BRAZIL CONCEDES; MUTINY AT AN END

CONGRESS OF REPUBLIC GRANTS DEMANDS OF REBELLIOUS NAVAL CREWS.

AMNESTY IS GRANTED ALL WHO PARTICIPATED

Crews Surrender When Action of Congress is Announced and Government Again Takes Charge of Naval Affairs—Rio Janeiro Resumes Normal Conditions.

Rio Janeiro, Nov. 25.—The naval mutineers surrendered today, congress voting amnesty and granting the demands of the mutineers. The capital slept last night with the guns of its own navy trained upon it. Toward 1 o'clock this morning the mutinous scout boat Deodoro fired upon the naval arsenal. The cannonading did not last long and little damage was done. The Deodoro, accompanied by the battleship Minas Geraes, then put to sea. The local garisons and loyal torpedo boats did not respond, altho according to this morning's papers, their officers had received sinister orders as to their duty in certain contingencies. The morning broke with the mutinous craft still outside the harbor, and they did not return to port until some hours later.

Congress Grants Demands. Congress met in extraordinary session this morning. The deputies first concurred with the senate in granting amnesty to the mutineers. Both houses then passed resolutions conceding the demands of the sailors. As soon as the action of congress was announced the mutinous crews surrendered and the revolt was at an end, and the city resumed its normal activities.

CITY OUTGROWS STATE.

Greater New York Has Population of 4,786,883, Rest of State 4,346,395. Washington, Nov. 25.—New York city, for the first time has become greater in point of population than all the remainder of the state of New York outside the greater city limits. While this is the most striking feature of the New York state census figures, almost as remarkable is the rate of growth of the Empire state. Since 1870 it has doubled in population and the rate of increase during the last ten years, 25.4 per cent, is the greatest since the decade between 1840 and 1850, when the percentage of increase was 27.5. This increase is largely attributable to the growth of the cities. With this increase in population will come a larger representation in the lower branch of congress, where New York now has thirty-seven members. The exact number of new representatives will be ten if the present apportionment is accepted by congress. Should the ratio be increased, this number would be cut down, but it is conceded that the state will have an increased representation in congress.

Of the 9,132,272 people in New York State, as shown by yesterday's statistics, 4,786,883 are in New York city, and 4,346,395 are in the state outside the city, making the city 420,487 people the greater in population. Of the 1,844,355 people by which the state increased during the past ten years, 1,329,681 were contributed by the city, while only 514,704 persons were the increase in the state outside the greater New York. Of the whole state's growth, about 18.4 per cent was contributed by the city of New York while the state without the city contributed only about 7 per cent, making the total increase over 1909 figures 25.4 per cent.

SENT CYANIDE TO HYDE.

Statement of Montana Man May Help Cause of Alleged Slayer. Helena, Mont., Nov. 25.—If Dr. B. C. Hyde, convicted in Kansas City of murdering Colonel Thomas Swope, is granted a new trial, he will probably be because Joe Edgerton, a Helena mining man and member of the last legislative assembly, saw Hyde's name in the directory of a fraternity. Mr. Edgerton told the story of how he sent Hyde a box of cyanide, estimated at two pounds, and how, after seven years, he came to let Hyde's attorney know of this fact. Edgerton's statement is considered of great importance to Hyde, in view of the fact that the latter at his trial could not explain to the satisfaction of the jury where he had procured cyanide which he admitted he had been using for many years. Mr. Edgerton says: "In 1898 I was on a crowded train between Cherryvale and Kansas City. My seatmate was a young man who I just happened to notice. He was probably naturally hinged about my illness and from that we began talking about cyanide. Hyde appeared to be interested in cyanide, and as I had been using the stuff in mining operations, I promised to send him some. In July of that year I was at Hill City, E. D., in charge of mining property, and one day when the mine closed down I filled a chalk box with cyanide and mailed it to the young doctor. I thought no more about it for many years, but when Hyde's trial came on, I followed it closely."

BAKER CASE MONDAY.

Lone Tree Livyman to Be Tried For Alleged Murder of Oliver Driver. Iowa City, Nov. 25.—Guy Baker, formerly of Muscatine, but at present a livyman at Lone Tree, will be placed on trial next Monday morning for the murder of Oliver Driver, an employe of Mr. Baker. Of venue would be asked, but none has been requested. The jury will be chosen from a list of eighty drawn for this term. The indictment charges Baker with murder in the first degree. Oliver Driver died following a blow from a flat board in Baker's hand, early last summer. The two men quarreled in the livy barn. The defense will contend that Driver's death was not the direct result of the blow, and that he acted in self defense. This case has been almost the sole topic of conversation at Lone Tree for months, and the trial has been awaited with the keenest interest. Baker has been at liberty during the summer and fall, on $30,000 bail. One of the interesting features of the case is the fact that Baker was married after his arrest for the crime. He married his housekeeper, a former Miss Galt. The wedding took place in Chicago, during the session of the grand jury that returned the indictment. National Educational Meeting. Winona, Minn., Nov. 25.—Secretary Shedd announced today that the next convention of the department superintendents of the National Educational Association will meet in Mobile, Ala., Feb. 23 next.

TAFT IS ACCUSED OF UNDERHAND DEALING

KAVANAUGH, HEAD OF WATERWAYS ASSOCIATION, CRITICISES ACTION OF PRESIDENT.

SAYS HE THOUGHT TO PREVENT INTENTIONS OF CONGRESS

Favoritism For Own Ohio River is Charged Against Head of National Lakes-to-Gulf Waterway Association in Session at St. Louis Hears of Progress of Great Project.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 25.—The convention of the Lakes to the Gulf Deep Waterway Association began here today. Reports of the secretary and treasurer and an address by President Kavanaugh constituted the principal business of the morning session. President Kavanaugh pointed out that this association had for years condemned the "pork barrel" policy and demanded that river improvements be put on a practical basis in which commercial conditions are said to be held paramount to political considerations. As a result demand for waterway improvement have become non-political and the pork barrel policy is doomed. Even the president, despite growing indifference toward our great project and favorable toward his own river, announced that hereafter no "pork barrel" will receive his approval. Public Sentiment Awakened. "While no single instrumentality can alone bring about a revolution among a great people," continued Kavanaugh, "this organization is among those that have in the last two years awakened public sentiment to its depths, stirred the spirit of citizenship and implanted in the hearts of our people a sense of civic duty rising above the call of parties or demand of the masses, and let him who doubts recall the ideas of November." Some One Unfaithful. He discussed and pointed out the necessity for better transportation facilities. Referring to congressional action he said: "Thanks chiefly to the fidelity of men now present, the sixty-first congress at its session last winter enacted a river and harbor bill superior to its predecessors in several respects, largely in that it contained a modest appropriation for the lakes-to-the-gulf deep waterway, conditional on approval by a board of engineers, and that provision was made. The item was well intended, and had the intent been carried out faithfully the critical point of our project would now be doubtless passed. Taft is Criticized. It is a bitter disappointment that we have to record at least a partial failure of the intent, thru an official partiality was noted by some of us in last year's river trip. The president postponed appointing the board authorized in the act for many weeks, thus making it apparent the board's report in conformity with the act of congress and unfriendly to those from any quarter, however excited or however unexpected and unwarranted the opposition may be." Factional Row From Illinois. The factions representing Senator Lorimer and Governor Deneen of Illinois, struggled for recognition on the floor of the convention. Each side nominated a representative. Congressman Rainey was chosen to represent the Lorimer faction, and Isham B. Randolph by the Deneen faction. When it was seen that a selection could not be made the delegator, moved to a distant part of the hall. On their way there the delegates knocked over chairs and tore state banners from their standards. The caucus reported it had agreed on Randolph on the nomination committee. During the caucus Lorimer and Deneen led their factions in high pitched voices. The treasurer's report showed an expenditure of $26,715 during the past year. Deneen, of Illinois and Sloan, of Arizona, are the only governors present today. Governor Hadley, of Missouri, will attend tomorrow.

The officers are: President, Charles Horn, Iowa Grove; vice president, Miss Estelle McKelvey, Rock Rapids; treasurer, Frank Beard, Le Mars; secretary, Miss Adelaide Nichols, Des Moines. The club will meet Monday evening to determine the date for the first dance which will be set, either just before or after the holidays.

HIGH EX-OFFICIALS OF I. C. INDICTED

BILLS RETURNED AGAINST FORMER GENERAL MANAGER HARRIMAN AND OTHERS.

BLANKET INDICTMENT FOR CONSPIRACY AND FRAUD

Total of $4,825,650 Declared to Have Been Illegally Taken From Illinois Central by Four Men Just Indicted, Harriman, Taylor, Ewing and Baker—Graft System Disclosed. Chicago, Nov. 25.—Frank B. Harriman, John M. Taylor and C. L. Ewing, former officers and employes of the Illinois Central, and Joseph E. Baker were indicted today for conspiracy in connection with frauds said to have been practiced against the railroad. Two counts in the blanket indictment also charge the operation of a confidence game. Each defendant's bond is fixed at $20,000. Graft Ran Into Millions. A total of $4,825,650, it is charged, was illegally taken from the Illinois Central by the four men named, in company with various repair and equipment companies, which also are mentioned in indictment. The loss by the alleged fraudulent deals, as estimated by the present railroad officials, was $1,500,000, but the whole amount of the transactions with the car repair companies since 1906 (when the alleged illegal conspiracy is declared to have been conceived) is named in the indictment. Baker a Go-Between. Baker, who escaped prosecution when the arrests were first made, was indicted on the testimony of Henry Osterman, president of the Osterman manufacturing company, who testified that Baker was a go-between, who carried the alleged illegal money, gained by padding the expense bills, to the former railroad officials named in the indictment. Osterman also said that the four men indicted were stockholders or received salaries as dividends from his company. Harriman General Manager. Harriman formerly was general manager of the Illinois Central, Taylor was general storekeeper and Ewing was general superintendent. At the time the alleged repair bill padding was done Baker was superintendent of machinery, remaining in that position until last April. Most of the testimony on which the indictments were based was given in the preliminary hearing in municipal court and was repeated before the grand jury. The grand jury also heard the testimony of the grand jury which exposed the alleged padding. Baker resigned and since is said to have been living in Canada, as president of a car heating company. How Fraud Was Concealed. Illinois Central clerks testified at the preliminary hearing that Baker prevented an audit of the repair bills, which it is charged were grossly padded, thus cloaking the alleged fraud. WOMAN INTERRED ALIVE. Remarkable Story of Return to Life After Burial. Cleveland, O., Nov. 25.—Declaring that her mother, Mrs. Anna Hubbell, of Aurora, was buried alive three weeks ago, Mrs. Etta Winfield, of this city, told a remarkable story of the supposed resurrection in a cemetery vault. The story is contradicted by a granddaughter of Mrs. Hubbell, who lives with the aged woman in her home in the Cleveland suburb. Mrs. Winfield, according to her story, was called to Aurora and found her mother apparently dead. When the undertaker was summoned the daughter recalled that a number of her mother's knifooks, in years past, had been subjected to deathlike trances. Accordingly she advised the undertaker not to embalm the body, and asked that it be placed in an open coffin in the cemetery vault. This was done and Mrs. Winfield says she cautioned the sexton to watch the coffin closely. Late the night of the "funeral" which had taken place at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, the sexton opened the vault and discovered that the body had moved. He had the woman taken to a physician's office, where she was revived. Mrs. Hubbell, who appears to be in good health at present, will not discuss the matter except to admit that she was dangerously ill about three weeks ago. WEBSTER COUNTY DEATHS. William Meyer Expires at Dinner Table—Kick on Public. Port Dodge, Nov. 25.—While eating Thanksgiving dinner William Meyer, a farmer near this city, suddenly died of heart failure. He had previously been in good health. His age was 49, and he leaves a wife and four sons. John Brakke, a prominent farmer near Roelien, died last night as the result of a kick in the face by a horse Sunday night. Brakke was a pioneer of Webster county. THREE SHOT IN RIOT. Serious Gun Play Figures in Garmont Workers' Strike. Chicago, Nov. 25.—Three persons were shot and one seriously wounded here today in a riot caused by striking garment workers attacking non-striking workers. Vincent Bellano and his wife Anna, non-union workers, accused by the police of firing the shots, were arrested.

BENJAMIN BATES KILLED

Well-Known Quaker and Member of Friends Yearly Meeting Run Down on Crossing—Was Widely Known as Wool Grower.

Special to Times-Republican.

Oskaloosa, Nov. 25.—Benjamin Bates, a widely known resident of Keokuk county, was instantly killed near What Cheer this morning in a crossing accident. He was a wealthy man, a member of the Friends yearly meeting, and gained a state reputation as a wool grower. He was 82 years of age. LOSERS HAND IN SHREDDER. Fred Apple, of Kellogg, Injured While Operating Corn Machine. Special to Times-Republican. Newton, Nov. 25.—Fred Apple, a well known shrodder operator at Kellogg, lost his left hand in a machine yesterday afternoon. He was attempting to remove husks from the rollers when his glove caught, taking the hand into the machine. Later the hand was amputated at the wrist joint. The accident occurred at the James Moore farm near Kellogg. The Cement Corrugated Roller. In Colorado the land roller is one of the important farm implements. A few years ago the smooth roller was the one most commonly used by the farmer. Any one who had ability was able to construct a roller from old wheels and planks, or from a large log. But the coming in of the corrugated roller makes it necessary for the farmer to buy a roller if he wishes to have one of the latest type. The best corrugated rollers are made in price from $100 to $500. The former of limited means can not afford to purchase one of them. Very serviceable, smooth land rollers having cement wheels, was constructed by the cement machinery department at the Colorado Agricultural College, in the spring of 1909. The wheels are 19 inches in diameter and 4 1/2 inches thick. The face of each wheel is brought to an edge in the center of the rolling face. Fifteen wheels run on one shaft, which is 1 1/2 inches in diameter. The roller is about 1600 pounds. The wheels are the most important part of a corrugated roller, and it often happens that the iron wheels of the most expensive corrugated roller break and must be replaced in price. The cement wheels were made of mixtures, varying from one part cement and one part sand to one part cement and three parts sand. The wheels were reinforced with different amounts of barb wire in the form of rings and cross stays. The cement wheels have held during the past season and no replacements have been necessary. The roller has been used upon smooth ground and upon extremely rough ground. It has been hauled over hard roads, bridges and railroad crossings, and it is in perfect condition, after having done all the rolling on the college farm for the season of 1909. The cost of such a roller may be kept under $10, if the time and labor required for its construction are not considered. The work done by the cement corrugated roller upon the agricultural college farm is considered to be first class in every respect.—H. B. Bonebright, Colorado Agricultural College, Fort Collins. Love and Hatred. Hatred does not cease by hatred at any time; hatred ceases by love; this is an old rule.—Buddha.
