PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE FALLS ON DEAF EARS

LITTLE ATTENTION PAID TO TAFT'S RECOMMENDATIONS TO CONGRESS.

SLIGHT INTEREST SHOWN IN HOUSE OR SENATE

Message Delivered to Both Houses Shortly After Noon—General Opinion Is That Favorable Action on Recommendations Will Not Be Taken at Present Session.

Washington, Dec. 6.—Congress gave respectful attention to the president's message today, but there were comparatively few members willing to concede the probability of favorable action at the present session of the many recommendations. The general opinion was that time would not permit of action in view of the fact that the session will close March 4.

The message was delivered to both houses noon after they convened at noon, the usual ceremonies being observed. The reading was begun at 12:19 in the senate. At first most of the senators listened attentively, but gradually this attention ceased on the part of most of them, and those who remained in the chamber devoted themselves to the printed copies before them.

In the house close attention at first was paid to the reading clerk. Interest soon lagged, however, and those who remained in their seats did so to study the printed copies placed on every desk.

He will also include a perspective view of current events.

Colonel Ullman said yesterday that at the time Colonel Roosevelt accepted the invitation to address the chamber the selection of a subject was left with the guest. An inkling of the nature of the subject is given in this sentence from the letter. "I will make my first public utterance on political matters at the New Haven chamber of commerce dinner."

WISCONSIN RESIDENT GOES TO DENVER IN SEARCH OF MISSING SISTER.

LETTERS TOLD OF DEATH AND BEQUEST OF FORTUNE

Was to Receive Estate Feb. "31"—On Arrival in Denver Woman Finds No Lawyers of Name Given, No Address and No Fortune—Now Seeking Sister Whose Death Was Reported.

Denver, Dec. 6.—As the result of a mysterious and apparently purposeless hoax, Mrs. Mary J. Hall, of Beloit, Wis., is in Denver searching for her sister, Mrs. Harriet G. Rowe, who left her Wisconsin home over thirty years ago and from whom Mrs. Hall has heard nothing for more than five years.

According to Mrs. Hall, last spring she received a letter from Mead & Bradley, lawyers, who gave their address as the Fulton building, Denver. They informed her that Mrs. Rowe had died here, leaving her an estate valued at $8,000. Under the terms of the will, they declared, they were compelled to hold the estate in trust for three years, paying the income over to Mrs. Hall. The first payment would be made Feb. 31, 1911. Another letter relative to the estate followed two weeks after the first letter had been received, and then the correspondence ceased.

Receiving no answer to the letters she sent to the lawyers, Mrs. Hall decided to come to Denver. Upon her arrival here she discovered that there was no Fulton block, that there was no such firm of lawyers as Mead & Bradley; that there was no record of Mrs. Harriet G. Rowe ever having lived here, and that there was no estate. Incidentally she learned there never has been and probably never will be, a "Feb. 31," a point which she had hitherto overlooked. There has been no attempt, Mrs. Hall says, to secure any money from her for any purpose.

Mrs. Jennie Edgar, ex-Stockholder, Sues Directors for Restitution.

The declaration recites that some of the officers and agents of the company have willfully misappropriated funds and have been induced by the grand pair frauds from the directors because of their alleged failure to perform their duties.

It is aimed at James T. Harahan, Cornelius Vanderbilt, R. W. DeForest, E. S. Lovett, John Jacob Astor, J. Ogden Armour, Charles A. Peabody, John G. Shedd, Alexander H. Hackstaff, Walther Lutjgen, John W. Auchincloss and Robert W. Goeltz, as directors.
