CITY MUST GO EASY ON EXPENDITURES

GENERAL FUND WARRANTS ARE MARKED "UNPAID FOR WANT OF FUNDS."

CITY EMPLOYEES RAISE HOWL; BANKERS MEET

Representatives of All the Banks Meet With Mayor and City Treasurer and Finally Agree to Care for Laborers' Warrants—Mayor Promises Not to Exceed Appropriations.

With the city council planning to revise the city ordinances at an expense of $500, to build a new fire station at a cost of $5,000 or more, to repair the South Third avenue police station, buy an automobile for the police department, and pay for numerous other items of contracted indebtedness, the laboring men employed by the city are wondering where they are going to get their money with which to buy the necessities of life.

Because the banks of the city are becoming tired of carrying city warrants bearing 6 per cent interest, when there is a brisk demand for money at a higher rate, city warrants on the general fund were marked yesterday "Unpaid for want of funds." This raised a howl from laboring men and city employees who went to get their warrants cashed. To be true they could take them and offer them for sale to some one who might possibly be wanting some 5 per cent paper, but what the employees wanted was their money, and in cold cash without the formality of trying to dispose of their warrants otherwise.

Bankers Hold Meeting.
This forenoon a meeting of the bankers of the city was held, at which Mayor O. L. Ingledue was present. Each bank of the city was represented, and there was also present City Treasurer C. C. Trine, to show the exact condition of the city's finances.

Decide to Care For Laborers.
The mayor was disposed to blame the banks for not wanting to carry the warrants at 6 per cent, but the bankers showed the chief executive that, while they wanted to be loyal to their city, and would be loyal, they felt as they ought to be consulted in the question of some expenditures, so that they could protect themselves.

Decide to Carry Laborers' Warrants.
The result of the meeting was that the banks agreed to care for laborers' warrants out of the general fund, just so long as the number of the warrants was within reason. The mayor assured the bankers that the unexpected levies would care for everything contemplated in the way of expenditures, and promised to show by a statement from the city clerk that such would prove to be the case. The mayor also said that he believed he would show a reduction of $3,000 in current expenses over last year.

One of the bankers present at the meeting said this afternoon: "We are perfectly willing to do all we can to protect the laboring men and employees of the city, and we will care for their warrants as long as we can, but we do not want any automobile paper and some other warrants that we fear we may be asked to take."

Nearly $17,000 in Warrants Out.
The total amount of the outstanding warrants up to Tuesday night was $16,916.97. Most of these are on the general fund, a total of $12,048. There are a few scattering warrants on other funds, and from previous years there are still outstanding warrants amounting to $3,827.43.

At the last quarterly report of the city treasurer, showing the financial condition of the city up to Sept. 30, there were outstanding in warrants the sum of $24,705.81, so that to date the city has taken up about $8,000 worth of the warrants.

The Mayor's Statement.
Mayor Ingledue said this afternoon that he met with the bankers this morning and guaranteed them that the city would take up the current outstanding warrants against the general fund and also old warrants of $3,500 by the end of the fiscal year.

"This condition always prevails," said the mayor, "at certain times of the year. The general fund is frequently depleted. We have $16,000 in cash in the other funds now, and $9,000 more coming from the county, state and the Marshall Ice Company for the dam. This money, however, is not available for the general fund, and the law allows the city to only levy so much in taxes for this fund.

"I thought it was a bad thing for the city to have the banks stamp the warrants 'unpaid for want of funds,' so I got them together and a satisfactory arrangement for taking them up was made. I am having a statement prepared, showing the income and expenditures of the city which will be placed with the banks."

"When the city receives the tax payment next spring the warrants will be all taken care of." The mayor explained that the warrants issued against the general fund were for officers and employees' salaries and for supplies and material used by the city.

HAIR TELLS CHARACTER.

Color of Hair Said to Indicate a Person's Temperament.
Many people believe that blonde or light hair denotes affection and dark hair constancy. A person without hair is not devoid of character. Far from it. The disposition of the average bald-headed man is to show much solicitude for the welfare of others, that he neglects himself. A germ causes baldness. Prof. Sabouraud, of Paris, France, inoculated a rabbit with Dandruff germs, causing it to become totally bald in five weeks' time. To rid the scalp of these dangerous germs it is necessary to apply Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause—you remove the effect."

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10 cents in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. One dollar bottles guaranteed. B. A. Morgan, special agent.
