

Loosens Tight Coughs

Home-Made Cough Syrup

Here is the cheapest and most powerfully effective cough cure known to medical science. Buy of your druggist, (or have him order it from the wholesaler) two and one-half ounces of essence mentho-laxene. In the package is full directions for making a splendid laxative, curative cough syrup. This amount makes a full pint at a saving of from $2 or $3 as compared with ordinary labeled cough syrups, and it is really better to cure because it rids the system of the cold and cough by its laxative action. It is no trouble to make, just buy the mentho-laxene and make a syrup according to directions accompanying. This is the formula: Essence mentho-laxene 1 1/2 Ozs. Granulated sugar syrup 1 1/2 Ozs. Directions tell how to prepare the syrup at home. It is certainly a blessing for old people and loosens the tightest cough in an hour, while children like to take it, and it prevents pneumonia, fever and other complications. It is a most effective action; fine for any throat or lung trouble, and you can actually feel it working and penetrating the tissues of throat and lungs with its curative properties.

COULD NOT STAND SUFFERING FROM SKIN ERUPTION

Red Blotches on Face and Scalp. Disfiguring, Scaly and Dry. Began to Itch and Burn. Scratched Until He Drew the Blood.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment Entirely Relieved "That Awful Pest."

"I have been using Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment for the past three months and I am glad to say that they cured me of a most annoying skin eruption. It began by my noticing red blotches appearing on my face and scalp. Although they were rather disfiguring, I did not think anything of them until they began to get scaly and dry and to itch and burn until I could not stand the suffering. Then I began to use a different soap, thinking that my old kind might be hurting me, but that didn't seem to do any good. I went to two different doctors but they seemed to relieve me any. I lost many nights sleep in continuing to scratch, sometimes scratching till I drew the blood on my face and head. Then I started in to use the Cuticura Remedies and in two months I was entirely relieved of that awful pest. If anyone seeks information as to how good Cuticura Remedies are, refer them to me or one who used it successfully. I am so delighted over my cure by Cuticura Remedies that I shall be glad to tell anybody about it. (Signed) G. M. Macfarland, 221 West 115th St., New York City, Oct. 19, 1910." "SMOKE NUISANCE" IN CLUB.

Hawthorne Members Enjoy Novel Mock Trial at Lay Home.

The monthly social affair of the Hawthorne Club ladies, their husbands and other guests, was enjoyed Wednesday evening, Messrs. and Mesdames E. E. Lay and A. G. Glick entertaining at the Lay home, 111 North First street. A delicious dinner was enjoyed at 5:30 o'clock, and the hostesses were assisted in serving by Mrs. H. B. Beatty and Cleary Lay.

The entertainment during the hours following consisted of a mock trial which proved a highly successful source of amusement for all. Mrs. R. W. McCreery, as plaintiff, entered complaint against the men of the Hawthorne Club for smoking in the house after dinner, claiming that the smoke seeped up the house and soiled the curtains. The men found defense in expert witnesses, such as doctors and preachers, who exploited the various benefits of smoking. Superintendent Aaron Palmer presided as judge. Attorney C. H. E. Boardman appeared for the plaintiff, and Attorney E. L. Meeker for the defense. The jury was composed of six members, Mrs. B. A. Morgan, Mr. I. O. Kemble, Mrs. W. B. Kibbey, Mrs. Robert C. Fletcher, Mrs. E. G. Wallace and Mr. A. F. Balch. Many witnesses were called on both sides, and the trial was a spirited one, calling forth shouts of laughter so that the court had great difficulty in preserving order. At a late hour, no decision having been reached as to the merits of the case, the court adjourned till morning.

MISS JEWETT TEACHER HERE.

First Missionary Sent to Foreign Field Was Credited to City.

Local interest attaches to the celebration by the Presbyterian women of the "golden jubilee" of the foreign missionary movement in this country, commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of the sending of the first woman by the women of the United States.

In the news story of the meeting, printed in the T.-R. Wednesday, Miss Mary Jewett was referred to as the first woman sent to the foreign field by the board of the northwest. An error crept into the reference to Miss Jewett by making it appear that she was a teacher in the schools of Chicago rather than this city. Miss Jewett was chosen for the work, and she was credited to Marshalltown, and is still so credited in the board's records. Miss Jewett was stationed at Talriz, Persia, thirty-six years. She taught in this city several years, presiding over one of the lower grades in the old Center street school that occupied the site which the public library and central fire station now occupy. Miss Jewett is now a woman about 73 years old, and lives at Aurora, Neb., with a sister. Her health failed several years ago, and for that reason she was recalled from the mission field, that she might recuperate her health. Miss Jewett left Marshalltown in the fall of 1871.

STRONG CASES SETTLED.

Suits Against Railroad Company Are Brought to a Sudden End.

Before the plaintiff had completed his evidence in the case brought by Samuel R. Strong vs. the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, the attorneys "got together" and settled the case. At the same time they also settled the case of Strong's son, John Strong, an action growing out of the same accident. The two cases were settled for $700, the doctor's bill of $53 and costs, which the railroad company also pays. The elder Strong brought suit for $139 damages for personal injuries received when the hay rack in which he was riding was struck by a Milwaukee train on a highway crossing in Jefferson township. Strong and his son were on the hay rack, both were thrown off and injured. The son brought suit for $500 damages.

As the result of the circulation of a petition by friends, started Tuesday, I. T. Forbes, an insurance man with offices in the Masonic Temple, today announces his candidacy for the office of councilman before the municipal primaries. Mr. Forbes had said, last July, following the election that adopted the commission form of government, that he believed he would be a candidate for councilman under the plan. He had not thought of the matter seriously, however, from that time, until the Times-Republican asked him Tuesday afternoon, in view of the fact that a petition for him was being circulated, if he would be a candidate. Mr. Forbes replied then that he had no notion of becoming a candidate, but that he did not know what he might do when he learned who were on his petition.

Today Mr. Forbes said that his petition contained the names of fifty or more men, including traveling men, business and professional men, and laboring men, and that he had decided to make the race. He says that he is not pledged to any man, and that his announcement is his platform. He believes in the Rooseveltian doctrine of a "square deal" and says that he favors an economical administration, with the view of the city getting the most possible for its money. He also favors public improvements.

Mr. Forbes has lived in Marshalltown twenty years, and during the greater share of that time was on the road. He came here to travel for Ketchum & Johnson, and later went with a farm machinery manufacturing concern at Dayton, O. He sold implements until he entered the retail grocery firm of D. S. Good & Co., nine years ago. He left the grocery business for the road again, traveling for the Jackson Corrugated Culvert Company until he went into the insurance business two years ago.
