for Him. All of the wealth of the world is not man's, but God's. Man is God's steward. Too often do men regard wealth as their's, and tie it up in various ways. The devil has placed hitching posts everywhere to induce men to tie up that which should be loosed for God. The speaker reached his climax in an appeal to the audience to cut loose from every "hitching post" and let God have his way.

NEGRO GIRL STILL HELD. Young Woman Arrested for Wearing Men's Clothes Declines to Talk. The negro young woman who was arrested Monday for wearing men's clothing is still being held in the women's building of the county jail, although no charge has been filed against her. All efforts so far to secure a satisfactory explanation of why she was wearing such garments have failed. Neither has Dr. Rosa Liebig been able to secure from the woman her name or where she came from. The woman has refused to wear clothing of her sex, although they have been offered to her. She said she preferred to wear trousers and their accompanying garments. Just what will be done with the negroess has not yet been determined, but she is to be held for a time to await developments.

THE BEADLES MEETINGS. Good-Sized Audience Hears Evangelist at Methodist Church Monday Night. The main auditorium of the Methodist church was filled Monday night to hear Evangelist J. M. Beadles on the unique subject, "God's Colt and Some of the Devil's Hitching Posts." A piano, trombone, and men's chorus led the singing, under the direction of Mr. H. E. Wilson, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. In launching into his subject Mr. Beadles likened the colt, which was loosed and brought to him, to Jesus' demands that all property shall not be tied up but loosed and put to use
