Thursday afternoon the member of the St. Elizabeth's Society of St. Mary's church were entertained by Mesdames Veronica Hasenstab, Otto Eich and Robert Buchwald at the Hasenstab home, 613 Woodbury street. Following the business session, visiting and fancy work occupied the afternoon, and the hostesses served refreshments. Miss Marie Diller, 301 South Ninth street, entertained this afternoon at the first of a series of porch parties which she will give during the next week. The guests included fourteen friends who enjoyed a pleasant afternoon visiting and with their fancywork on the spacious porch, which was made most attractive by large bouquets of pink and white flowers. Mesdames A. C. and C. R. Diller served refreshments. PRIZE FOOD. Palatable, Economical, Nourishing. A Nebr. woman has outlined the prize food in a few words, and that from personal experience. She writes: "After our long experience with Grape-Nuts, I can not say enough in its favor. We have used this food almost continually for seven years. "We sometimes tried other advertised breakfast foods but we invariably returned to Grape-Nuts as the most palatable, economical and nourishing of all. "When I quit tea and coffee and began to use Postum and Grape-Nuts, I was almost a nervous wreck. I was so irritable I could not sleep nights, had no interest in life. "After using Grape-Nuts a short time I began to improve and all these ailments have disappeared and now I am a well woman. My two children have been almost raised on Grape-Nuts, which they eat three times a day. "They are pictures of health, and have never had the least symptom of stomach trouble, even through the most severe siege of whooping cough they could retain Grape-Nuts when all else failed. "Grape-Nuts food has saved doctor bills, and has been, therefore, a most economical food for us." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Well-being," in pkgs. Appearing in a costume of his native country, N. E. Badal, a native missionary of Persia, told of his country and the need of christianity there before a small audience at the Baptist church Thursday evening. Mr. Badal spoke of the deplorable conditions in Persia, and the utter lack of modern conveniences, including railroads, telegraph and telephone. He referred to the home life of the people, and the condition of womanhood. The introduction of christianity and education, he said, would result in the uplift of woman from her present low condition. Mr. Badal is in this country in order to secure a better education, in the hopes of establishing a christian school in Persia.

OFFICIALS VISIT CITY. M. & St. L. Men Visit City on W. South on Inspection Trip. President Newman Erb, of the Minneapolis & St. Louis railroad, and a party of officials of the road, spent Thursday night in the city, being en route to Des Moines, Saturday, for a trip in the evening, and left this morning for the south. From Maxon M. Erb leaves for Colorado.

Mr. Erb said that at present his company was not considering the taking over of the old Des Moines & Fort Dodge line, but he did not deny that such an action was contemplated.

Business men of the city met the officials informally at the Marshalltown Club rooms Thursday evening. The members of the party were taken on an automobile ride about town, and later the hours were spent socially at the rooms.

In President Erb's party were A. C. Doan, secretary of the company, New York; Vice President and General Manager E. E. Kerwin; W. H. Bremner, chief counsel; S. G. Lutz, traffic manager; R. G. Kenly, chief engineer; all of Minneapolis, and Superintendent J. P. Houston, of Oskaloosa.

AMUSEMENTS.

Good Midsummer Show, Featuring Gangler's Dogs, at Orpheum. Gangler's dogs, one of the most clever animal acts on the vaudeville stage, is the feature attraction at the Orpheum this week, the new bill opening Thursday evening. The dog that plays the piano and sings is the leading actor of the canine troop, which contains five exceptionally well-educated animals. Many new and unusual tricks are exhibited by the dogs, and the act is a very clever one.

The bill opens with Peters and Styler, in a comedy singing and talking act, and the team is one of the best of the summer season. New songs are featured and are well rendered, and the "patter" is bright and witty. Jack Taylor, "the talkative trickster," with a good line of magical feats, and a continual flow of talk, directing attention away from the execution of his trick, completes the bill. His act also pleases.
