The book from which it is taken is not less than forty years old, the "St. Elmo," which is to be presented at the new Odeon Sunday evening, is now with the present theatrical season. So remarkable was the furor created by the novel when it first came to the attention of fiction lovers, and so lasting has been its popularity, it is not to be wondered at that widespread success is predicted for the play. It makes a capital stage story. St. Elmo, it will be remembered, thought his first love was a lasting one. Disappointed in it, he entered upon a wild career and became a wretched cynic. Then he met "the one girl." She was a simple country maiden, whose purity of character shamed him into repentance and a re-assertion of his nobler self. It's a play of thrills and heart interest and has a lofty tone that makes its own appeal. Prices 25, 35, 50 and 75 cents.

Miss Lucille Willard was hostess at a delightful and unique affair Friday morning, complimentary to Miss Ruth Balch. The guests were a dozen of the most intimate young lady friends of Miss Balch, who are to take part in the latter's wedding, next Thursday. They were invited for a 10 o'clock breakfast, and requested to appear in such costume as they would expect the bride-elect to appear at her own breakfast table. The various resulting modes of attire afforded much merriment. It was a Dutch breakfast through. A Dutch embroidered centerpiece, on which was a candelabra holding the candles, decorated the table, and the dishes used were all of the Dutch design. The place cards were blue, with a Dutch girl design, and the four-course menu was in keeping with the general idea. The serving was done by Misses Hazel Willard and Mary Packer. Each guest took a receipt, and these were put into a card catalog arrangement and given to the guest of honor. The ensuing hours of the morning were spent in sewing. Miss Susan Stryker, of Duluth, Minn., was the only out-of-town guest.

FIRES ARE NUMEROUS
Department Kept on the Jump and One of Four Fires in Twenty Hours Does Damage of $2,000. According to the Owners' Estimate—Weber Millinery Stock Destroyed.
Four fires within twenty hours, up to noon today, did damage of $2,000, according to the estimate of the owner, destroyed the millinery stock of Mrs. J. J. Weber, 123 East State street, and kept the up-town department on the jump.
The worst, and the only serious fire of the four, was the one that gutted one room of the combined dwelling and millinery store of Mrs. Weber, totally destroying her stock of millinery and doing some damage to the building. This fire broke out at about 9:30 last night, but it was not until the contents of the one room of the store had been largely destroyed and the heat had broken the show window, that it was discovered. The inflammable millinery burned rapidly and was a total loss when the alarm was turned in and the department got there. The crew succeeded in confining the fire to the one room and saving the building. Mrs. Weber says her loss is $2,000, with insurance of $1,200 on the stock, and $1,000 on the building.
The first of the series of alarms was at 5:15 Friday evening. Gasoline spilled in the J. L. Inman store, corner State and First avenue, while a lighting plant was being generated, became ignited, but the fire was put out with the chemicals with small loss.
Shortly before 11 o'clock this morning an overheated furnace pipe set fire to the floor in the A. D. Frederick home, 207 North Second street, burning a small hole in the floor. The damage was slight.
A fourth alarm at 11:30 this morning called the department to put out a fire that had broken out in a shed in the rear of the C. A. Daniel news store, corner Second avenue and Main street. A compartment of the shed filled with old papers had caught fire, either by ashes or by boys who had broken into it. An adjoining compartment con-

For Any Watch That Our Experts Cannot Repair!
We Issue Free Watch Insurance on All Repair Work
The chief of our watch repair department is a man who was formerly connected with Tiffany & Co. of New York City; also with the Bailey, Banks & Biddle Co. of Philadelphia, Pa.
Under him, we have gathered together the greatest watch repair experts in the country. Each is a specialist trained and skilled in some one step in the art of watch repairing.
For instance, some of our men do nothing but the adjusting and regulating of escapements, others simply set jewels, others work at nothing but mainsprings and hairsprings, and others spend their whole time in assembling.
The work turned out by our watch repair department is equal to that of any other in the country.
Your Watch is Polished as When New
When a watch leaves our department, the movement is polished as when new. The case has been burnished and comes to you looking brand new, as it did when it left the factory. For this service, we charge you nothing.
There is Nothing in the Watch Repair Line that Our Watch Experts Cannot Do
We have in our watch repair department the finest equipment of machinery known to the watchmaking trade. Here will be found machinery sufficient to manufacture complete watches.
In this way we give the utmost skill to each specific kind of work. Each job is done with great dispatch, thus insuring to our customers this magnificent service at small cost.
There is nothing in the repair line which our experts cannot handle; in fact we make a specialty of converting old style key winding watches into up-to-date stem winding; hunting watches to open face, and open face to hunting; from lever setting to pendant set; from plain flat hairsprings to up-to-date Breguet hairsprings. Watches subject to magnetism into non-magnetic. We also convert plain 7 jeweled low grade movements into high grade 15, 17, 21 or 23 jeweled watches, and make other specialties of similar reconstruction.
Our Free Watch Insurance
On every watch job that comes into our house we issue an insurance policy for one year's time. This insurance policy is to your watch what fire insurance is to your house. It is a brand new thing in watch repairing.
Is Your Watch Insured?
No one else has presumed to make this daring move, but backed as we are by our corps of expert watchmakers, we issue an absolute insurance policy upon every watch repair job that leaves our house.
What Watch Insurance Means
Please do not confuse our insurance policy with the old-fashioned, meaningless guaranty. Ours is a protective insurance policy absolutely guaranteeing your watch against all cost for repairs, from any cause whatsoever, for one year's time. No matter what happens to your watch during the year's time in which our insurance policy is in force, we will put the movement in first-class running condition.
Your watch is guaranteed against accidents of any kind. This insurance policy is in force while the watch is in the Company's hands or while in transit and is insured against fire, theft or loss.
Our insurance policy covers all breakage during the year's time, whether it results from wear, accident or age.
All Repair Work Done in Record Time
Every watch is repaired within twenty-four hours after reaching our department.
Our chief watchmaker looks over the watch and determines the repairs needed. The watch is then handed over to that man who is most skilled in this particular kind of repair work.
After a watch has been repaired it is again examined and tested and finally handed over to our timing specialist.
We have men in our repair department who do nothing else but devote their time to regulating watches. They are specialists in this particular line of work and can regulate a watch in one day where it will take a regular jeweler from one to two weeks.
Every hairspring is vibrated and the beats counted by our timing specialists. We are in position to regulate a watch to keep time to the second in twelve hours. This is a most difficult case and is necessary only when the watch is in very bad condition. The average regulating, our expert timing specialists can accomplish from fifty to sixty minutes.
This Expert Service Costs You No More
