

GAS, INDIGESTION OR DYSPEPSIA VANISH

Take a Little Diapain Now and Your Stomach Will Feel Fine Five Minutes Later.

As there is often some one in your family who suffers an attack of Indigestion or some form of Stomach trouble, why don't you keep some Diapain in the house handy? This harmless blessing will digest anything you can eat without the slightest discomfort, and overcome a sour, gassy Stomach five minutes after. Tell your pharmacist to let you read the formula, plainly printed on these 50-cent cases of Pape's Diapain. Then you will readily see why it makes Indigestion, Sour Stomach, Heartburn and other distress go in five minutes, and relieves at once such miseries as Belching of Gas, Eructations of sour, undigested food, Nausea, Headaches, Dizziness, Constipation and other Stomach disorders. Some folks have tried so long to find relief from Indigestion and Dyspepsia or an out-of-order stomach with the common, every-day cures advertised that they have about made up their minds that they have something else wrong, or believe theirs is a case of Nervousness, Gastritis, Catarrh of the Stomach or Cancer. This, no doubt, is a serious mistake. Your real trouble is, what you eat does not digest; instead, it ferments and sours, turns to acid, Gas and Stomach poison, which putrefy in the digestive tract and intestines, and, besides, poison the breath with nauseous odors. A hearty appetite, with thorough digestion, and without the slightest discomfort or misery of the Stomach, is waiting for you as soon as you decide to try Pape's Diapain.

LEGRAND CORN AND POULTRY SHOW OPEN

ANNUAL EXHIBITION OF LE GRAND ASSOCIATIONS BEGIN —ENTRIES LIGHT.

FEWER BIRDS ENTERED THAN LAST WINTER

Forty-five Corn Growers Have Samples on Exhibition For the Prizes Offered For That Cereal—Corn Judge Late in Arriving—Poultry Awards Made—Other County News.

The annual show of the Central Iowa Corn Club of LeGrand, opened Thursday, and the yearly exhibit of the LeGrand Poultry Association, which opened Wednesday, closes Saturday. Up to early this afternoon C. J. Kelsey, of Iowa Falls, who was to judge the corn, had not arrived. Mr. Mills, of Ames, who judged the poultry, finished his work late Thursday.

Forty-five growers of corn in the vicinity of LeGrand have entered samples in the corn show. In the five-bushel class there are five entries, twenty in the single-ear classes, and about twenty in the ten-ear classes. The number of entries in the corn show is a little disappointing. The boys' corn judging contest, which is one of the features of the corn show, was held this afternoon.

There were not so many entries in the poultry scoring as this year as last. Three hundred birds were placed on exhibition this week, but last winter the total reached more than 500.

Stolen Pouch Found

Mail Pouch That Disappeared From Union Station or McCombs' Wagon Found Under Barn—Sack Cut But Letters Not Opened.

The mail pouch from the east-bound Northwestern train No. 26 that disappeared from either the union station or the wagon of McCombs Bros. early this morning as told about in another story on an earlier page, proved to have been stolen. Early this afternoon the pouch was accidentally found under a barn in the rear of the home of Dr. Pauline Myers-Townsend, 205 South Center street. The pouch had been cut open, but the mail in it had been undisturbed.

A crowd of boys who were playing "shinny" near the barn, drove the tin can they were playing with under it. When one of the boys crawled under the building to get the can he found the sack. The find was reported at once to the postoffice, and McCombs Bros. were notified. They delivered it to the federal building. The sack was well filled with first class mail, most of which was for this city. The letters had not been disturbed and even the strings with which they were tied in packages were not cut.

Sketch of Welker Given.

Another Former T. R. Editor is Authority on Shakespeare.

The third of the living former editors of the Times-Republican or the papers from which the present Times-Republican grew, is Walker Given, of Des Moines. Mr. Given owned the paper three years, from February, 1893, until May, 1896. Mr. Given was probably less known personally to the people of the city than any other of the paper's many editors, owing to two facts—his naturally reticent disposition and love for study, and poor health. Mr. Given sold the paper to his business manager, the late S. C. McFarland, and Arthur N. Parrett. They in turn sold to D. W. Norris, Jr., and his associates in June, 1899.

Welker Given is a native of Millersburg, O., where he was born May 15, 1852. He is the son of the late Judge Josiah Given, of the supreme bench of Iowa. Mr. Given was educated in his native state and in this, the state of his adoption, his father having moved to Iowa in 1868. During the administration of Governor Buren R. Sherman Mr. Given acted as his private secretary.

First Newspaper Work in Peoria.

Mr. Given's first newspaper work was done in Peoria, as editor of the Daily Transcript. From Peoria, Mr. Given went to Chicago, where for six years he was engaged as an editorial writer on The Tribune. He came to this paper from Chicago.

First To Suggest Mule Law.

It was while he was editor of the Times-Republican that the liquor agitation was rife, following the old prohibitory days. Mr. Given was the first to suggest the present mule law as a solution of the saloon question which was enacted by the republican party. As a result of this he was termed "the father of the mule law." Mr. Given was especially well versed on the tariff questions, and is the author of the celebrated "Tariff Riddle." As a Shakespearean scholar he has few equals, and his "A Study of Othello," published a few years ago, has been commented on widely as one of the most complete works of its kind ever written, dealing with the Moor of Venice. Of Mr. Given's work Appleton Morgan, president of the Shakespeare Society of New York, says it is epoch making. The Edinburgh Scotsman says that Mr. Given's book solves a great, long-standing problem in Shakespeare.

Mr. Given is now completing other work that, it is believed, will be his chief contributions to literature. Mr. Given's magazine work has been extensive, but most of his articles have been published anonymously, as is his preference.

Mrs. Morgan's Luncheon.

Mrs. S. W. Morgan, 906 West Main street, most delightfully entertained about seventy of her lady friends at a 1 o'clock luncheon followed by a Kensington, Thursday afternoon. The luncheon was in four courses, and the hostess was assisted in the serving by Mrs. Charles Whitehead, Mrs. Susie White, Mrs. A. G. Edwards, Mrs. Harry Waterman, and Miss Edna Bailey. Mrs. Waterman was also at the door. The rooms were prettily decorated with Christmas bells, smilax and red carnations, and Christmas place cards were used. Guests present from out of town were Miss Heaton, of Des Moines; Mrs. White, of Chicago; and Mrs. A. G. Edwards, of Rockwell City.
