RAIL EARNINGS GROW

IOWA LINES MAKE MORE MONEY DURING 1914 THAN IN PREVIOUS YEARS.

STATE COUNCIL SECRETARY COMPILES FIGURES AS PROOF

Net Earnings Increased $3,000,000 Compared to 1913—Chicago & Northwestern Leads in Increased Profits—Interurbans Increase Mileage But Fail to Gain in Net Revenues.

Special to Times-Republican.

Des Moines, July 1.—Gross earnings by Iowa railroads increased more than $2,000,000 in 1914 as compared to 1913 and net earnings about $3,000,000, according to the figures compiled by E. A. Swan, assistant secretary of the executive council, from the reports filed with that office. The total gross earnings of Iowa railroads this past year were $2,950,000, as compared to $2,750,000 in 1913. The total net earnings were $2,992,491 in 1914, as compared to $2,663,987 in 1913.

Not only have the roads increased their earnings but they have been able to cut down on their operating expenses as a whole. For all of the Iowa roads their operating expenses the past year amounted to $86,557,724 as compared to $87,151,858 a year ago.

The Chicago & Northwestern leads in net earnings the past year, showing $926,456 as their net profits during the year as against $735,755 in 1913. The total net earnings to the amount of $4,294,830. These figures, as are all those given above, are for the Iowa business of the roads only.

The Iowa railroads paid more taxes last year than in the year preceding, the total taxes being $3,596,436 in 1914 as against $3,128,504.

The interurbans have increased their mileage from 492 miles to 477 miles but have not made any great increase in net profits. The gross earnings for 1914 amounted to $2,996,394 as against $2,711,213 for the previous year. The operating expenses for the last year were $2,066,653.73 as against $1,799,954.61. The net earnings for 1914 amounted to $939,319.67 as against $923,258.72. The earnings per mile therefore showed a decrease of nearly $109 per mile. The interurbans paid taxes to the amount of $1,749,775 as against $3,369,894 for the previous year.

The committee on retirement and relief of the legislature is due to have a meeting here tomorrow for regular business. This will be the first meeting of the committee since the legislative session closed.

The committee is materially changed in personnel from that of two years ago, only three or four of the old members remaining. Near the close of the last session the committee made a report on its work and accomplishments showing what had been done to conserve the interests of the state, following which the committee was continued and was granted the needed appropriations to carry on the work.

The main purpose of the meeting of the committee at this time, so it is understood, will be to give state officials an opportunity to appear before the committee and to present matters relating to their offices. In case there are matters that were overlooked by the legislature the committee has full legislative powers to fix things up the way they should be.

It is probable that as the result of the inquiry and report of the board of parole into the case of Earl Lindsay, of Jasper county, serving a life sentence for a statutory crime, the executive power will in due time be expressed to release him. The case is one which aroused a great deal of discussion and developed differences of opinion, and it is certain that a great many excellent persons who have some knowledge of the case feel that Lindsay has been sufficiently punished. The parole board was of the opinion that Lindsay is the man who, at the time of his incarceration was making good headway in aeronautics and who since his skill and genius in a useful way by supervising the making of the motor cars at Port Madison.

After July 4 Iowa people will have an opportunity to watch the doings of their city councils more closely than ever before. After that date these bodies are required to publish the proceedings. The former law, providing that such proceedings should be printed when so ordered by the council, did not result in the publicity intended, so that the last legislature amended the law making it compulsory. The council will hereafter have no choice in the matter. All of the proceedings must be printed, including the list of claims allowed and showing from what funds they were appropriated.

The state board of control organized at a meeting held today and W. J. Dixon, of Sac City, was made chairman of the board. The matter of letting the coal contracts was given consideration.

School Money Used to Feed Steers and Hogs, Thru Medium of Banks, While Funds Properly Used Would Give Rural Districts Greatly Improved Schools—Says Preachers May Help.

Special to Times-Republican.

Ames, July 1.—"When Iowa farmers tend to their knitting and see that township school boards spend the school taxes on the country schools and not to feed steers and hogs by furnishing money for the banks to do business with, then we will have better rural schools in Iowa."

That was the way O. J. Rikansrud, of Amsterdam township, Hancock county, summed up his experiences before the members of the rural life conference at Ames. Mr. Rikansrud described himself as a "plain citizen" who decided that his children were entitled to a good education in their own home schools. He probed into matters and found that the same school taxes rightly spent would pay salaries to first grade teachers, instead of poor ones; would buy adequate school equipment and good school books. Now, he declared, Mr. Burdick, graduate of the Des Moines high school, in June came from farm families which had moved to Des Moines to give their children a "better education," and only seven out of the seventy-five boys and girls had any notion of going back to the farm. He talks about the hard work of the country and the fun in the city. It's time we were talking about the fun and delights of the country," said she.

In This Year's Goodyear Tires

Here are amazing facts: Goodyear Fortified Tires contain five costly features found in no other tire. They have other features not common.

If we omitted those features, this year's probable output would cost us $1,635,000 less. We could add that much to our profits. And you would never know it until troubles came.

This year's improvements alone will cost us $500,000 yearly. Most of this goes into extra rubber—all into Goodyear.

Users Save $5,000,000

Yet our 1915 price reduction—made February 1st—will save Goodyear users about $5,000,000 this year. And that was our third reduction in two years, totaling 45 per cent.

These extra features—used by us alone—will save users millions more.

That's why Goodyears dominate. They have long outsold any other. They are gaining new users faster than we can supply them. We hope, for your own sake, that they'll soon win you. Any dealer will supply you.

Keokuk.
When a person contracts for a well, he does not contract merely for a hole in the earth. Neither does a hole in the ground which, after three or four weeks contains four or five inches of water, meet the definition of a well, in the mind of James Burrows, Justice of the peace, who decided in the case of B. F. Weldon vs. Charles Best in favor of the defendant. Weldon brought action in the court of Justice Burrows seeking to recover $25 which he claimed Best owed him for sinking a well. Best refused to pay the amount asked by Weldon, saying that Weldon had guaranteed him "plenty of water." Best did not think the four or five inches that was in sight came within this definition. Justice Burrows agreed with Best.

Federal and state investigation of the local milk supply being conducted here now in conjunction with local authorities has developed, so far, two facts that are of importance to the users of milk, and that includes everyone, in this locality; that the milk contains large amounts of dirt bearing bacteria of injurious nature; and that the milk ranks high in the average of butter fat and solids. Edward H. Goodnow, of St. Paul, Minn., in the United States food and drug inspection laboratory, in charge of a party of sixteen men including both government and state inspectors, bacteriologists, chemists, milk specialists, and others, have for two weeks been inspecting, investigating, and testing the supply, milk depots, and dairies in Keokuk and Hamilton. The work is both educational and regulatory. The purpose is to better the supply of milk thru educational work and by means of corrective measures thru prosecutions where this is found necessary.

Griswold.
Saturday afternoon Jack Lawson had an accident that came very near resulting fatally. He was working with one of his colts, and had a knife in his hand. The colt kicked at him and striking his hand, caused the knife to be thrust into his thigh. He did not think much about it, and went on with his work. He finally mastered the colt, and was riding it, when John Swanson came along and noticed blood trickling down his leg. Mr. Swanson took him to the office of Jones and Wyatt. An operation of a serious nature was performed. The knife had cut a four or five inches long to the bone. As it happened none of the intestinal organs were ruptured, but the knife thrust missed the large artery and vein by a small fraction of an inch. This fact made it difficult to clean the wound properly. Drs. Jones and Wyatt cauterized the gash thoroughly and sewed it up. Mr. Lawson is almost out of danger now, and his only risk is infection. He can consider himself quite fortunate, for death from loss of blood would surely have resulted had either the artery or the vein been ruptured.
