CREAMERY TO FORM COW TESTING CLUB

FIRST ASSOCIATION OF ITS KIND IN COUNTY TO BE ORGANIZED AT CLEMONS.

MINERVA VALLEY CREAMERY HAS PROSPEROUS YEAR

Declares 25 Per Cent Dividend, Amounting to $500—Twenty-Six Members Arrange to Organize Club to Test Dairy Animals Regularly—State Center Creamery Elects.

The first cow testing association in the county will probably be organized at Clemmons. Plans for this step in progressive dairying were taken at the annual meeting of the Minerva Valley Creamery Association, held at Clemmons Tuesday afternoon. A committee was named by H. H. Schaper, president of the creamery, to arrange for the organization, which is to be formed with a membership of twenty-six.

Arrangements will be made with Iowa State College, Ames, to send a man to test the cows, allowing one day for testing each member's herd.

Has Very Prosperous Year.

The Minerva Valley Creamery Association had a very prosperous year in 1914, according to the reports of officers and of business done.

The creamery paid $50,672.75 to patrons for cream, paying an average of 25 1/2 cents a pound for butter fat. The total paid was almost $10,000 more than was paid for cream in 1913. The total expense for the creamery itself, were $4,483.49.

The creamery shipped $58,212.92 worth of butter, sold $2,040.36 worth at retail and gave $2,139.25 worth in exchange. The total creamery receipts were $4,483.49, including a balance on hand of $26.54.

Pays 25 Per Cent Dividend.

The cost of operating the creamery was $7,919.17, which included in addition to salaries and wages a long list of items of expense.

A dividend of $500 or 25 per cent on the stock was paid from the earnings of the creamery's hog feeding department. The creamery received $1,150.93 for hogs sold. It paid $7,327.54 for hogs and corn.

The creamery paid patrons $3,546.95 for eggs and it sold eggs for $3,568.59. The creamery shipped 865 cases, and paid patrons an average of $5.33 a case for eggs.

All of the old officers were elected. They are, President, H. H. Schaper; vice president, W. R. Moninger; treasurer, A. A. Arney; directors, Chris Schaper and Marian Perry.

Some interesting figures are shown in the creamery's annual business done by the creamery. In 1914 the creamery paid patrons $19,691.32 for cream, which was less than a third of the sum paid patrons for cream in 1914. The company is receiving about 20 per cent more cream just now than at the same time last year.

HAD SUCCESSFUL YEAR.

State Center Farmers' Creamery Association Holds Annual Meeting.

Officers were elected, and reports of the business of the year were given, at the annual meeting of the State Center Farmers' Creamery Association, held at State Center Tuesday.

That the association had a successful year was shown by the report of Ray Stouffer, manager. The association paid during the year $67,457.50 for cream, and shipped out butter worth $85,521.24. In addition to the amount shipped the association sold to home merchants $5,355.02 worth of butter, and $2,039.52 was received from sales to patrons. The hog account too showed a profit for the year.

George M. Reed was re-elected president of the association, F. C. Brown, secretary, and W. N. Gilbert, treasurer. The directors chosen were Chris Ekkers, northwest district; W. G. Nolta, north-at-large; Ed Fricke, re-elected from the northeast district; William Swickard, southeast; and the southwest; W. A. Ellis, south-at-large; August Hilleman, southeast.

The directors adopted a system of grading cream as to its quality, fixing 28 per cent as a standard of test, and agreed to pay a premium of 2 per cent per pound on the butter fat in excess of 28 per cent.

"HIGH JINKS."

Big Attraction Coming to the Odeon Monday Evening.

"High Jinks" the musical comedy which Jink Hamerstein will present at the Odeon Monday evening, concerns itself with a wonderful perfume that makes the grave gay, the stupid clever, the sick well, and everybody in general, hilarious. The first scene is Dr. Thorne's flower garden near Paris, the second at a French bathing resort in the forenoon, and the third at the same place on a moonlight evening. The action is not monopolized by one or two people, but shared by a large cast, all of whom are given funny things to do. Nor are there any cheap, low interest, and favorite tricks for bolstering up musical shows that have not enough life in their legitimate makeup to form an evening's entertainment. They are not needed in "High Jinks." There is a merry enough story in the plot, and the musical numbers that fall naturally in with the action furnish plenty of variation of the tuneful sort. A stolen kiss, wives pursuing husbands, and a comic Frenchman, wild for a duel are among the factors that complicate the plot. A handsomely endowed chorus of singing and dancing girls add zest to the festivities. Odeon.

Traffic Becoming Normal Again.

A marked falling off in passenger traffic between this city and nearby towns has been noticed the past two days, due to the difficulty of making any sort of connections on the trains.

Tuesday the Story City branch on the M. & St. L. had but four passengers when it came down in the morning, while the depot was almost deserted in the afternoon and evening. People from Gilman and other towns south of here on the M. & St. L. who could not get home for twenty-four hours Monday, did not venture out at all Tuesday, and as a result the trains were empty. The locals east and west on the Northwestern pulled in and out with vacant seats, while even the traveling men arranged things so they could stay over here for more than a day.

Students from Grinnell who were in Marshalltown and nearby towns over the week-end, and who they would never leave again, for they could not get back at all Monday. Normal service was practically resumed today, although the trains from the north were still late.

SCHOOL HOUSE BURNS.

Fire Destroys Vienna Township No. 4 Building Tuesday Night.

Fire Tuesday night completely destroyed the school house in district No. 4, Vienna township, four and one-half miles southeast of Conrad. All of the contents of the building were also destroyed, including the books of the pupils. The origin of the fire is unknown.

The loss on the building is fully covered by insurance, were there any claims filed against it, and one-half million dollars worth of improvements had been added to the building within the past year.

NO CREDITORS APPEAR.

Meeting of Those Whom Hardy Friend Owes Called—None Attends.

What was scheduled to be a meeting of creditors of Hardy Friend, was held before H. H. Whitaker, of Des Moines, referee in bankruptcy in the east court room this forenoon but no creditors appeared. Neither were there any claims filed against him, and no assets were discovered in the short examination to which Friend was subjected. Because no creditors appeared no trustee for the creditors was chosen. Friend filed a petition in bankruptcy in Des Moines a few weeks ago.

Mrs. Anna Ketchum, widow of Railroad Commissioner N. S. Ketchum, was today appointed administratrix of the estate of Mr. Ketchum. The appointment was made by the clerk of courts on the application of Mrs. Ketchum. The administratrix's bond was fixed at $1,200.

FRIEND WINS BY RULING.

Judge Cummings Holds A. M. Friend Did Not Compound a Felony When He Offered to Pay J. M. White Money to Save His Son, Hardy Friend.

A. M. Friend, did not compound a felony when he offered to pay J. M. White $2,000 to protect his son Hardy Friend from prosecution already begun against young Friend by White's daughter, Hazel, now Mrs. Hardy Friend. Such in substance was the meaning of the ruling of Judge Cummings in the district court Tuesday afternoon when he overruled a demurrer filed for White.

The defense pleaded for White against the effort of Friend's attorney to recover the $2,000 posted with H. J. Howe, president of the Fidelity Savings Bank, and still held by Howe, pending adjudication, was that Friend compounded a felony by offering to pay the $2,000 as a purchase price to stop prosecution. The court ruled to the contrary. This defense, which the court has ruled out, was the most important element of White's side of the case.

P. E. O. Starts Move to Furnish Room

Chapter BB, of P. E. O., has started a movement to interest the Women's organizations of the city, including the various clubs of the surrounding country and the women's organizations of the different local lodges, to furnish the ladies' parlor in the new Y. M. C. A. building. The P. E. O. took the initiative as it had a fund of $25, which it had planned to use for some good and worthy cause. The furnishing of the room, which will be a benefit to all women, seemed the most worthy project. Chapter BB hopes there will be a general response to their efforts and that the undertaking will be successful.

SPARKS IS ACQUITTED.

Jury Quickly Frees Pearl Sparks—Case Against Swain Dismissed.

One young man charged with "boot-legging" was quickly acquitted in the district court and another was freed of the same charge this forenoon. It took a jury only five minutes and one ballot to acquit Pearl Sparks, indicted for selling liquor. Sparks is only 19. Swain, indicted for the same charge, was to be tried next. County Attorney dismissed the indictment against Swain because the same witnesses who had failed to convince the jury in the Sparks case were to appear against Swain.
