JUDGE GIVEN A JOLT

SUSPENDS SENTENCE AGAINST INEBRIATE ON PROMISE TO ATTEND SUNDAY MEETINGS.

ACCUSED SO ELATED THAT HE REPEATS OFFENSE

"Tom" Knowland, Marshalltown, Haled Into Waterloo Police Court Under Full Jail After Being Released Upon Solemn Vow to Attend Evangelist Revival For Week—Case Unique.

Waterloo, Nov. 14.—Judge Caldwell's humanitarian decision received a severe jolt when Thomas Knowland, of Marshalltown, and the man who but nine hours before he had given his freedom upon the promise that he would attend the Billy Sunday meetings every night for a week, was brought into the police station carrying a good substantial jar and was locked up for the night.

But it is a matter of record that Thomas fell and that particular fall will go hand with the court, who serene and untroubled, glared all afternoon upon the fact that he had done some one a good turn and perhaps it would be the means of a reform wave striking Knowland.

At 11 o'clock, Judge Caldwell, who had been in the city for some time, working at the carpenter trade and on Friday night he indulged in several drinks, incidentally taking one too many, with the result that he faced the police court Saturday morning on a charge of being drunk.

But upon promise that he would attend the Sunday meetings every night for a week the fine was held suspended. This he consented to and left the court room in high spirits, declaring that it would be the happiest moment of his life and agreed to start the week that very night.

This decision of Judge Caldwell, so far as known, has no equal in the United States. Similar decisions have been made by other judges but the conditions and circumstances were not similar and it is believed that none ever ended the way that of Saturday's did.

The judge declared that he was still hopeful and would try again.

FEVER SOURCE LOCATED

Hanging Fresh Meat in Well Caused Fatal Typhoid in Logan Family.

Logan, Nov. 14.—Ellis Simmons, aged 35, is dead of typhoid fever at his home southeast of Logan.

About three weeks ago Mrs. Simmons died of the same disease. Two small children were also stricken with the fever; the younger one has recovered, but the older one is still ill. Two grown persons staying at the Ellis Simmons' home have also been suffering with the disease.

According to the report of the investigation made to determine the cause of the epidemic, it seems that Mr. Simmons was a patron of the rural meat route, that he hung fresh meat near the bottom of the well, and permitted the drippings to fall into the water, thereby making it impure, especially so during warm weather, and that all who used the water of the well were stricken with typhoid fever.

SHOOT HIS SON.

Lawrence Hayford, Waukon, Received Charge Intended For Squirm.

Waukon, Nov. 14.—J. C. Hayford came very nearly terminating the life of his son Lawrence. They were out hunting. Lawrence had treed a big squirrel and had gone around the opposite side of the tree so that his father could get a good shot on the game. The squirrel ran down the tree, and the father could not see the son and thought that he was behind the tree and fired away, with the result that Lawrence stepped out in time to receive the contents of the gun. He was rushed to a physician and unless blood poisoning sets in will recover.

BOY CRUSHED TO DEATH.

Des Moines Lad Killed in Railroad Turntable.

Des Moines, Nov. 14.—Frank Novinger, 5 years old, grandson of Frank Barrett, a coal miner residing one mile east of Clive, was almost instantly killed while playing in the C. M. and St. P. Turntable pit at that place about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

balance and fell squarely in front of the ponderous machine as it was revolving.

He made an attempt to escape, but was caught between the end of the table and the side of the pit, his body being crushed by a pulp. The alarm was given by Barrett and a number of men rushed to the scene. The body was extricated from its position with difficulty.

Coroner Bowen was summoned and made an investigation of the accident. The body was removed to the home of his grandfather, where he had resided since infancy.

BETTER SERVICE AT MAXWELL.

Improvements Will Result in All Passenger Trains Stopping There.

Special to Times-Republican. Nevada, Nov. 14.—The Milwaukee Railway Company is arranging to dam the East Indian creek at Maxwell and will put in a watering station at that point. A large tank will be erected and an engine installed to do the pumping from the reservoir into the tank. This will necessitate the stopping of practically all of the fast passenger trains at Maxwell, an advantage that place has not enjoyed for many years.

DRIVEN OUT BY FIRE.

Iowa City Family Escapes From Burning Home With Few Effects.

Special to Times-Republican. Iowa City, Nov. 14.—Fire of unknown origin drove the family of Anton Wyszak from their beds, into the freezing November air, Sunday morning. They escaped from the upper story unharmed, but all of the household goods in that part of the house were destroyed. The family, including Mrs. Wyszak, her husband, Fred, and their children, escaped with only a few effects. The building was of stone and cement, and the firemen were thus aided in saving other buildings close by.

Fatally Hurt at Crossing.

Oskaloosa, Nov. 14.—John Richards, aged 17, and his little granddaughter, Bernice Verplorn, were victims of a crossing accident. Richards, who was hard of hearing, drove in front of the west-bound Rock Island passenger train. The girl was hurled against the soft bank but not seriously hurt. The old man was picked up unconscious and hurried to the hospital, where his wounds were dressed. Probably he will die.

A FREE-FOR-ALL RACE

SENATORIAL CONTEST NOW OPEN TO ENTRIES AND CLAIMS ARE BEING FILED.

MERRY CONTEST PROBABLE BEFORE LEGISLATURE

Young's Appointment Fixes Governor Carroll Definitely as a Standpatter—Next Certain to Seek Re-election

Young January—J. A. Smith, Warren Garst and General Byers Considered.

Special to Times-Republican.

Des Moines, Nov. 14.—Now for the great senatorial free for all race in Iowa. Entries are being made and the list is open for more. The promoters feel assured of a good field both of young colts and seasoned campaigners of the turf. Thus far the entries are: Carl F. Franke, Butler county, chairman state committee. Lafe Young, Polk county, newspaper publisher. John T. Adams, Dubuque, manager Allison campaign.

Among other entries that are expected or at least are regarded as in the line of possibility, are the names of Byers, Smith, Garst, Dawson, Payne, Woods, Hubbard, Brown and Haugen. It is believed that Des Moines will furnish any additional names, tho it is admitted that there are at least a dozen here of senatorial size, including three or four other newspaper men.

The fact that the contest is now right up to the legislature increases the interest in the personnel of that distinguished body. Of the 166 republicans composing the membership of the legislature, who will have the choosing of a senator about the 18th of January, the division by districts is as follows: First district, 6; Second, 7; Third, 9; Fourth, 10; Fifth, 8; Sixth, 8; Seventh, 11; Eighth, 11; Ninth, 10; Tenth, 16 and Eleventh, 15. In the northern districts of the state—the Third, Fifth, Fourth, Tenth and Eleventh there are 55 of these republican members.

Of the six members from the First district three are classed as progressives and both of those from the Second and Eleventh only four could be classed as standpatters. The Seventh district is the only one in the state that has a solid republican delegation in the legislature, the democratic membership being scattered as follows: First, 8; Second, 10; Third, 4; Fourth, 6; Fifth, 6; Sixth, 4; Eighth, 5; Ninth, 4; Tenth, 4; Eleventh, 3.

The trouble with republican members of the legislature from the Seventh district only two could be classed as standpatters, the other nine being regulars and fully in line with the party policy in state and nation. Of those in the Third district, which apparently now has two candidates for the senate, six are progressives.

The sudden change in the senatorial situation makes clear several matters. There is no concealment of the fact that three names are being considered above all others, the names of three time tried and worthy men of progressive tendencies, each of whom are a year or more in the work of regeneration of Iowa politics. Every one of them commenced back at a time when it seemed a hopeless task to effect revolution in Iowa political methods. Every one of them enlisted in the progressive cause a dozen years ago and fought the good fight under the greatest discouragements. These men are: James A. Smith, senior republican state senator, president pro tem of the senate, a business man who had developed the highest qualities of legislative ability. Senator Smith was an associate of Senator Cummings when both sat in the legislature 23 years ago and they worked together in the republican caucus and in perfecting the railroad legislation of that period. He has never asked any favors of anyone outside of his district. He is a strong man.

Warren Garst, whose district will have sixteen members in the caucus, would be a formidable candidate should he enter the race, and there is little doubt that many of the older members of the legislature would like very much to support him. His candidacy the past spring, which was distinctly a sacrifice on his part that the state might be carried for the progressive principles, entitles him to consideration.

General Byers, whose term as attorney general expires before the legislature meets, is the popular lad with thousands of the progressives. He has a record of staunch adherence to the principles of the party second to none in the subsequent primary campaign he would be able to make a campaign that could not be beaten.

There are others who must be reckoned with, but these three are most talked of just at present. The whole situation of today is an interesting one. It gives promise of a delightful legislative session.

LIGHT AT IOWA FALLS.

Formal Illumination By Electroler System to Be Properly Celebrated.

Special to Times-Republican. Iowa Falls, Nov. 14.—With the completion and formal illumination of the new electroler system, which has been installed thru the efforts of the Commercial Club, that organization is planning an annual celebration of the improvement by an open meeting, in which the citizens of Iowa Falls will participate. It is now thought that the smoker will be held the 29th of this month and the entertainment committee and President Stoneok have the details of the occasion in hand. Refreshments will be served and the intellectual side will be cultivated by a number of addresses by prominent

Terrible Suffering

Eczema All Over Baby's Body.

"When my baby was four months old his face broke out with eczema, and at sixteen months of age his face, hands and arms were in a dreadful state. The eczema spread all over his body. We had to put a mask of cloth over his face and tie up his hands. Finally we gave him Hood's Sarsaparilla and in a few months he was entirely cured. Today he is a healthy baby. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures blood diseases and builds up the system. Get it today in a 50-cent bottle or in a 100-cent bottle. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures blood diseases and builds up the system. Get it today in a 50-cent bottle or in a 100-cent bottle. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures blood diseases and builds up the system. Get it today in a 50-cent bottle or in a 100-cent bottle."

In the first place, whatever else the appointment may have done, it has before the public the fact that Governor Carroll is fully committed to the standpoint side of the game. The comment is common that if the appointment had been made prior to election Porter would surely have been elected. The campaign was conducted with a view to securing the support of all republicans, on the theory long maintained, that Governor Carroll was not a factionalist, and upon this theory the more than 100,000 progressive republicans voted for Carroll. The selection of a factionalist would inevitably have the effect of drawing the factional lines still tighter just at a time when they seemed to be fading away in a new spirit of party loyalty.

The situation also eliminates Judge Kenyon from the game, as there is no doubt that whatever the issue as President Taft and his administration had anything to do with it, the effort was made to induce Iowa republicans to unite upon Judge Kenyon as one fully in line with the progressive policies of the administration and yet by reason of his railroad connections not offensive to the reactionaries. Kenyon was the "administration" candidate for the appointment in naming another it was as much of a rebuke to the national administration as to the progressive sentiment of the state.

It is certain that Senator Young will see election in a caucus and if successful become the standpat candidate for the place before the primaries later. This means that Governor Carroll is also eliminated from the game. It makes it improbable that Congressman Dawson will permit his name to be brought before the legislature, tho some active work has already been done in his behalf. It disposes of all talk of Walter I. Smith tho, of course, leaving it open for him in the primary should he choose to voluntarily give up his place. It is to be noted that the plan of W. O. Payne of Nevada, who it is said, was given a pretty definite promise of appointment for his support in the campaign. In the republican legislative caucus all of the standpatters, Young, and some of the standpat vote of the northern counties. It is believed that he could command at least 30 votes in the caucus at the outset.

Of the candidacy of Carl Franke and J. T. Adams it is known. Both came as a great surprise. Both are skilled in the political game and competent to judge of conditions as they are, and neither candidacy can be ignored.

The really interesting phase of the situation is what will the sixty-seven or more republicans of the legislature do who believe that Iowa is a progressive state, that Iowa has spoken definitely in support of progressive principles and that under no circumstances should Iowa give encouragement to a reactionary force so near to a sweeping defeat of the party here and which have turned the congress over to the opposition by the eastern bolt. What will these men do? Whom will they support before the legislature? An answer to these questions disposes of the senatorial matter for at least eight years.

There is no concealment of the fact that three names are being considered above all others, the names of three time tried and worthy men of progressive tendencies, each of whom are a year or more in the work of regeneration of Iowa politics. Every one of them commenced back at a time when it seemed a hopeless task to effect revolution in Iowa political methods. The Tenderfoot Farmer

It was one of these experimental farmers, who put green spectacles on his cow and fed her shaving. His theory was that it didn't matter what the cow ate so long as she was fed. The questions of digestion and nourishment had not entered into his calculations. It's only a "tenderfoot" farmer that would try such an experiment with a cow. But many a farmer feeds himself regardless of digestion and nutrition. He might almost as well eat shavings for all the good he gets out of his food. The result is that the stomach grows "weak," the action of the organs of digestion and nutrition are impaired and the man suffers the miseries of dyspepsia and the agonies of nervousness.

To strengthen the stomach, restore the activity of the organs of digestion and nutrition and brace up the nerves, use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is an unfailing remedy, and has the confidence of physicians as well as the praise of thousands healed by its use.

In the strictest sense "Golden Medical Discovery" is a temperance medicine. It contains neither intoxicants nor narcotics, and is as free from alcohol as from opium, cocaine and other dangerous drugs. All ingredients printed on its outside wrapper.

Don't let a dealer delude you for his own profit. There is no medicine for stomach, liver and blood "just as good" as "Golden Medical Discovery."
