They will probably vote with Nissen today to that end.

TWO DROWN AT JESUP

BROTHERS VICTIMS OF DOUBLE TRAGEDY IN WAPSIPINICION RIVER FRIDAY.

YOUNGER BROTHER LOST WHILE ASSISTING ELDER

Tragedy Enacted Before Other Members of Family, Who Were Enjoying Family Picnic on Banks of River—Elder Boy Caught in Strong Undercurrent and Pulled Down.

Special to Times-Republican.

Jesup, July 25.—Two sons of Mr. and Mrs. Will Masters, aged 14 and 18 years, were drowned Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Wapsipinicon river at Littleton, five miles from here.

The Masters were having a family picnic when the older son, who was in bathing, got beyond his depth, and upon calling for help, his younger brother went to his assistance, and they both went down. The bodies floated in each others' arms were soon recovered.

This is a very treacherous part of the Wapsie, being about fourteen feet deep with a strong undercurrent. Prof. L. Bert Miller and Omer Fuller narrowly escaped death in this place Tuesday, each being rescued after sinking three times.

DUMONT PIONEERS PASSING.

Three Aged Residents of Town and Vicinity Die During Week. Special to Times-Republican.

Dumont, July 25.—Last week was a sad one for many in the town. Several deaths are to be noted, among them is that of Dr. Jacob Kellner, an old time resident of the town and nearby vicinity. Mr. Kellner died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Katie Metcalf, Friday evening at 7 o'clock at the ripe old age of 79 years, and after two years of very poor health.

The last year he has been a decided charge for his devoted daughter. Mr. Kellner was a hard working man when he was able, and always had a jovial remark for the boys. His wife died two years ago. The funeral was held Sunday conducted by Rev. Mr. Bogan, assisted by Rev. Eugene Shaffer, pastor of the U. B. church, and his casket covered with beautiful flowers was carried to the Hill cemetery where his body rests beside that of his wife in the family lot.

Joseph M. Stella died Thursday, at his home at Hotel Dumont, after an illness of a few days, from peritonitis. He was born Dec. 3, 1844, and was a soldier in the Civil War, being a member of the Grand Army of the Republic; he was also a member of the Masonic lodge, the Odd Fellows and the Knights of Pythias. He leaves a wife, three daughters and a son to mourn his departure. The body was taken to Clarion Friday evening and the funeral held there on Sunday, that place being his former home.

Levi Reed, an old and respected resident, passed away on Sunday evening, after suffering for a few days. Mr. Reed was born in 1834 and would have been 80 years old had he lived until November. Two sons have preceded him and a faithful wife and five daughters survive, they being Mesdames George Barnd, William Burma, living in this vicinity and Mrs. Burkholder, of Cando, N. D. He was a faithful member of the Brethren church and the pastor of that denomination at Greene preached the funeral sermon, the funeral being at the Methodist church in Dumont and burial at Harlan cemetery. The sympathy of our people goes out to those who have suffered the loss of their loved ones so recently.

CONTRIVERSY ENDED.

Settlement Reached in Squabble Over State House Jobs. Special to Times-Republican.

Des Moines, July 25.—The controversies between the custodian of the state property and the old soldier janitors has been settled and it is satisfactory all round. Men who were discharged and who fell back upon the soldier preference law have resigned and been paid their claims. The law has been somewhat embarrassing to every administration since its enactment, as it has prevented getting the most efficient help in caring for the state property, but gradually there has been improvement in conditions. The present custodian is unfortunate in the manner of his doing things rather than in his intent and this has caused much needless friction.

NEIGHBORS HARVEST CROP.

Denison Farmers Assist Friend, Ill in Hospital. Special to Times-Republican.

Denison, July 25.—Theodore Blume, a German farmer living ten miles northwest of this city, who was at one time representative to the legislature from this county had to be taken to the hospital two weeks ago and when it became known to his neighbors that he could not come away for five weeks they resolved that his farm work should have first place even over their own. The Blume crops have been the first cared for on the farms surrounding.

DR. EVELYN WASHBURN DEAD.

Prominent Professional Women of Iowa City Passes Away. Special to Times-Republican.

Iowa City, July 25.—Dr. Evelyn S. Washburn, wife and professional partner of Dr. B. E. Washburn, died at her home in Iowa City, late Friday afternoon. She was a prominent and successful professional, social and club woman of the city. She was about 45 years of age and was formerly head of the Iowa City Foundling Home. No children survive.

Clarion News in Brief. Special to Times-Republican.

Clarion, July 25.—The Clarion concert band has been signally honored by receiving an invitation to appear at the Tama-otole chautauqua for two full entertainments Wednesday, Aug. 19. This splendid association has been operating for twelve years and has booked all of its talent independently. In the past they have had lines, "Conways, Liberatis," and the Fifty-first regiment band, and this is the first time that they have employed non-professional band. In addition to the band conductor St. Clair will take along Messdames Scott and Lundblad, and Messrs. Linfor, McCoy, Rohrbach, and Richards as soloists.

The city council has passed two resolutions that will meet with the hearty approval of our citizens. The first provides that all noxious weeds and tall grass growing upon the lands, streets, alleys, and highways within the city limits shall be cut down close to the ground or the street committee will take charge of the same and charge it to the property owners. The other resolution concerns those who do not care for their poll tax. Quite a number of men escape paying their poll tax each year, and hereafter action will be brought against each delinquent one, and he will be brought before the mayor with the effort made to force him to pay it.

Richard Williams has sold his home in the south part of town to Dawson Sheffler for the sum of $3,200. Mr. Williams will soon move to Perry near which place he has come into possession of five acres which he will devote to poultry raising. Mr. and Mrs. Sheffler will soon move from their 250 acre farm south of town where they have lived for thirty-five years. The farm they will rent to their sons.

Dr. and Mrs. Floyd P. St. Clair are spending a few days in Chicago. The city council has opened bids on the sewer proposition, and it was found that the lowest bid was a little over $38,000 and the highest over $53,000, a difference of $15,000. The council is now looking up the responsibility of the low bidders and will soon let the contract, it is thought.

Miss Mary Tallman, of this city, was noted in marriage yesterday to Mr. Harry Stephens, of this city, Mason City, where the groom is employed in running the ditcher for the Chicago Great Western railway. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Tallman, of this city, has been reared in this city and is well and favorably known throughout the community. The groom has lived here for a number of years and is worthy of the young bride whom he takes for his wife. They will reside in Mason City for awhile.

WATERLOO. Wedding bells did not ring for Bryson Burroughs and his fiancée, Beatrice, Neb. When the expectant groom appeared at the license counter he found a telegram on file from his mother, Mrs. N. Burroughs, cautioning the official against allowing the couple to wed because the groom was under age. "That means we will have to go to Minneapolis," said Burroughs, who claims he was 21 last May. "I shall never return to Beatrice. My mother is opposing the marriage because she does not like the girl, but the world is wide and we will wed just the same." The girl was in the corridor, a pretty blonde, dressed in white, with figured belt and a long string of large yellow beads around her neck. Both are diminutive in stature.

Cedar Rapids. When members of the Pythian grand lodge of Iowa assemble in this city Aug. 25, 26 and 27 for their annual grand lodge session they will listen to band music by the only uniform rank band in the state. That is the claim made by Star of the West lodge No. 1, Knights of Pythias, of Cedar Rapids, which is next to the largest K. of P. lodge in the state. A number of the younger members recently got together and formed a musical organization in the uniform rank and this band has been attracting much attention this week at the national grand lodge sessions in Terre Haute, Ind. At least 1,500 delegates are expected here for the Iowa grand lodge meeting next month as several important matters are to come up for adjustment. Another feature of the gathering will be the appearance of the Oskaloosa K. of P. Glee club, which is also a distinctive lodge organization.

Northern Iowa Items

Story City. Mrs. M. A. Tendeland suffered some bad injuries last Thursday evening in falling down the stairs at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Alex Henderson, where she has been staying for some time. One of her arms was broken at the elbow and shoulder bone was broken near the joint. She is resting well now, but the injury was in about as bad a place as it could happen.

Hampton. Alex G. Newton met with a had accident last Monday afternoon, when he fell from a straw stack at the A. W. Wolf farm northeast of town, and broke his left hip. He was attempting to get down from the top of the stack, and as he stepped on the top of an extension ladder that had been placed for his use the clips slipped and he was thrown to the ground, receiving injuries as above stated.

Story City. Jacob Faig lost his barn by fire at Rosendale last Thursday and the same day Peter Dikoph's barn west of town went up in smoke, both having been struck by lightning during the thunder shower that day. C. W. Allie lives on the Dikoph farm and lost some young stock and a little grain in the fire. Mrs. Allie has a girl living in Neosho, Mo. He wrote to her giving her his address and it was thru this correspondence that he was located and arrested.

Greene. This week there was a change of management at the Commercial Hotel, when Lloyd Patterson of Clarksville, took charge of the business, relieving Mr. Kimball, the owner of the house, who was recently forced to take hold of the business temporarily. The new landlord is not a stranger here, for he is a brother of Dr. W. E. Patterson and he and his wife are popular both at the old home at Clarksville and here in Greene where they have spent much time.

Ewart. The house on the Jesse Gross farm occupied by Lafayette Wilson, a half mile south of Ewart, burned Monday forenoon. The fire started from a lantern and the fire spread except Mr. Wilson were away from home at the time and when he discovered the blaze it had gained considerable headway and the building was soon destroyed. The neighbors promptly responded to his phone call and succeeded in saving part of the household goods. Mr. Wilson had some insurance on his goods but Mr. Gross had none on the house.

Robertson. Next Sunday the new church at Robertson, which has now been completed, will be dedicated by S. S. Lapping, of Cincinnati, O., a noted author and preacher. The dedication services will begin Saturday at 3 p. m. and continue all day Sunday. A basket dinner will be spread in the basement at noon on the second day. It is anticipated that there will be an attendance of 200 at the school on Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. The loyal class and daughters have purchased a new, large bell, which will peal forth its invitation for the first time during the dedication.

Trapp. The Mumm farm of sixty acres, located a half mile from Reinbeck, was sold this week by L. H. McGrew to Thomas Copley for $400 an acre, the highest price ever paid for a farm in central Iowa. The farm is well improved. Mr. McGrew bought the farm three years ago for $215 an acre. The Bohnstee farm of 440 acres two miles from Dysart, was sold at public auction this week and brought a big price. One hundred and sixty acres with only cheap improvements, brought $12,500 an acre, and the balance, which has no improvements, brought an average of $200 an acre.

Hampton. New oats are now on the market. The first load was brought into the J. A. Carden elevator last Monday

The Cleanest Heat on Earth

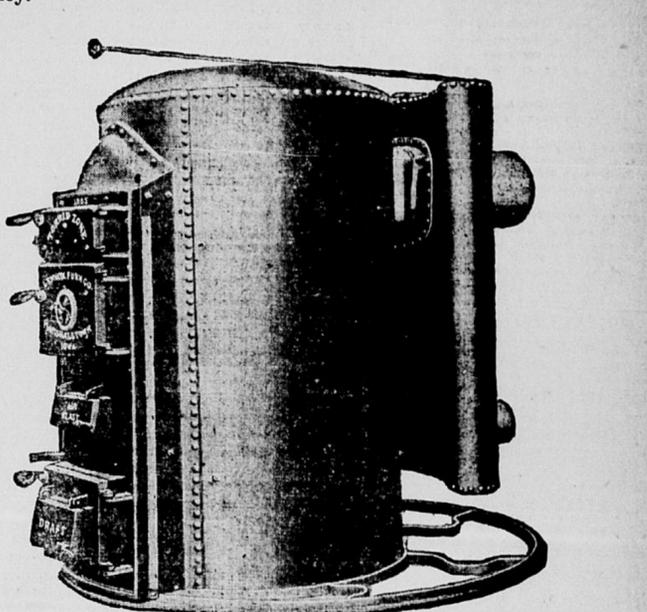

At last we have found a hot air furnace which makes no dirt. It is cleaner than hot water or steam and does not cost as much to install as either.

Torrid Zone furnaces made of heavy steel plates riveted and caulked absolutely gas and dust tight like a steam boiler are the modern heating plants of today.

Formerly furnaces built of cast iron sections set one upon another will leak gas between the sections. The joints are cemented but when the iron is heated it expands and loosens the cement. Gas then puffs into the air chamber.

Torrid Zone steel furnaces have the fire, smoke and ash pit all enclosed in a steel shell, riveted gas tight. Dust or gas does not escape into the air pipes.

QUICK RADIATION. Steel is the quickest to radiate heat of any metal that can be used. Hot air response comes the moment a fire is kindled and the maximum heat from the fuel consumed is always obtained from the quick radiating qualities of a steel furnace. Remember that heat from a fire must either be radiated into the house or escape up the chimney.

NO CLOGGING OF FLUES. Upright construction so that the smoke always travels up and down prevents soot collecting to retard radiation and eventually choke up the draft. There are no horizontal tubes or flues about a Torrid Zone.

HEAT FROM SMOKE IS SAVED. The indirect radiator, also of steel, with a partition in the center adds eight feet of extra smoke travel, thus obtaining all of the heat possible from the fire and almost doubling the radiating surface of the furnace.

DOUBLE FUEL DOORS. The double doors make it so easy to feed coal into a fire that any woman can operate a Torrid Zone furnace. Big chunks of wood can be used.

FIRE POT IN IRON SECTIONS. After years of use the cast iron fire pot linings, grates, etc., can be removed in sections through the fuel doors and new parts put in their place without the expense of tearing down casings and pipes to remove a big section of cast iron.

The hot blast arrangement guarantees perfect combustion for hard or soft coal, coke or wood because it can be easily regulated by a draft damper door.

WORKS WELL IN ALL WINDS. The damper for both direct and indirect draft makes possible perfect regulation of the fire in all kinds of weather. By its use fire can be held in a Torrid Zone for three days from one filling of fuel and then direct draft is ready for immediate use when filling the furnace with fresh fuel. No smoke nor gases can escape into the cellar. High winds can not waste your fuel nor foggy days cause your furnace to smoke.

TEMPER THE CLIMATE OF CANADA. Torrid Zone steel furnaces are now sold in twenty-two states from Pittsburgh to the coast and from Texas to Winnipeg and throughout the Canadian northwest where none but the most powerful heating plant can battle with a northern winter. The factory at Marshalltown is now the largest in the world for the making of steel furnaces.

STEEL FURNACE LEADS ALL OTHERS. The steel furnace is capturing the furnace trade of the country. Makers of cast iron furnaces have been making steel radiators for their cast furnaces in order to compete. Now they are adding steel furnaces to their line, but for eighteen years Torrid Zone furnaces have been the pioneers and the leaders in steel furnace manufacture. Today the whole country is alive to the superiority of the steel furnace over all other forms of heating plants.
