

Life Insurance Companies

They Are Closely Observing Public Health Conditions

An examining physician for one of the life insurance companies, in an interview on the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined, do not even suspect that they have the disease.

According to this it would seem that a medicine for kidneys, possessing real healing and curative properties, would be a blessing to thousands.

Dr. Kilmer & Co., Birmingham, N. Y., who prepare Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the well known kidney liver and bladder remedy, claim that judging from evidence received from druggists everywhere who are constantly in touch with their customers, and also indisputable proof in the form of grateful testimonial letters from thousands of reliable citizens, this preparation is remarkably successful in sickness caused by kidney and bladder troubles.

Personal Ambition. Personal ambition is a quite honorable motive. The desire for approval and praise is something which nobody should despise. But a man should not make everything upon that; otherwise, when his work fails to obtain recognition he is disappointed.

SAME OLD WASTE OF TIME AT START

EFFORTS OF PREVIOUS LEGISLATURE TO HASTEN MATTERS FRUITLESS.

PRECEDENTS FOLLOWED IN MATTER OF EMPLOYEES

System of Clerks and Committees About as Good as Can Be Devised—Wet and Dry Skirmish Only Sham Battle and Jockeying For Position Has Something Else Back of It.

Special to Times-Republican.

Des Moines, Jan. 12.—The well laid and carefully wrought out plans of the Thirty-fifth general assembly for reducing the waste time at commencement of sessions by coupling up the preliminaries a little closer, went all to pieces when confronted with a legislative body of 153 members, a majority of them wholly unfamiliar with public business.

The inauguration will take place on Tuesday afternoon, with a program of music in addition to the address by the governor, and the evening the customary public reception in the rooms of the governor.

Following precedents. Governor Clarke read his address to the legislature yesterday in a clear and decisive manner, emphasizing some portions far more than would appear on the printed copy, and he was given the closest attention.

The matter of organization of the legislature follows very closely the precedents of the past, in the matter of helpers, employes, clerks, committees and all that pertains to the physical organization of the two houses.

Sham Battle Ends.

Now that the reformers have fired their big guns and the governor has done some firing upon the forts, and sufficient time has elapsed to show something of the real lineup in the legislature, it may be worth while to disclose what really is back of the sparring for position in the legislature.

There has been a lively scrap on in the senate over committee chairmanships. It has seemed strange to some that there should be so much controversy over the chairmanship of appropriations, a certainly undesirable place, who is fairly entitled to the place by every consideration that can be mentioned.

No Use to Try and wear out your cold—it will wear you out instead.

Thousands keep on suffering Coughs and Colds through neglect and delay.

Why make yourself an easy prey to serious ailments and epidemics as the result of a neglected cold? Coughs and colds sap your strength and vitality unless checked in the early stages. Dr. King's New Discovery is what you need—the first dose helps. Your head clears up, you breathe freely and you feel so much better.

who hold over are Allen, Francis and Miller. President Harding's point of view is that the senate who are not in harmony with the plans of the old committee.

The importance of the chairmanship of the appropriations committee comes from the fact that it will probably decide the complexion and character of this retrenchment and reform committee.

Senator Savage probably would not agree to all the bills that the retrenchment and reform committee has prepared. Either of the others mentioned for the place would be on the committee. Just what Senator Mattes was, and he was ardently for the reform program.

It is already evident that there are going to be two schools of "reformers" active, or at least more than one line of suggestions as to how to carry out the proposals to revolutionize the executive branches of government and put in a time clock; the other is to make some material reduction in the expenses of the legislative branch and changes in the executive and judicial branches.

It is pretty certain the house end of the retrenchment and reform committee will take a different view of what to reform and where to begin from in the last house.

But the "wet" vs. "dry" skirmish in only a sham; the real fight for control of committees has relation to something else. It will pay to bear this in mind and watch the outcome.

Some surprise was expressed that the governor did not touch upon "capitol extension" in his message. But that is an accomplished fact and nothing need be said by way of advice to the legislature.

Printed pamphlet copies of the governor's message were at the state house ready for distribution when the governor was delivering his address.

Senator Enger will introduce a bill to bring about greater effectiveness in legislation. It will contemplate a session of the legislature each year, but limited as to time.

The suggestion of open committee meetings, as made in the message of the governor, has been considered before, but always the members object to the publicity. It was considered seriously at the last session in the house, but nothing came of it.

The democratic side of the house will not stand with Allan Kane of Dubuque, floor leader, on the liquor question. The fact is apparent from conversations with several of the dry sympathizers among the democratic representatives.

"The train this year is better equipped than ever before," was the sweeping declaration made this morning by Mr. Estel. "This year we will carry a large plaster of Paris cow to be used in demonstrating the milking machines. The cars will be made absolutely dark on account of charis hung on the side of the car. The train will carry a lighting plant, installed by the Armstrong Manufacturing Company. In addition we will have two farm systems, model barns showing cupolas, ventilation, etc."

"Among the most important features of the trip will be the boys' and girls' milk record contest. This contest is open to the young people of the state and is being made for the purpose of encouraging boys and girls in testing cows. A little pamphlet has been printed by the Iowa State Dairy Association giving the conditions of becoming a contestant. Seven prizes are offered, the first of which is a purebred Guernsey, Jersey or Holstein bull calf. The work of contestants will be scored as follows: Accuracy, 25 per cent; number of cows, 15 per cent; neatness, 20 per cent; completeness of detail, 20 per cent; essay, 20 per cent.
