who was injured at the Bettendorf car shops Friday, died last night at 11:45 o'clock at his home, as a result of the heart trouble in the accident. Mr. Mullen was struck by a large crane while at work in the big shops and was knocked from his position to the floor, striking on his hands and head. Both wrists were broken, his hip was dislocated, and he was hurt about the head and internally. His wife and two children survive him.

Aged Woman Found Dead.

Miles, Oct. 25.—Mrs. William Lenning, aged 70, was found dead in bed yesterday morning at her home here. Heart trouble is the ascribed cause. Mrs. Lenning had attended church services Sunday morning previous to her death in apparently as good as her usual health.

Ice Caves.

Now that a new ice cave, which is said to be the largest in the world, has been discovered in the Austrian Alps, it is appropriate to remark that any traveler who is anxious to see an ice cave without going so far can visit one, without difficulty, from either Thun or Interlaken. It is situated half way down the precipice which falls from the Bigsawyl-grat into the Jostal. The approach to it involves no very difficult scrambling; but it is unwise to enter unless guided by some one who has been there before. The ice is slippery, as ice is apt to be, and there are ample opportunities of sliding down a slope to destruction.

Capt. Bogardus again hits the Bull's Eye

This world famous rifle shot who holds the championship record of 100 pigeons in 100 consecutive shots is living at Lincoln, Ill. Recently interviewed, he says: "I suffered a long time with kidney and bladder trouble and used several well known kidney medicines, all of which gave me no relief until I started taking Foley Kidney Pills. Before I used Foley Kidney Pills I had severe backaches and pains in my kidneys with suppression and a milting that many residents in the morning I would get dull headaches. Now I have taken three bottles of Foley Kidney Pills and feel 100 per cent better. I am never bothered with my kidneys or bladder and again feel like my own self." McBride & Will Drug Company.

His Modest Proposal.

"But are you able to support a wife?" asked the old gentleman. "Well," replied the youth, "you know it is said that two can live almost as cheaply as one in such circumstances." "Yes; I've heard that stated," admitted the old gentleman doubtfully. "So it occurred to me," went on the youth cheerfully, "that you would not begrudge the slight extra cost that will be entailed as a result of this addition to your family."
