JUDGE McCLAIN DEAD

FORMER MEMBER OF SUPREME COURT AND NOTED JURIST EXPIRES SUDDENLY.

VICTIM OF APOPLEXY IN HOME AT IOWA CITY

Long Chancellor of Law Department of State University and Author of Standard Works on Jurisprudence—Graduated From S. U. I. Law Department in 1873.

Special to Times-Republican.

Iowa City, May 25.—Judge Emlin McClain, one of Iowa's most noted jurists, died suddenly last night, a victim of apoplexy. Judge McClain was long connected with the state university, was a member of the Iowa supreme court for a number of years, and was the author of several works on law.

Mr. McClain was a native of Ohio, having been born at Salem Nov. 25, 1851. His father removed with his family to Iowa in 1855, locating in Tip-top. The son entered the state university at Iowa City in 1871, graduating from the law department in 1873. He studied law with Judge Wright in Des Moines, and became his private secretary when Wright became senator. In 1877 Mr. McClain began the practice of law in Des Moines and prepared "McClain's Annotated Statutes of Iowa," which became the standard code of Iowa. In 1881 he became professor of law in the state university and in 1890 was made chancellor. Legal works which gained recognition were compiled during his long and active legal career.

In 1904 he was appointed as one of the commissioners for Iowa to act with commissions from other states to recommend uniform laws on legal instruments, based on which recommendations laws were enacted in many states. He served as code commission of Iowa and in 1890 was nominated and elected as a member of the supreme court, on which he served many years. Two years ago Judge McClain went to California but soon returned to Iowa and to Iowa City.

RAILWAY PROJECT DISCUSSED.

Muscataine Hopes to Land Road Project in Illinois.

Muscataine, May 25.—Muscataine business men today turned an ear toward the Illinois rail project when representatives of the Chicago, Western Illinois and Iowa Railway Company spoke before the business men at the noon day luncheon. M. J. Healy who is promoting the project and Chief Engineer H. M. Mueller outlined the plans of the promoters. At the conclusion of the luncheon the railway committee of the Commercial club with Dr. E. G. Stein, E. L. McCollin, F. C. Vetter and J. L. Gieseler advised with Mr. Healy with a view of gaining some information as to the financial assistance which it is claimed has been extended by parties capable of bringing to a realization the vision of years.

Mr. Healy in speaking at the close of the luncheon stated that it was proposed to bring the line from Arpee, Ill., to a point opposite Muscatine and if the proper financial assistance is extended by Muscatine to bring it across the Mississippi here. He reported that the location survey was now being made and that he had credentials which would recommend his proposition. That Muscatine would be expected to furnish $250,000 to $275,000 to bring the road across the river was a further statement.

When asked if in his opinion the Muscatine high bridge could sustain railway traffic he declared that the extensive work would be required but that the present bridge might be fitted out at a lower figure than it would require to build another bridge. He estimated that the cost of remodeling the present structure would be about $750,000. Mr. Healy when asked as to the parties backing the project intimated that the Sante Fe road was interested in the proposition.

NEW BANK AT FORT DODGE.

Trust and Savings Institution to Be Established—Officers Chosen.

Fort Dodge, May 25.—A trust and savings bank was organized by Fort Dodge men today with a paid up capital stock of $100,000. Fort Dodge has never had a trust company and the organization of this new bank is the result of an insistent demand by the business interests of this community for the organization of a trust and savings bank. The new company is organized largely thru the efforts of E. G. Larson, the president of the Fort Dodge Savings Bank.

Mr. Larson has very extensive banking interests and he has responded to the demand of the community and organized the new institution. All of the officers have not yet been selected, but it is understood that the personnel of the new officers of the company will embrace several of the most successful bankers and business men of the community.

The quarters for the new bank have not yet been selected although three sites east of Eighth street are under consideration and options have been obtained on two pieces of property.

UNKNOWN MAN KILLED.

Body of Well-Dressed Youth Found Near Marion.

Cedar Rapids, May 25.—The sight of the body of a man, with both legs cut off, beside the tracks in a pool of water was the gruesome vision that came to Engineer McCormick as he was pulling his extra gravel train into Marion from the east, early Sunday morning.

He was a young man, possibly 25 years of age, with brown hair, blue eyes, clean shaven and was dressed in good clothing. He was clean, his hands did not show the marks of toll, but some of his clothing was such as a laboring man might wear.

In his pockets were found a knife, a razor, a bottle partly full of Glen Elk whisky from the E. W. Youngs saloon, $15.35 in money and a pipe and some tobacco. He wore a dark gray felt hat on the band of which was stamped the initials "H. J. M." a pair of dark trousers, two blue shirts, a blouse, a dark blue coat, work socks and work shoes with hob-nailed heels. Many traces passed over the spot

DIVORCES YOUNG WOMAN WEDDED AGAINST HER WILL

Member of Latter Day Saints Who Forced Girl to Wed Because of Vision Lost Bride and Real Lover Will Claim Her—Wedding Celebrated in Lamoni, Iowa.

Lamoni, May 25.—What more can women want in the way of rights? In a divorce suit, the result of a marriage solemnized at this place, a Kansas City judge has held that even though the man is commanded by God in a vision to marry a certain girl, that girl has the power of veto.

Henry Rushfelt is a young banker of Independence, Kansas, and is incidentally a member of the Church of Latter Day Saints, commonly called Mormonism. He is a young man without the guidance of prophecy, second-sight or visions. Henry Rushfelt was not that young man. However, he met Miss Keown and subsequent meetings convinced him that she must be won even if special revelation should be sent at that place, and without the revelation came. He was commanded by divine will to marry Miss Keown. She was so informed, but held to the belief that the revelations of Rushfelt were apocryphal in nature, not proclaimed by the elders as authentic and therefore not binding on a Latter Day Saint, especially as coming from a prophet not even in the minor league class.

At this point of the addition to mystical lore, Lamoni became prominent. Miss Keown has an uncle residing at this place, an adherent of the Latter Day Saints and believer in visions, even by amateurs. She was persuaded to come and found Rushfelt in waiting. Her uncle applied the pressure of belief and she consented to be married. But as the revelation went no further than that, she returned to the city and, informed of the young man of her own private dreams what had happened, and instituted suit for divorce from Britt. At a meeting of the town council last Monday evening the matter of the new water tank was taken up. It was decided to advertise for bids for a wooden tank on the old tower and also for a wooden tank on a new tower to be twenty feet higher than the old one. Gladbrook. The Iowa Railway and Light Company which has a franchise in our town, and also obtained with the franchise the financial aid of the city to the extent of $12,000 city bonds being voted to them to assist in the building of the line into Gladbrook. Clarion. The biggest verdict ever given in a slander case in Wright county was awarded G. M. Manning in his suit against B. V. Meade, when plaintiff was given $3,000. Alta. Anton Hanson, of this place, has received word from Ottawa, Canada, that his brother, Peter E. Hanson, was wounded while with the Canadian volunteers in France as a British soldier. Mr. Hanson got cards from his brother each week until April 18, but from then no word has been received. Peter Hanson was employed on the Canadian Pacific railway when the war broke out. He enlisted at once and was with the first contingent to leave Canada for the front.

Fort Dodge. Thomas Clark, aged 55, a resident of Fort Dodge for thirty years, is dying at the hospital from a fall received Saturday, when he was loading beled hair on a fifteen foot platform at the American Cement and Plaster Company's plant. The foreman, his son, had especially cautioned the workmen about lifting the bales to the platform and had walked to another part of the shed. He looked around just in time to see his father loose his balance, catch a rope, which broke, and find himself fall head first on the cement floor.

STORM CONDITIONS HAMPERING WIRELESS SERVICE WITH GERMANY

New York, May 25.—Wireless communication between the U. S. and Germany has been seriously handicapped and probably will continue so until about July 1 by the static conditions prevailing in the North Atlantic at this time of the year.

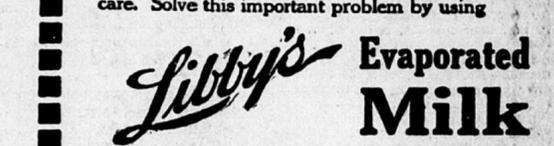

The wireless station at Sayville, L. I., the receiving station of the Atlantic Communication Company, the German wireless concern, has within the last week or two been isolated from the sending plant at Nauen, Germany, it was learned today, and the same situation exists at Tuckerton, N. J., the sending station for messages to Germany. Such messages as are received at Sayville are for the most part fragmentary or often impossible to decipher.

The electrical activities of the Aurora Borealis with electrical storms over the wireless routes are the cause of the difficulty it is explained and may be expected to continue several weeks. This means that until normal conditions again prevail unobstructed communication between Germany and the outside world will be limited. The news agencies meantime have been obliged to depend upon London for regular transmission of the daily German war office statement.
