LITTLE DAUGHTER HAD SCALP HUMOR

Itched So that She Scratched Until Blood Came. Hair Fell Out. Scalp had Unpleasant Odor. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment Four Weeks. Scalp Perfectly Clear.

Hair Began to Grow Again and Now Has Beautiful, Long Hair.

"When my little daughter was about five years old, she was taken with the measles. A few weeks after the measles were gone, she began to have a severe scalp humor. It itched so that she would scratch the whole day, until the blood came. We had a doctor and tried a good many other remedies, but nothing helped. Her hair all fell out and the scalp itself had an unpleasant odor. After we had tried all the other remedies, my wife told me to try the Cuticura Remedies. We bought one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment. We used the Cuticura Remedies according to directions and in about three or four weeks her scalp was perfectly clear of the terrible humor. Her hair began to grow again and now she has beautiful, long hair. Since that time I have recommended the Cuticura Remedies to other people and they also had success. Chas. Szabrenner, Anamosa, Iowa, Nov. 3, 1909."

CANT FIGURE IT OUT

ALL CLAIMS ON IOWA LEGISLATURE PROVE TO BE MERELY GUESS WORK.

WILL BE REPUBLICAN, BUT MAJORITY IN DOUBT

Weaver's Bolt to Make Thousands of Votes For Republican Ticket—Straight Prohibition Party Vote to be Only Average—Kenyon to Speak in Des Moines—Political Gossip.

Special to Times-Republican

Des Moines, Nov. 3.—Those who have done some figuring on the completion of the next Iowa legislature frankly admit that the more gnarling they do the less satisfied they are with their guesses. A very prominent Iowa politician said the other day: "I feel sure that the legislature will be republican but I can't give the figures for it. The situation simply is that nobody knows anything about what is going to happen."

The communication to the congressional committee by Hon. Frank P. Woods, the Iowa members of the congressional national committee, has attracted special attention to the fact that the legislative ticket must not be overlooked will have the effect of stirring up a good many republicans.

There are only six of the present members of the state senate who are candidates for re-election. A large majority of them will be successful. But of the new members very little is known in a state way, and the new house will be filled with persons whose affiliations are not very clearly defined.

The letter of Gen. James B. Weaver, in which he advises all his personal friends to vote against Claude Porter for governor because of the local option plank in the state platform will, it is believed by the republicans, be worth a great many thousands of votes for Governor Carroll. The general does not go so far as to advise voting for Carroll, but owing to the prohibition attitude of the governor, it will have as if the prohibition party candidate for governor would receive a very large vote, but this situation is fast disappearing and it is now certain the party will not receive the big boost that was in store for it. But the Weaver letter accentuates the later turn of the whole campaign.

Another story published here about an alleged conference with a view to getting a big fund from the Peoria distillers and brewers for use in southern Iowa, has the earmarks of improbability. The story has been in circulation some days but was not believed.

The New York Post recently printed what purported to be a communication from a special correspondent sent to Des Moines to investigate the situation. The major part of the story was alleged interviews with an unnamed politician described by himself as a "leading republican progressive" who may be the republican candidate to succeed Dooliver. Now everyone is wondering how it was that this correspondent met the man who has been standing himself off in this way and talked a column or so of tirade against Colonel Roosevelt without a suggestion of criticism of President Taft. As a matter of fact none of the newspaper men here know any other correspondent of the Post visiting Des Moines.

In a very prominent clear store in Des Moines one of the voting machines in use here has been set up "for instruction." The discovery has just been made that the volunteer "instructors" who have been standing around smoking campaign cigars and telling how to vote have been very busy not showing men how to vote a "straight" ticket but how to vote a "scratched" ticket; and that they have been especially active in showing the uninitiated how to scratch Carroll, Gosson and Freuty. The scheme has been running along smoothly for some time and it shows the activity of the scratcher movement here.

W. S. Kenyon, of Fort Dodge, is expected here soon to speak before the Grant Club on political matters and in a sense this will be the start of his boom for the senate. He was billed to give speeches in the state campaign in support of the state ticket but these have been cancelled.

IN PECK OF TROUBLE

PETER C. McMARTIN, OF BEAMAN, ARRESTED IN NEW YORK WHILE ON HONEYMOON.

CHARGED WITH ISSUING BAD CHECK FOR LARGE SUM

Des Moines Auto Dealer Complaining Witness—McMartin Arrested in Company With Des Moines Man—Bride Was Vaudeville Actress—McMartin a Grandson of Judge Cole.

New York, Nov. 3.—Peter C. McMARTIN, a wealthy young farmer from Beaman, Iowa, and William Adolph, a friend from Des Moines, were enjoying a spectacle of the Harlem river, having their coats and hats brushed, while their two brides were being dusted by the porter on an incoming New York Central train late yesterday, when three detectives from the central office informed the two westerners they were under arrest.

McMartin, who is a handsome six footer, expressed himself as being dumfounded. Adolph was equally at a loss.

The men were arrested upon the information furnished by the following telegram received here today from E. E. Johnson, chief of detectives, at Des Moines: "Briders Are Not Worried. The brides took the matter philosophically and made no scene, either in the train or at the station. The entire party took a trolley car to police headquarters."

McMartin had $57 in cash and a draft for $1,500 on the Farmers' Savings Bank of Beaman, Iowa. He is unable to throw any light whatsoever on the charge.

According to the stories told by the two men, Adolph was called a machinist in the Strong Motor Company at Des Moines, where he says that at present McMARTIN has four automobiles in storage and from which he has purchased eleven cars in the last three years. The men became acquainted through McMARTIN's association with the company when purchasing his cars and subsequently became fast friends.

Three months ago Adolph was married. Last week McMARTIN announced that he also was about to wed and take a trip to New York and then on their honeymoon. He invited Adolph to come to Chicago and see the ceremony and then join him on the trip with his bride, Adolph accepted.

McMartin's bride was Miss Pearl Washburn, of the vaudeville troupe called the young man arrested in New York. The marriage ceremony took place at the residence of the Rev. Andrew C. Lewis on Chalmers street, Chicago, and was witnessed by Adolph and W. C. Washburn, the girl's father, who is said to be an artist.

"And if you don't believe it, here's the certificate for you," said Mrs. McMARTIN at headquarters yesterday, producing a document which the police were forced to admit looked real. They took the train out for New York that night.

McMartin told the police that he was worth about $50,000 in farm properties at Beaman. He said his father was dead. He said he had inherited the estate of his grandfather, Col. Duncan McMARTIN.

The two men were locked up at headquarters last night, after they had been allowed to take a long and affectionate farewell from their respective brides.

GAS, INDIGESTION AND DYSPEPSIA GO.

Your Out-of-Order Stomach Feels Fine Five Minutes After Taking a Little Diapepin.

Take your sour, out-of-order stomach—or maybe your call it Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Gastritis or Catarrh of Stomach; it doesn't matter—take your stomach trouble right with you to your Pharmacist and ask him for an open 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepin and let you eat one 22-grain Triangule and see if within five minutes there is left any trace of your former misery.

The correct name for your trouble is Food Fermentation—food souring; the Digestive organs become weak, there is lack of gastric juice; your food is only half digested, and you become affected with loss of appetite, pressure and fullness after eating, vomiting, nausea, heartburn, griping in bowels, tenderness in the pit of stomach, bad taste in mouth, constipation, pain in limbs, sleeplessness, belching of gas, biliousness, sick headache, nervousness, distress or many other similar symptoms.

If your appetite is fickle and nothing tempts you, or you belch gas, or if you feel bloated after eating, or your food lies like a lump of lead on your stomach, you can make up your mind that at the bottom of all this there is but one cause—fermentation of undigested food.

Prove to yourself in five minutes that your stomach is as good as any; that there is nothing really wrong. Stop this fermentation and begin eating what you want without fear of discomfort or misery.

Almost instant relief is waiting for you. It is merely a matter of how soon you take a little Diapepin.

McMartin, and is a grandson of Judge Cole, of Des Moines. His mother at present resides in Des Moines, and young McMARTIN, who is only 22 or 23 years of age, has been dividing his time between that city and Beaman for some time, but claims this as his home.

His story of possessing great wealth is somewhat exaggerated. He fell heir to the McMARTIN homestead farm, which he has been improving, but beyond this his possessions are limited so far as known here. He was planning to occupy and operate the old homestead. His wealth will not exceed, it is thought, $25,000 or $30,000.

McMartin had the auto fever bad, and owns three or four machines at the present time.

Tracer Man Dies Suddenly. Special to Times-Republican. Tracer, Nov. 3.—Antoine Chalupnik, aged Bohemian gentleman, living in east Tracer, was found dead yesterday about 2 p. m. He had been in his usual health having gone down town in the forenoon. When he did not return at the noon hour his daughter became alarmed and started out to find him.

She failed and returned home. Later as Peter McDewen was driving by the Northwestern depot he found him by the roadside. Mr. Chalupnik has been a familiar figure in Tracer for a number of years. He had besides a wife seven children, Emma at home, Mrs. Drabow, Mrs. Soucek, Mrs. Lou Valasak, Mrs. Frank Valasak and two sons in Minnesota. The funeral arrangements have not been made.

FEED BARN BURNED. Second Fire at Auburn Within Four Days—Believed to Be Incendiary. Special to Times-Republican. Auburn, Nov. 3.—About 3 o'clock yesterday George Corry's large feed barn burned down. The fire also consumed about thirty-five tons of tame hay and all his farm implements. The barn was insured but the hay and implements were a complete loss to Mr. Joe Hondehell, the tenant. This is the second barn burned inside of four days. A suspicious person was seen coming from the barn after the fire was started and spoke to Mrs. Hondehell, explaining "that is a pretty big blaze you have," then went on his way.

Thursday night the marshal put a crazy man in the jail and Wednesday morning gave him his breakfast and turned him loose without inquiring into his case and from the description of the person Mrs. Hondehell saw, the people think it is this person.

As Well Reap with the Sickle as Fertilize with a Pitchfork—get an I. H. C. Manure Spreader.

The manure spreader is not poetical, but it has sledge hammer importance in the farming of to-day, and the farmer who does not use it—who resorts to the old, unpleasant method of scattering the barnyard product on his field and in his furrows—deserves the blisters he wears on his hands and the loss of profit which his enterprising neighbor collects.

The fertilizing of the soil is almost as important as the harvesting of the crop and, being so important, the way in which it is done means that additional profit which makes a farm's real value and a farmer's real fortune.

An I. H. C. Manure Spreader means the greatest amount of fertility to all the land at the least cost, and a considerable increase in your crop. It means a permanent increase—better crops in bad years and bumper crops in good years.

It is natural that the International Harvester Company should have the best possible manure spreader for it pioneers the whole field of agricultural machinery and stakes its reputation on every implement.

If you are a farmer and look upon your farm as a business proposition, you might as well go back to harvesting your grain with a sickle as to do without an I. H. C. Manure Spreader. Get one. Don't regard it as merely a "new fangled machine." A dealer everywhere.
