C. W. E. W. RALLY.

Second Day of Jubilee Missionary Meeting Proves Interesting.

The jubilee rally of the Christian Women's Board of Missions, which began in this city Thursday morning, was brought to a close with the program this afternoon. The second day's program proved equally as interesting as the first, and included addresses by the national workers present.

The forenoon session today was devoted to conferences and reports and the plans for echo rallies, which will comprise reports from the delegates to the rally here to their own societies. Mrs. Anna R. Atwater, of Indianapolis, national president, spoke at the forenoon session.

This afternoon, following a fellowship hour, at which Mrs. Atwater delivered another address, a conference on children's work was taken up. At the fellowship hour delegates from missionary societies of different churches of the city were present. The afternoon Miss Florence Mills, a missionary to India, showed the children stereoscopic views of Indian life, and displayed the curios that she gathered while in India.

Mrs. Atwater, Miss Moore, the national field worker, Miss Newcomer, state secretary, and Miss Mills, leave this evening for Burlington, where they will participate in another similar rally tomorrow. This will complete their work in the state, after having held seventy-five meetings incident to the jubilee rally movement.

Liscomb News Notes.

The meeting of the Women's Club at the home of Mrs. F. C. Nichols Tuesday evening was among the most enjoyable of the club year. Legends of the Rockies were given in response to roll call. The story of "The Empire of the Pacific" was most delightfully told by Mrs. Nichols and was made all the more interesting by a fine collection of post cards showing the natural scenery, building, etc., found in the Pacific states. Mrs. J. G. Scott gave a most instructive paper on "Uncle Sam's Important Projects," taking up and discussing the Panama canal, the reclaiming of arid lands, the parcels post and other projects in which the government is interested. Mrs. Smith gave an interesting review of "The Virginian," giving a good picture of western life among the cowboys. There was a good attendance of members. Mrs. N. W. Boyd was a guest of the club. The next meeting will be a business meeting at the home of Mrs. F. W. Dillon, May 9. Officers will be elected and plans discussed for the next year's work.

OLD PRINTER PENSIONER

C. J. Ambli Has Record of Working Job in One Office Forty-two Years - Has Followed Trade Fifty-Eight Years.

Special to Times-Republican.

Decorah, April 28.—A printer for fifty-eight years with a record of forty-two years in one office, now retired on a pension of $12 per week, is the record of C. J. Ambli, who is probably the oldest printer in the United States, at least he can well lay claim to the honor of being the longest in continual employment in one office. Mr. Ambli came to Decorah with Mr. Annundson when he established the Posten which is now the largest newspaper published in this country in the Norwegian language and it is considered the best business office. Last Saturday afternoon Mr. Ambli was called into the business office where Manager Bergeson informed him that Mr. Annundson wanted to show his appreciation for the long service he had rendered and the splendid work performed by him, and hereafter his time was his own to spend as he wished on pension of $12 per week. No man in the world could be more appreciative of this than was Mr. Ambli. He is now seventy-three years of age but he has a love for the printing business, for the case and for the smell of ink, and even for the old towel which stands in the corner.
