THINKS MAN MAY BE HUSBAND. Coroner Receives Inquiry Concerning Unknown Dead Man.

Coroner F. H. Boucher received Monday a letter from Mrs. Frances Angle, of O'Neill, Neb., making further inquiry as to the description of the unknown man who was instantly killed while getting off a Chicago Great Western freight train in the local yards last afternoon of Thursday, Sept. 24.

Mrs. Angle says that her husband left home not long before the unknown man was killed here, and that a published description of the dead man, seen in a newspaper and her to think that the man may have been Mr. Angle. The wife says that the description as seen by her, fits that of her husband in most particulars.

The woman was anxious to learn something more definite about the description of the man's clothing.

Coroner Boucher will write Mrs. Angle giving a complete personal description, and as nearly as possible will tell her about the clothing which, however, was so badly torn and covered with mud that it was hard to tell what the original color might have been.

Makes Will to Block Lawsuit

The fear of litigation over what had been her property, and a desire to prevent any lawsuits or trouble over the estate, prompted Mrs. Elizabeth Shank, formerly of Timber Creek township, who died in this city Aug. 20, to bequeath to her son, Stephen Shank, of Timber Creek township, a farm that she had deeded to him twenty-two years ago.

"This will, willing to him all of my real estate," reads the document, "is made in full of all claims and demands of litigation growing out of deeds executed by my friends to their children, and which has caused litigation and trouble."

Mrs. Shank had probably known of cases where a parent had deeded property to his children then, after the decedent's death, litigation had been begun to have the deed set aside and the land transferred by it returned to the estate.

To prevent this Mrs. Shank willed to her son the land she had already deeded to him. The land in question comprises eighty acres. All of the other property of the estate was bequeathed to the son by the will, which was admitted to probate in the district court, Monday afternoon.

The will was dated Nov. 8, 1903. The son, Stephen Shank, was nominated executor without bond.

ender, based on an entirely new principle. It is a new, different formula, never successfully imitated. It makes corns shrivel and then vanish. Two drops do the work. You don't bundle up your toe any more with sticky tape and plasters that get down on the poor corn—no more flesh-eating salves that don't "stay-out," no more hacking at corns with knives or razors, no more bleeding or danger of blood poison. No more limping around for days with sore corns, no more corn pains.

The criminal cases against J. Wade Conn, of Cedar Rapids, and Mrs. Jessie S. Rebbeck, of this city, were continued in the district court by Judge Cummings Monday afternoon. Conn's attorney filed a motion for a continuance and supported it with an affidavit of a physician, which said that Conn was physically unable to appear in court. Judge Cummings ruled to continue the case over the objection of County Attorney Tankersley, who then consented that the case against Mrs. Rebbeck also be continued because it would be useless to try one case at one time and the other at a different time.

When these external influences attack the complexion, the natural means is to remove the spoil by external means. Ordinary soap and water will do this. It will actually absorb the weather-beaten particles, and you will have a brand new complexion, a new skin. The exquisitely beautiful and youthful complexion thus acquired, comes so easily without harm or discomfort, that you can try it at any time, and should not miss this simple treatment. Get an ounce of mercurial was at any drug store, approved by the Surgeon General, and use it as follows: Wash your face with it of mornings. This will not fail in any case. To quickly remove wrinkles, signs of age and age, bathe the face occasionally in a solution of one part of mercurial dissolved in 10 parts of water. The germs will disappear.
