

CAMPAIGN ENDED: ELECTION MONDAY

CITY ELECTION CAMPAIGN ENDS AS QUIETLY AS IT HAS BEEN CONDUCTED.

VOTE MAY BE LIGHT;
POLLS OPEN 7 TO 7

Altho Campaign Has Had No Noisy or Unusual Features, Candidates Have Been Doing Quiet and Persistent Work—Registration Boards to Be in Session Until 9 Tonight.

The municipal campaign was brought to an end today, and Monday the voters of the city will enter the third biennial election to elect a mayor and two members of the council. If the election is as quiet as the campaign, since the primary has been, the vote will probably be light as compared with other city elections.

Altho there has been a lack of noisy campaigning, there has been much quiet work done by candidates and their friends. There will have to be a very marked increase over the vote cast at the primary to equal the vote of two years ago, which was 2,880, or in 1911, when the vote at the city election was 3,106. It can hardly be said that this campaign has been as lively as the Millard-Jones campaign two years ago, or the first campaign under the commission plan of city government in 1911.

The candidates for election are A. D.
Meeker and Mayor I. S. Millard for mayor and Ed T. Austin, M. S. Mc-Farland, Councilman W. E. Nicholson and E. Z. Mack for the two places on the council.

The polling places will be open from 7 until 7 at the following places: First—122 East Main street.
Second—Central fire station.
Third—134 West Main.
Fourth—Street car waiting room.
Fifth—Fire station No. 2.

The registration boards will be in session at the above places until 9 o'clock tonight, and again election day at some point near the polls.

LISCOMB WEDDING.

Miss Mildred VanSlyke becomes Bride of Theron Denbow.
At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. VanSlyke, two miles west of Liscumb, was celebrated the marriage of their daughter Mildred to Theron Denbow Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. The simple ceremony was performed by Rev. W. P. Clark, of the Christian church, and the only guests were the relatives and the very intimate friends of the bride and groom. The bride's gown was white crepe de chine, trimmed with white lace. She carried a bouquet of roses.
A two-course supper was served by Misses Thelma Haggin and Josephine Roston and Carl Denbow and George VanSlyke. Mr. and Mrs. Denbow are both well known in the Liscumb neighborhood. Mrs. Denbow is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. VanSlyke.

She has been a teacher in the Liscumb schools.

ORDINANCE GOES OVER.

Proposed Municipal Law Governing Theaters to Be Up to New Council.
The proposed ordinance governing the arrangement of seats, aisles, exits, and other details of moving picture shows and theaters will not be passed by the present council. The time is now too short to put it thru to adoption, so it must go over until the council is reorganized Monday, April 6.
What then becomes of the ordinance will depend on what the new council wants to do with it. The draft of the ordinance was given to City Solicitor F. E. Northrup Monday to go over. He has not returned it to the council, which the law requires must lay the ordinance over for ten days between its passage to its second reading and its final adoption.

WHAT TO DO EASTER

Marshalltown Will Be Alive With Properly Tailored Suits Easter Sunday—Main Street Will Present a Picture of Fashion—Anthony Psenicka Well Represented by the Well Dressed Men.

Plan now what to do Easter. The best and latest advice is to be one of the crowd of well dressed men and women that are to be seen walking on Main street on Easter Sunday. If you want to be admired, as well as admire your own clothes, then you have better talk with Anthony Psenicka, the smart tailor of the city.

Mr. Psenicka builds the garments of the man of fashion right there in his own tailoring establishment. He personally looks after the cutting, the finish, the buttons, etc., of your suit. This careful tailor of years of experience as well as study of the present day styles, makes it unwise for you to select any other to cut and fit your suit.

When a man wants to be dressed properly, he wears tailored clothes, and when he wears tailored clothes he wants the very latest and he wants to know that they are cut and finished right—that means that Anthony Psenicka is his tailor. If you are not one of the many that know of the tailor, stop and see the very latest of this spring's fabrics that are now on display in the Psenicka show rooms, located at 120 East Main street. Mr.
Psenicka has on display both foreign and the American made woolsens of various patterns. You can be satisfied if you call on him. Anthony Psenicka.

The Fidelity Savings Bank, established in 1892, with twenty years' experience in handling savings accounts, offers unusually advantages to de-positors. This bank has paid 4 per cent interest on deposits since it was organized. One dollar starts an account.

HAPPENINGS OF INTEREST TWENTY- FIVE YEARS AGO IN MARSHALLTOWN

Friday, March 26, 1890.
"Sleighbells made the air merry this morning."
"Business houses closed up early last night on account of the storm."
"George Allen says he bagged seventeen ducks one morning this week between 4 and 5:30. This is subject to 90 per cent off."

"A large crowd came in from up the Story City branch this morning to see how badly Marshalltown was buried by the beautiful."

"L. R. Willard and Charles Hull, of the firm of Willard, Son & Co., returned from Carroll last night, where they made arrangements to put in a branch of their hide and tallow business in that thriving city. Mr. L. R.
Willard will have charge of it, and leaves Monday for his new field. His family will follow as soon as a residence place can be secured."

"Mrs. Rachel Johnson, aged 37, died of childbirth."
"Mrs. A. M. Austin died of consumption at her home, four miles southeast of the city."

"Messrs. Roy Meeker and Ernest Binford and Miss May Sherman, who have been attending college at Grinnell, came home last evening."

Saturday, March 29, 1890.
"Even those who are determined not to be surprised by March weather were astonished upon arising this morning to find a snowstorm raging.
Before noon, however, the signal service man got in his work, and the sun disappeared for interment."

"J. M. Knobloch, of Kingsley, and Miss Emma Henline, of Marion township, were granted a license to wed."
"Arend Anderson, aged 22, a Norwegian employe in the glucose works, died of pneumonia. His body was sent to Cambridge for interment."

Sunday, March 30, 1890.
"Oren B. Waite, 'the boy preacher,' appeared in different pulpits in the city. Mr. Waite was scheduled to speak each evening during the week at the Y. M. C. A. A brilliant future was predicted for the lad."

"Our boy—twelve pounds, and a candidate for alderman. Mr. and Mrs.
E. E. Downing." (Bert Downing, yeoman U. S. S. Milwaukee, Bremerton, Wash.)

"Old Sol should dissolve the snow banks. They don't make a pretty April dress for Mother Earth."

"Good bye old March. We part with you without a sigh or regret. We don't like you, so there."

"W. H. Hover, the crack hunter of Marietta, was in town today with two large swans which he succeeded in shooting yesterday. Mr. Hover has already bagged eleven geese this spring, and ducks 'too numerous to mention.'"

"Uncle Jesse Hole, aged 82, the father of our townsman, O. H. Hole, starts this evening for a two months' visit at his old home in Columbiana county, Ohio. His daughter-in-law, Mrs. D. E. Hole, accompanies him."

"Mr. Whinery's paper, the Centralia, Wash. Chronicle, of the 20th says:
"Mrs. C. J. Lander, of Marshalltown, Iowa, and her sister, Mrs. J. E. Whinery, arrived Thursday evening from San Francisco via steamer Columbia." The two ladies have been spending the winter at Pasadena, Cal., and departed of the Southern Pacific opening its line within a reasonable time."

"Mrs. A. M. Moore, of Rockton, died at her home of consumption."
"Mrs. W. B. Millhiser died of enlargement of the heart at the home of John Millhiser on East Linn street." "Mrs. J. L. Ingledue, aged 32, of Bromley, died as the result of childbirth."

"Officers of the Y. M. C. A. were elected at the annual meeting of the association as follows: President, B.
Brittain; vice president, W. F. Battie; recording secretary, E. S. Gifford; treasurer, S. R. McLeran; board of managers, A. E. Wilbur, J. W. Wells, C. E. Boardman, Sam McGrew, F. W.
Joeman, A. M. Miller, William Harper, R. S. Patten, J. B. Simmons, P. E.
Wanberg, C. W. McClure, and Charles Wassmer."

Tuesday, April 1, 1890.
"Did the small boy catch you napping?"

"The mercury indicated 27 above zero at an early hour."
"Oscar Hare of Vienna township, and Nettie M. White, of O'Brien county, were granted a license to wed."

"A meeting of young gentlemen interested in organizing a camp of the sons of veterans was held in the G.
A. R. hall last evening. Mr. J. G.
Brown, president, and set forth the purpose of the meeting and the objects of the order. At the close sixteen signed the charter, and others will be mustered for this purpose, so that there is a fair prospect that a camp will be organized."

"In anticipation of the departure of Mrs. Merritt Greene for her new home in Pennsylvania, her neighbors and friends, to the number of about forty-five, assembled at Mr. J. G. Trotter's home on Saturday evening, called her in, and made her the recipient of a surprise by presenting a token of their esteem. She was entertained at tea, together with her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Arey, who are visiting at her home, and afterwards, on behalf of the company, Mr. James Cammack presented her with a china chocolate set and an ornate set, with the good wishes of the company."

William Gorman, aged 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gorman, of Liberty township, and employed as night porter at the Windsor, died of inflammation of the kidneys and typhoid fever.
Wednesday, April 2, 1890.
"All bets on an early spring may as well be declared off."
"As this is the first of the month, and the proper time for such business, will the weather clerk please 'settle'?"

"One of the many amusing incidents of 'All Fools' day' was the fact that Mr. Will McConnell, advertising solicitor for the Times-Republican, was mistaken for one of the wax figures while standing in the show window of the museum in the old 'Red Lion' building yesterday. Mac was evidently trying to work the alleged image of Ex-President Cleveland for an 'ad' & w."

"Manager Everist, of the Marshalltown cornet band, is in receipt of a letter from Frank York stating that he will return here about the middle of May with three other 'crack cornet players, among them being Mr. Walker, whose proficiency is so well known.
This addition to the band will place it on the best footing it has ever known, and assures the organization and the city the most successful musical season of recent years."

Rehearsals began for the new home talent opera, "Powhatan," to be given under the direction of W. A. Baker, of Chicago, on April 10. The principals of the cast were chosen as follows: Pocahontas, Miss Nora Riegleman, of Des Moines; Oquawka, Mrs. B. A.
Morgan; Powhatan, Ed Beeson; Capt.
John Smith, Archie Cox, Jr.; Captain Rolfe, Harry Henderson; Black Eagle, W. A. Baker; Panther, Ed Welles; Serech Owl, Fred Way. Mrs. Ralph McBride had been chosen as accompanist.

Evans and Hoey's "A Parlor Match" pleased a large audience at the Odeon.
Thursday, April 3, 1890.
"The grass is starting up nicely as a result of the rain."

"The small boy, with the smaller string of the smallest kind of fish, is observed on the street now."

Laurel correspondence: "Ceil Rogers and Miss Sadie Ross went to Marshalltown a few days since and were married."

Taylor township correspondents:
"The young couple, Mr. and Mrs.
Breagan, nee Florence Wilson, were charivari at Marietta the night of their wedding as they returned to their future home. It is a barbarous custom, and none but disgraceful hoodlums would be guilty of such work."

Albion correspondents: "Mrs. Laura Devine was called to Mount Vernon to see her son Ed, who has been sick for some time."

Miss Addie Tingley, aged 24, died at the home of her brother, George A.
Tingley, of an abscess of the lungs, and following a long illness.
