COLLEGE ROMANCE ENDS IN WEDDING

STUDENT DAYS AT GRINNELL BRING ABOUT BEAUTIFUL HOME WEDDING HERE.

MISS EDNA SEARS BRIDE OF ROBERT M. GRAHAM

Brilliant and Fashionable Event Celebrated at R. E. Sears Home Saturday Night—Bride One of Most Charming of Native Daughters—Many Guests From Distance.

The largest wedding of the season thus far, and the culmination of a college romance begun at Grinnell, was celebrated Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Sears, 102 North Second street, when their youngest daughter, Edna, became the bride of Mr. Robert McKay Graham of Conrad, Mont. Nearly 200 relatives and friends of the couple were guests.

The marriage ceremony was performed by Prof. J. L. Sloops, of Iowa College, Grinnell, a personal friend and former instructor of both young people. At the hour of 8:30 Mrs. C. H. E. Boardman began to play the strains of the Mendelssohn wedding march, as the bride party descended the stairs. Eight young women stretched an aisle of satin from the foot of the stairs to the head of the fireplace in the living room, and then stood in a half circle about the bride and groom while the ceremony was in progress. These young women, who were the bride's attendants, were Misses Irma Wallace, of Muskegon, Mich.; Florence Burnell, of Webster City, a cousin, who was groomed in white; Rena Whinnery, in pink silk; Ruth Balch, who wore an apricot-colored gown; Vera Chase, of Des Moines, in yellow; Mrs. Laura May, sister of Des Moines, in pink silk; Agnes Graham, of Grand Rapids, Mich.; sister of the groom, in blue crepe de chine; and Louise Osman, of Chicago, a cousin of the bride, in chiffon over pink-flowered silk. All carried bouquets of white chrysanthemums, fully tinged with pink. Mr. W. A. Graham of Grand Rapids, Mich., was best man for his brother.

Mr. Sears accompanied his daughter to the altar and gave the bride away. The bride was beautifully costumed in a gown of white crepe de chine over silk, with silk embroidered trimmings, and carried a handsome marriage ring bouquet and shower of lilies-of-the-valley and ferns, tied with white chiffon. Her traveling suit was of brown broadcloth, with hat to correspond.

A pretty ring service was used, and the Virginia Knicker of Rock Rapids, dressed in white with pink rings, carried the ring in a chrysanthemum. During the ceremony, Mrs. Boardman played "Die Lorelei."

After the ceremony the bride threw her bouquet, which was caught by Mrs. Margaret Christian, of Grinnell. In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Sears, the latter wearing lavender foulard with trimmings of real lace; Miss Agnes Sears, sister of the bride, in pink embroidered chiffon over pink silk; Mrs. W. M. Graham, of Grand Rapids, Mich., mother of the groom, in white with pink rings; and Miss Ethel Towne, of Des Moines, in pink chiffon over silk. Little Dorothy Balch was at the door.

An especially effective feature of the decorations throughout the rooms was the festoons of Spanish moss, which came from Mr. Sears' plantation near Houston, Tex. The great chandelier was relieved by the coral points of the wild rose, from the same place, and bitter sweet, white chrysanthemums, white tinged with pink, were the flowers used. The ceremony took place on white fur rugs in front of the fireplace, which was banked with palms and flowers, and over which hung a canopy of the moss.

A two-course luncheon was served by Misses Carolyn Anderson, Esse Hathaway, Mabel French, Katherine Balch, Bonnie Boardman, Della David, Josephine Gabelman, Florence Harris, Florence H. Knicker, Sara Ray, Wilma Robbins, Loua Scott, Helen Pillsbury, Ida Shove, Lucille Wilbur, Ethel Havens and Gemewell Lay. Assisting Mrs. Sears in other ways during the evening were Mrs. A. F. Balch, Mrs. W. M. Chase, Mrs. J. B. Simmons, and Mrs. F. E. Stewart.

Among the many beautiful wedding gifts was one of especial interest because of its history, it being a quilt given by Mr. R. E. Sears' grandmother, Mrs. Guild to the bride's parents at their wedding, and presented to Saturday evening's bride by her mother. The quilt was made by Mrs. Guild when she was 99 years old. Another notable present was the gift of a chest of beautiful silver from the groom's mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham left Saturday night for Minneapolis, and will spend a few days there and in St. Paul before going to Menominee, and other Wisconsin points to visit relatives of the groom. They expect to reach Conrad, Mont., which is to be their home for the present, about Dec. 1. Their at-home cards are dated after Dec. 15.

The bride is one of Marshalltown's best known and most highly esteemed young ladies. She graduated from the high school here in 1902 and then attended Iowa College, Grinnell, from which she graduated in 1906. Following the latter graduation she was librarian at Grinnell for two years, and then taught here in the Adams school for a year, after which she spent seven months abroad. At two different times she has had positions in the local library, the first time when Mrs. Grace K. Haviland was librarian, and the last time when she supplied for the present librarian, Miss Kimberly, during the recent three months which the latter spent abroad.

Mr. Graham, who finished at the Superior, Wis., high school in 1901, attended four years at Grinnell, graduating the same year as his bride. About a year ago he settled in Conrad, Mont., where he is engaged in the lumber business. His father, the late W. M. Graham, was a prominent attorney of Superior, Wis., the former home of the family.

Guests present from out of town were Mrs. W. M. Graham, daughters,

MISS EDNA SEARS. Who Became Mrs. Robert Graham in Pretty Saturday Night Wedding.

Sloops, Prof. and Mrs. Jesse Macy, Miss Catherine Macy, Mrs. Margaret Christian, and Misses Grace Purdy, Elizabeth Wallace and Flora Helz, all of Grinnell; Mrs. A. S. Burnell and daughter, Miss Florence, of Webster City; Miss Irma Wallace, of Muskegon, Mich.; Mrs. H. H. Stipp, Miss Virginia May, and Mr. Ludlow Merrill, all of Des Moines; Mrs. Samuel Rinkler and little daughter Virginia, of Rock Rapids; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stager, of San Antonio, Tex.; Mr. Earl Bush, of Syracuse, N. Y.; Miss Florence Leah, of New York City; Mrs. A. J. Perkins, of Chicago; Mrs. Robert Martin, of Apple River, Ill.; Mr. Carl Jordan, of Cedar Rapids; Mrs. H. L. Osman, and daughter, Miss Louise, of Chicago; and Miss Susan Straker, of Duluth, Minn.

WOMAN BADLY BURNED

Mrs. Patrick E. Ellwood Sets Fire to Her Dress With a Candle, Receiving Bad Burns on the Arms, Chest and Face—Not Thought to Be Serious.

When Mrs. Patrick E. Ellwood, 599 South Center street, went down her cellar stairs at about 6 o'clock Sunday night, carrying a candle to light her way so that she might get a can of fruit, she set fire to her dress, which resulted in extensive and very painful, although probably not serious, burns.

Mrs. Ellwood was not aware that her clothing was on fire until flames shot up her sleeves and into her face. It is presumed that the draft she created in walking caused the flames of the candle to blow back and ignite the cloth.

When she found she was on fire she ran upstairs screaming for help. Her husband, who had been in the bed in an adjoining room, seized his wife, throwing her on the bed and wrapped bed clothing about her, smothering the flames.

Both arms, as far up as the elbows, showed extensive burns, a large area of skin being blistered. She also had burned about the breasts and chest and on the face. It is thought probably that the burns are not deep, and although they are very painful they will likely not prove serious. Mr. Ellwood is employed in the Iowa Central shops.

THE OTTUMWA VIEWPOINT.

Places All Blame For Failure to Play on Marshalltown.

The Ottumwa Courier of Saturday evening gives the Ottumwa high school a point over the failure of Marshalltown and Ottumwa football teams to get together on the question of details, which resulted in no game being played at Ottumwa Saturday. The Courier says:

"Because Ottumwa would not consent to a Marshalltown team sampling the scheduled game at the Myrtle street park this afternoon, Principal J. C. Nelson of the northern Iowa school has refused to send a team here, and therefore there will be no football contest on the south side this afternoon. The Ottumwa students here, aware of the services of Zalusky of Ottumwa and William D'Ball of Seymour, and early in the present week the Marshalltown team accepted these officials. A telephone message from Principal Nelson to Principal F. M. Hammit last night, however, brought the information that the Marshalltown students would not play in Ottumwa today unless Ottumwa would permit an umpire from Marshalltown. Mr. Hammit after employing Zalusky and D'Ball, could not see his way clear to consent to this unreasonable demand of the Marshalltown people, and also the order for the O. H. S. warriors.

"The action of the Marshalltown principal and students is much regretted by the members of the red and white eleven and the ardent supporters of the gridiron warriors. They were all primed for a victory over the Marshalltown students this afternoon. The decision of the Marshalltown men strikes the Ottumwa students and Principal Hammit as unbecomingly, and it is much regretted. Had Principal Nelson not given his assent to the employment of unbiased officials early in the week, his demand for a Marshalltown umpire would have been within reason if he would agree to let an Ottumwa man referee. Coach Templeton will not let this disappointment affect his players in the least, however, and Monday afternoon will find them in practice for the next game."
