HAD SCRATCHED FOR 28 YEARS

Till It Got to be Second Nature—Suffering Endless and Without Relief—Cuticura Made Skin as Clear as a Baby's.

"If I had known of the Cuticura Remedies fifty years ago it would have saved me two hundred dollars and an immense amount of suffering. My disease (psoriasis) commenced on my head in a spot not larger than a cent. It spread rapidly over my body and got under my nails. The scales would drop off of me all the time and my suffering was endless and without relief. A thousand dollars would not tempt me to have this disease over again. I am a poor man but feel rich to be free of what some of the doctors called leprosy, some ringworm, psoriasis, etc. I took a half but got no cure. I cannot praise the Cuticura Remedies too much. They made my skin as clear and free from scales as a baby's. All I used of them was two cakes of Cuticura Soap, three boxes of Cuticura Ointment and three bottles of Cuticura Resolvent. If you had been there and said you would have cured me for two hundred dollars, you would have had the money. I was covered with the scales but by using Cuticura I was soon as clear as any person ever was. This was over twenty-two years ago and for a long time, through care of habit, used to rub my hands or my arms and legs to scratch, but no purpose—I was well. I had scratched twenty-eight years and it to be a kind of second nature to me. Dennis Downing, Waterbury, Vt., December 27, 1909."

SAW BROWN HANGED

WITNESS TO EXECUTION OF ANTI-SLAVERY MARTYR VISITING IN IOWA.

WAS ONLY A YOUTH AT TIME OF EXECUTION

Elijah Avey, of Chicago, Tells of Thrilling Incidents Preceding Civil War—Dramatic Scene in Court Room During Abolitionist's Trial—Arose From Cot to Address Court.

Ottumwa, Nov. 29.—Probably no man living today is better acquainted with the details surrounding the trial and hanging of John Brown, the Kansas abolitionist at Charleston, Va., which was partly resultant in the civil war, than Elijah Avey, of Chicago, who is in the city exhibiting the picture "The Imprisonment of John Brown," at the Y. M. C. A. Students of United States history remember the story of John Brown, the staunch abolitionist from Osawatimie, Kan., who, with a small company of men, made a night attack on the government quarters at Harper's Ferry, and seized the provisions. After a hot fight with the Virginia militia in which several of Brown's men and soldiers were killed, he was captured and after a trial, he and several of his confederates were hanged for the crime. The things which John Brown did in his efforts to free the slaves were but a link in the long chain that led finally to the civil war.

Avey Was Eye Witness. Mr. Avey, as a boy, was an eye witness to the trial and execution of Brown. The stirring events of that time, which forged so important a part of the chain which started the great war, made an ineffaceable impression upon the mind of Mr. Avey at that time. He not only collected and placed at the disposal of the public the most complete collection of relics and reminiscences of John Brown that has ever been assembled, but he also gives some new light on this noted patriot in a book entitled "The Capture and Execution of John Brown." Mr. Avey was 15 years old, and was on his way to work on the morning of Oct. 17, 1859, when he was attracted by the unusual bustle around the sleepy village of Charleston. Brief inquiry brought the information that Harper's Ferry, six miles distant, was "in possession of a band of unknown men." No one knew the nature of the invaders who overnight seized the government post on the Shenandoah river. In a fight between the Charleston "minutemen" Brown and his companions were captured and taken to Charleston and incarcerated in the jail there. It was during this period that Mr. Avey, then an inquisitive youth, witnessed the train of incidents that ended in the spectacular hanging of John Brown.

Saw Brown in Jail. "I first saw John Brown," Mr. Avey says, "the day after he was incarcerated in the Jefferson county jail. He and his companion, Stevens were lying wounded on the floor. About them was a full guard. Lieutenant Stung, Governor Wise, Senator Mason, who afterwards in the Mason and Snydell case came near involving the federal government in war with Great Britain; the sheriff, jailers, lawyers and newspaper reporters."

Painting of the Scene. This scene made so lasting an impression upon the mind of Mr. Avey, a boy at that time, that more than a half century later, he was able to have painted under his direction, from his description, what has been recognized by the best authorities as a strikingly realistic oil painting of the scene. The painting is by the hand of H. Webb Keedy, a nephew of Mr. Avey.

In telling of the carrying of John Brown on a cot from the jail to the courtroom, Mr. Avey said: "The soldiers were so close together that it was with difficulty any one could get a glimpse of the prisoner, who just then was the center of the stage. With other boys, I ran along the line of uniformed and armed men, and peering between their legs, was able to get a glimpse of the long form with its flowing red and gray beard on the stretcher carried by soldiers."

Stirring Scene in Court. "In the courtroom was enacted a stirring scene, which I witnessed and never will forget. There was an alter-calation between the opposing lawyers, and it annoyed the grievously wounded man on the cot. The sound of the voices pitched high in excited argument, seemed to annoy him. Placing his left hand on the railing he pulled his emaciated body almost to a sitting posture. Facing the state's attorney with flashing eyes he said in cold, even tones: 'Gentlemen, it is no use whatever to hold the mockery of a trial over me. Take me out and hang me at once.'

"While he was speaking the court room was so quiet you could have heard a pin drop. When he finished he dropped back on his cot, exhausted and his trial proceeded."

TWO SENT TO PRISON.

Joe Smith and T. J. Kirby, Council Bluffs, Get Ten and Five Years. Council Bluffs, Nov. 29.—Joe Smith and Dave Rakes appeared in court Monday afternoon to plead to the indictments returned by the grand jury at its last session. Smith pleaded guilty to the charge of larceny from a building in the night time and was sentenced to ten years at Anamosa under the indeterminate law. The charge of breaking and entering was dismissed. Rakes, the other party to the indictment, was discharged upon showing that he had no part in the affair except that he had harbored Smith.

T. J. Kirby, indicted for assault with intent to commit robbery, entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to five years at hard labor in Fort Madison. Kirby's attorney made a touching appeal for future clemency in his case, showing that the man had always borne an exemplary reputation in the community where he lived and still has the sympathy of his neighbors, some of whom were willing to put up a fight in court to save him.

Kirby made an unsuccessful attempt to rob the McClelland bank in September, being wounded by the youthful cashier of the institution. It is said that he had previously had a hardworking man, with a large family to support and with one child a cripple in need of an operation. That these things preyed upon his mind until he became irresponsible is the contention of persons who have taken an interest in his case. Kirby will be the matter up with the board of parole as soon as it is possible to do so.

Monticello. The tower surmounting the new Hoag duster factory gave way sufficiently a short time ago to threaten the fall of the huge water tank that it supports. The tank, had it fallen would have cut a hole thru the building from roof to cellar. The wooden supports, two of them, 12x12 inches in size, were too weak to support the water tank when but a third full of water. This tank is to be used in case of emergency with the automatic sprinkling system

AN ACADEMY ROMANCE

FORMER STUDENTS AT NEW PROVIDENCE ARE WEDDED IN CALIFORNIA.

MISS SADIE GIDLEY BRIDE OF OSCAR L. BALDWIN

Bride and Groom Were Classmates in Academy in Hardin County Score of Years Ago—Baldwin Now a Wealthy Rancher of Whittier—Miss Gidley Well Known School Teacher.

Special to Times-Republican. Whittier, Cal., Nov. 29.—A wedding of interest to people of south Hardin county took place in Los Angeles, when Miss Sadie Gidley became the bride of Mr. Oscar L. Baldwin, a wealthy rancher of East Whittier.

The acquaintance which brought these pleasant nuptials about dates back to old academy days at New Providence a score of years ago. There the young people were schoolmates. Mr. Baldwin moved to California, married, and became a prosperous fruit and walnut grower. His wife died some time ago. She was also a New Providence lady. Miss Gidley left New Providence, and became a school teacher. Recently she has had work in an Italian school at Phoenix, Ariz. A visit in Los Angeles and Whittier the past summer renewed many old acquaintances. Wednesday's wedding came as a natural result. Miss Gidley will be remembered by many people in Eldora, and Hardin county. She made her home for years in the William E. Andrews family.

Northern Iowa Items

Forest City. Jan. 24, 25, 26 and 27, 1911 are the dates that have been set for the meeting of the farmers' institute. The session will continue for four days instead of three as in former years.

Cedar Falls. Professor Perrine has received a statement of the receipts and disbursements of the football game with Iowa Falls Thanksgiving day. After deducting the expenses the two schools shared equally in the receipts and the share of each was $148.

Fort Dodge. Leo Hayes was arrested on the charge of larceny and after a hearing was bound over to the grand jury. Hayes is accused of having forgotten to turn in money realized from the sale of potatoes for Fuller and Ducket. He is claimed to have been shy $24.

Emmetsburg. Those that favor the open saloons are busy these days circulating a petition of consent for signers. Men are out in most every voting precinct in the county trying to get signatures to the petitions. The matter has not gone far enough to give a definite idea as to how the petition is going to come out.

St. Ansgar. In an old barn, not far from his home, the dead body of Chris Johnson, engineer at the flax mill near LeFlore, six miles north of here, was found swaddled in an overcoat. Death ensued. It is thought, from suffocation. His empty pocket book lay open near him but there was no evidence that he had been robbed.

Waverly. A man giving his name as Robert Keller, who has been employed on construction work for the W. C. F. & N. railway, was arrested for stealing an overcoat from Henry Stiles' tailor shop. He is being held in jail at hard labor. He had some money and by paying the justice $12 he was allowed to leave town.

Thompson. Du Ellertson, a young married man living near the state line, is dead as a result of an automobile accident near Ellettsburg. Ellertson and a friend named Alvin Preberg were unable to control the car in which they were riding and the machine ran into a ditch, upsetting and injuring both men frightfully. Ellertson's neck was broken and he died a few days later. It is reported that Preberg is also dead.

Bronson. The deed showing the transfer of the big Barlow ranch from Alexander Kay Barlow, of Essex, England, to C. L. Voss, of Denison, was filed with the recorder at Moline recently. The deal for the sale of the 1,759 acre tract was made some time ago, but it was necessary to send the deed to England for the signature of Mr. Barlow. The consideration was not named. The ranch is located a few miles west of Bronson.

Monticello. The tower surmounting the new Hoag duster factory gave way sufficiently a short time ago to threaten the fall of the huge water tank that it supports. The tank, had it fallen would have cut a hole thru the building from roof to cellar. The wooden supports, two of them, 12x12 inches in size, were too weak to support the water tank when but a third full of water. This tank is to be used in case of emergency with the automatic sprinkling system that has been installed for use in extinguishing any fires that might start. It holds 20,000 gallons of water and when full weighs fifty tons. When it began to give way the water was hastily drawn off, and the danger passed. It will have to be greatly strengthened thru some misunderstanding the wind support timbers were used to carry the floor joists, instead of the supporting girders for the tank floor.

Forest City. F. Dahlin had quite a valuable clover crop this season. From the first cutting of the clover he realized a fine crop of hay and the second growth was threshed recently and produced two bushels of seed to the acre. From a six-acre field he netted $34 worth of seed at the market price. Many farmers in this locality have tried clover as a money making crop of late and with amazing success. With clover seed at its present price the crop would appear to be one of the most valuable that can be sown.

Spencer. M. H. Weaver had reached a good old age without any serious ailments, he was doing some carpenter work in Oscar Olson's blacksmith shop. He had been sawing some lumber by hand, and Oscar told him he could use the power circular saw. Ft. Dodge. Ed Wiltze of Kosciusko county voluntarily gave himself up to Sheriff Lund Saturday for breaking his parole from the county jail. He was put in the county jail and Superintendent Donahue Monday. Wiltze was released from Knoxville on April 4.

Monticello. George Selmering, laboring under the hallucinations inspired by an attack of delirium tremens, escaped from his attendants, causing a prolonged hunt for him. A year or so ago he had a similar experience, when he was found in an almost exhausted condition in Richland township. Shortly thereafter he was sent to the lunatic asylum and after his return was sober and industrious for a time. His intentions were good, but his temptations of his boozing companions were strong, and the old appetite fed and intimated by liquor sellers returned. He was taken to Anamosa, and will be returned to Knoxville.

Sac City. Sheriff Malcolm Currie went to Wall Lake and met the marshal from Odebolt, who had in his custody a candidate for the penitentiary, Tony Novak, a Bohemian, who had been at Odebolt for about three weeks helping to tear down the old mill. He was arrested for grand larceny. The prisoner was turned over to Sheriff Currie, who brought him to Sac City and placed him in the county jail to await the convening of the January term of the district court. PUMPKINS ONLY FRUIT.

Southwestern Horticultural Exhibit Will Be Rather Restricted.

Special to Times-Republican. Corning, Nov. 28.—The southwestern Iowa horticultural meeting is to be held here from Dec. 6 to 8, inclusive. As our only fruit this year is pumpkins, Shultz, the Dutch philosopher, will be on hand to show us how we can take a slice and imagine we are eating Jonathan apples. In addition to the familiar names appearing on the programs of former meetings are those of Congressman-elect Judge Townner and Railroad Commissioner-elect Clifford Thorne.

Dows and Vicinity. Special to Times-Republican. Dows, Nov. 29.—A unique surprise was sprung on the congregations of the Presbyterian and Methodist churches by Rev. C. E. Matteson, of the Methodist church, and Rev. Mr. Clark, of the Presbyterian church, when they both filled the pulpit at the Methodist Sunday morning. Mrs. George Olson and Mrs. A. C. McElhiney went to Chicago Sunday night, where the latter will buy goods for the F. M. McElhiney store.

Charles Peterson, operator of the C. R. L. & P. railway, is taking a vacation and visiting his parents at Amery, Wis., this week.

About all farmers in this section are dry picking corn. On account of the dry weather they have finished somewhat earlier than usual.

Harry Awey, who has been farming the past season in Morgan township, has moved to Newton.

Our old-time druggist, A. M. Muenix, was the victim of a surprise party at his home by his old friends and neighbors. An elegant dinner was served at 7 o'clock and card playing was indulged in. A leather rocker was left by the guests as a memento of the occasion.
