The funeral is to be held Wednesday. Cecil Edwards, aged 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orrin Edwards, 105 East Lincoln street, was shot in the right eye late Monday afternoon, by a playmate who held a "nigger shooter" loaded with BB shot. The lad may have a serious time with his injured eye. The last of the series of choral programs given by pupils of the grades in the public schools was given this morning at 11 o'clock at the high school manual training building. The program was by the pupils of the fifth grades in the different schools, and comprised songs studied during the year. Charles W. Wells, 910 West Main street, who some time ago was a patient in the Deaconess hospital due to diabetic gangrene, is again quite ill at his home. His condition is none too encouraging. Mrs. William H. Flanders, of Melrose, Mass., Mr. Wells' sister, is in the city caring for her brother. Complimentary to Mrs. John G. Parks, of Ottumwa, formerly Miss Maude O'Morey, a Rogers school kindergarten, Mrs. H. S. Lawrence, 7 West Grant street entertained a dozen friends informally Monday evening. Sewing and bridge were enjoyed, and assisted by Mrs. George A. Howe, the home was served. The table was attractively decorated in lavender, a large bouquet of violets and lilac-of-the-valley gracing the center, while baskets of the flowers, tied with bows of tulle, stood at the ends of the table. Mrs. Parks will return to her home tomorrow. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Williams, of Garwin, who were married at Eldora Monday forenoon, spent the day here with Mrs. Williams' aunt, Mrs. A. E. McCartney, and grandmother, Mrs. B. C. Gilbert. Mr. and Mrs. Williams were the guests of honor at supper served a company of relatives by Mrs. McCartney at her home in the evening. Pink and white carnations were the table decorations. Mr. and Mrs. Williams returned Monday night to Garwin, where they will live. Mr. and Mrs. Williams are well-known young people of Garwin. Mrs. Williams was formerly Miss Gladys Fidler. Thirty members of the Young Married People's Club of the Congregational church enjoyed their regular meeting Monday evening at the church, when they were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Tankersley, Mr. and Mrs. Max Smith, and Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Rodgers. A two-course supper was served at 7 o'clock by Robert Moscript, Byron Ruth, Cole McCreary and Kenneth Burkholder, the guests being seated at daintily decorated tables. A large basket of lilacs was used as a centerpiece, and at each place was a pretty little lavender basket with violets. After the supper various games and music furnished the evening's entertainment.
