NEW FACTORY FOR 1911 IS ASSURED

QUICK ACTION STEEL RANGES TO BE MADE IN NEW PLANT NEXT YEAR.

LENNOX FURNACE COMPANY TO INCORPORATE STOVE BUSINESS

Will Buy Ten or Fifteen Acres, and Erect New Buildings in the Spring—Growth of Steel Range Business Makes Action Necessary—E. H. Hahn to Assist in Management.

Mr. E. H. Hahn, formerly office manager for the Malleable Iron Range Company, which employs 400 men in the manufacture of Monarch steel ranges at Beaver Dam, Wis., arrived in Marshalltown today to become associated with Mr. R. E. Adams, 11 West Grant street, in the management of the Lennox Furnace Company's steel range business.

The coming of Mr. Hahn is preliminary to an enlargement of the company's business, which means a new factory for Marshalltown and may, in time, mean a new plant in the city. The company expects soon to incorporate a new company for the manufacture of its Quick Action steel ranges. It will purchase a tract of from ten to fifteen acres of land and commence the erection of necessary buildings in the spring.

The steel range business of the company in one year has grown too large for one man to supervise, hence Mr. Adams has associated Mr. Hahn in the management to look after the manufacturing and office sales while he devotes his entire time to the demonstrating, selling and marketing of the goods. Additional salesmen will be employed immediately and put to work over a wide territory.

The possibilities in a stove factory for employment for a city are almost unlimited. There are several stove concerns in St. Louis and Illinois which employ thousands of men each. The company which Mr. Hahn leaves to engage in the work in Marshalltown now employs 400 men and there are steel range companies in the middle west less than ten years old which employ 200 and 400 men each.

Mr. Hahn will secure a house as soon as possible that Mrs. Hahn, and two boys of high school age, may join him in making their home here.

WANBERG BUYS LOTS.

Former Marshalltown Dentist to Build Nice Home at Whittier, Cal.

The Times-Republican's correspondent at Whittier, Cal., tells of the purchase there, by Dr. George E. Wanberg, of this city, of two corner lots, on which he will build a fine new home. The general plans for the house Dr. Wanberg is to build, and other items of interest to Marshalltown and the county are contained in the following news letter:

Whittier, Cal., Dec. 27.—Dr. George Wanberg, a dentist recently arrived from Marshalltown, has purchased two corner lots at the intersection of Philadelphia street and Painter avenue, and has begun the erection of a beautiful bungalow of the patio type. The home will also include a delightful suite of rooms for the doctor's offices. The patio will face the street and a pergola will be erected across the court. Sunk garden and a fountain will be another pretty exterior feature. Peruvian masonry will be the finish of the living rooms and reception hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Painter, of Marshalltown, are spending a few months at Whittier. They are making an extended western trip and find the local climate delightful for the winter months.

CLEMONS MEN ENLIST.

Three From That Place Enter United States Navy.

W. B. Lundin and D. H. Ross, two Clemons young men, became recruits of the United States navy in this city Thursday when they were enlisted by Chief Master-at-Arms G. Busch, of the Dan Moines recruiting station. The two recruits were forwarded to the Cedar Rapids recruiting station in the afternoon and from there they will be sent to the Norfolk, Va., recruiting station where they will begin a course of instruction and later be assigned to some battleship. The recruiting officer spends each Thursday in this city, having headquarters at the postoffice building.

ROBERT EDESON

In "Where the Trail Divides" at the Odeon Tomorrow Night.

Much has been written and spoken of the peculiar derivation of Indian names, and it is a well known fact that nearly all Indians take their names from some incident in their lives or some personal characteristic. This is demonstrated in Robert Edeson's new play in which the well known star will appear at the New Odeon tomorrow evening. In the play, "Where the Trail Divides," Mr. Edeson appears as Ma-wa-cha-sa, a Sioux Indian. As a child he was picked up by a party of rangers just after one of those terrible massacres of the whites which were unfortunately so common during the pioneer days in the west. Prices 50, 75, $1 and $1.00.

"Enjoy Your Work as Well as Your Play" is Letts' Advice

FRANK C. LETTS,

Head of Western Grocer Company, Has Risen Rapidly.

In a recent issue of Chicago Magazine, published by associated newspaper workers of Chicago, the story of the rapid rise of Frank C. Letts is treated interestingly.

As Frank Letts got his start in the business world here, the recital is naturally of interest, especially as it deals with Mr. Letts' later success in the management of the Booth Fisheries

Company, the biggest concern of its kind in the world. Mr. Letts has taken as his motto, "Enjoy your work equally as well as your play," and on this theory he has always worked.

Chicago Magazine speaks of Mr. Letts as follows: "Mr. Letts is one of the men of Chicago who has been doing things. His career simply illustrates what any boy with health, ambition and hard work can accomplish. He has gone from the lowest rung of the ladder in a business way to his present proud position. He is president of the National Grocer Company, with fourteen wholesale grocery houses situated in Michigan, Illinois and Indiana. He is president of the Western Grocer Company, with wholesale plants in various cities in Missouri, Iowa and Minnesota. These two concerns combined are the largest distributors of groceries at wholesale in the world.

"Busy man that he was, he was un-announcedly selected by the bankers' committee and others in the reorganization of the A. Booth & Co., less than two years ago for president of its successor, the Booth Fisheries Company, the largest concern of its kind in the world, producing fresh fish, oysters, and in addition owning and operating public cold storage plants, passenger steamers, etc. And he has succeeded in their selection has been demonstrated by the success this company has already attained. Mr. Letts says that no man can succeed unless he loves his work. He believes that all busy men should have a time for relaxation and play, as he realizes that all work and no play not only 'makes Jack a dull boy,' but a business man a slave and a wreck. His motto is, 'Enjoy your work equally as well as your play.'"

7 o'clock this morning the temperature was 11, compared with 23 at the same time yesterday morning. A year ago Thursday the maximum was 25 and the minimum 5 above.

ANNUAL KREIS BANQUET.

German Study Club Members and Friends Enjoy Delightful Affair.

The annual New Year's banquet of Der Deutsche Unterhaltungs Kreis proved a most delightful affair Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Keller, 419 North Third street, with Mrs. Henry Pappé, Mrs. C. F. Schmidt, and Mrs. Keller constituting the committee of hostesses.

Heretofore the annual banquets of the kreis have been held on New Year's eve, but owing to the fact that some of the kreis sons and daughters who are home from school for the holidays would not be able to be present at that time, and also because of the old year ending on Saturday, the affair was planned a few days in advance of the old year's close.

The Keller home was tastefully decorated with the Christmas colors, red and green, festoonings of green being draped about the windows and entrances, and to them fastened Christmas bells of red. In each of the downstairs rooms appeared a likeness of old Santa Claus himself.

After finding their places at the tables by means of souvenir cards bearing in German the words of "Heil dir im Siegerkranz," the guests remained standing while singing the four verses of the German hymn to the tune of "America." A delicious turkey dinner, in four courses, was served by Miss Leona Getz, Miss Meta Schmidt, Mrs. Jack Harlan, and Miss Blanche Clark. Following the dinner Mrs. Rodney C. Wells, vice president of the kreis, and presiding in the absence of Miss Armbruster, the president, called for remarks from Mr. Simon. All of the responses were in German.

HARMONY AID AFFAIR.

Three Hostesses Entertain at Christmas Tree and Luncheon, Thursday.

The members of the Harmony Aid Society enjoyed their annual social affair, an unusually delightful event, Thursday afternoon at the C. C. Woodmanse home, 211 South Second avenue. Mrs. Woodmanse, who is president of the aid, was assisted in entertaining by Mesdames R. P. Smith and James Mooney. Fifty-two were present, including a few guests not members of the aid.

All went in costume, many of the members representing historical and other characters. At 3 o'clock, a Christmas tree was disclosed, the lights of the room in which it stood being shaded in red. Each one had taken a gift, all of which were numerically numbered by the hostesses. The gifts were also numbered and the prizes were distributed to correspond. Mrs. H. L. Thorpe and Miss Clara Williams had the distribution of the gifts in charge.

At 4 o'clock the hostesses, assisted by their daughters, Marie Mooney, Vesta Smith and Margaret Woodmanse, served a three-course luncheon. The Christmas colors, red and green, prevailed in both the menu and decorations. The latter were bells and other Christmas decorations, with red carnations.

OPEN HOUSE TO PUBLIC.

Marshalltown Club Affair Monday is For Everybody.

The Marshalltown Club will keep open house Monday afternoon and evening, from 2 until 8 o'clock. The reception is for the public and everybody is invited, whether members of the club or not. The fact that the reception comes on a day that will be generally observed as a holiday, will give many people in the city an opportunity to see the rooms who may not have had the opportunity.

SETTLEMENT TO GOVERN

Increases Paid by Engineers, Firemen, Conductors and Brakemen to Apply on Iowa Central When Next Scheduled With Train and Enginemen Are Made.

Iowa Central train and enginemen will benefit by the wage settlements made by the western roads with these employes in Chicago. According to a good, although not official source, the Iowa Central employes in the same departments will receive the increase granted by the Chicago settlement. This was a 10 per cent raise for both the engine and trainmen. The settlement was made with the trainmen yesterday, and with the engineers less than a week ago. Those directly affected are the employes of more than half a hundred western lines.

It is said that when the new schedule of the engine and trainmen comes up for adjustment that the increase granted by the Chicago settlement will be applied by General Manager Biers. The Iowa Central and Minneapolis & St. Louis are not parties to the Chicago settlement, but the movement for wage increases made by the unions interested is a national one in scope and applies to the Iowa Central. When the last Chicago settlement was made that fixed the wages for these same employes the Iowa Central management, although not a party to it, said it would grant the same percentage of increase on the local line which it did.

Mr. Biers, who has been in poor health and confined to his bed much of the time for several weeks, is expected to arrive here as soon as he is able to take up the schedules of the carmen and machinists, both of whom are seeking increases in wages.

DEED LAND TO CORPORATION.

Nelson Property Transferred to Marshall Ice Company.

Approximately sixty acres of lake frontage within the city limits, that has been owned by Mrs. Carrie Nelson, her son and her daughters, was today transferred to the Marshall Ice Company, which incorporated a short time ago. The shareholders in the corporation are Mrs. Nelson, C. W. Nelson, Mrs. Anna M. Rison, and Mrs. Matena M. Moffatt. The bulk of the property deeded to the corporation is land bordering on and near the Iowa river occupied by the ice houses of the company and across the river west and northwest of them.
