COMMISSIONER BARNEY TELLS WESTERN MEN BUSINESS CAN NOT BE OVERDONE.

INCREASE OUTPUT BY AGGRESSIVE ADVERTISING

Just Enough Drudgery in Business to Keep Many Out of It and Overcoming Is Thus Prevented - Best Means of Marketing Crops Is Through High Class Dairy Herds.

Special to Times-Republican.

Des Moines, Aug. 3.-In an address before the national convention of food and dairy commissioners at Berkeley, Cal., today, W. B. Barney, Iowa commissioner, declared that dairying will never be overdone on the American farm. Dairymen, however, should increase the output of their products by advertising and aggressive promotion, he declared.

"We frequently find people who claim the dairy business is going to be overdone," said Commissioner Barney, "but there are several reasons why this may not happen. In the first place there is just enough drudgery about it so that many will not take it up on that account. We know that milk and dairy products are relatively cheaper than any other human food. On this, the average citizen is not aware. I think we as commissioners should so far as possible disseminate this knowledge. If the dairymen of this country had used one-half of the money advertising their products that has been spent by the people putting cereal products on the market, the sale of dairy products would be increased 25 per cent.

"Through the high class dairy cow we have the best means of marketing and crops raised on high priced lands and at the same time conserve the fertility of the soil, which from now on is going to be a most important factor, especially in the older sections of our country.

"We believe that we as commissioners and representatives of the various states of this great nation are, or will soon be confronted with the problem of how we may at least do our part in placing on the tables of this country a daily ration at a minimum cost. It is my idea that when this is all worked out dairy products will appear on the menu oftener than they have."

He said that success in dairy work depended entirely upon the old cow. She is the keystone to the entire superstructure.

"We know from statistics," he continued, "that the average cow is not yielding a profit to the farmer. That is, if she were charged with her feed and labor and credited with her product she would show little, if any, profit. Better cows and more intelligent feedings would change all this. The dairy work over a great share of our country is considered too much as a side line and does not receive the attention that it should for its proper development."

Now that such a large territory in Iowa is dry all kinds of so-called soft drinks are being put on the market and scarcely a week passes but what inquiries come into the office of the attorney general as to whether or not such and such a drink contains alcohol and whether or not it is legal to sell it. As a matter of fact drinks which contain even a small percent of alcohol come under the ban of the law.

Many of these drinks in question have been sent in for analysis. One percent alcohol which is almost as much as beer as that beverage contains 4 percent alcohol.

The Iowa State Bankers' Association here has received word that a gentleman who has been signing his name George C. Bell has been forging checks in this state recently. He claims to be working for the Pen Mar Distilling Company, Waynesboro, Pa., and he has passed several checks in which this company's name is forged. The Pennsylvania company says that no such man is in its employ.

INVADE COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Illinois Militiamen Come From West and Hospital Corps From South.

Council Bluffs, Aug. 3.-Persons entering about the Northwestern depot Sunday night have imagined that the United States government had declared war and had ordered a general mobilization of its forces. The first regiment of the Illinois national guard and the ambulance corps and hospital train passed through the city during the course of the day, but as their coming was entirely peaceful but few persons were aware of the fact that the city had been invaded. Ambulance corps No. 2 of Kansas City and a field hospital from St. Joseph arrived in the city early Sunday morning. The ambulance corps and left at 8:10 o'clock over the Northwestern for Sparta, Wis., where they will attend the annual encampment and summer maneuvers of state hospital corps. Regular army officers are in charge of this camp and give the military instruction. Capt. W. L. Geist was in charge of the ambulance corps of Kansas City which carried forty men and four officers.

In the first regiment of the Illinois national guard, which left Council Bluffs at 8:30 o'clock Sunday evening, were the Northwestern there were about 400 officers and men. The militiamen were returning from San Francisco, where they had taken part in the exhibitions.

It had been expected that Mayor Thompson and his party of Chicago would return with the militiamen, but Mr. Thompson returned home last week, cutting his stay on the coast short in order to hurry home to give his attention to relief work following the Eastland disaster.

The militiamen were traveling in troop train No. 2 and were running almost a day behind their schedule owing to delays caused by washouts and soft tracks.

MUSCATINE MELON CROP BEHIND

Will Be From Three Weeks to Month Late.

Muscataine, Aug. 3.-Muscataine melons will be from three weeks to a month late in reaching the market, if at all. Muscataine is noted for the size and flavor of its melons and the news of the crop's shortage will be a big disappointment. Grown on the sands that overlie the Mississippi river and on the islands, their growth was halted by the rains and the cold weather. The plants were started promptly on time, but when the rains and cold weather came the melons never even made progress. Thousands of them may never reach the market. Many are about the size of cucumbers.

There are over 200 of these street mail boxes. News of the burglary every mail box lock in the city had been changed. Every post-office and mail carrier in the city has a skeleton key that will open every box lock. Dismissal from service is penalty for the loss of his key by any post-office employe and there is no appeal from the order. SCHOOL FOR POLICE

DAVENPORT OFFICERS TO BE TAUGHT MODERN METHODS OF SAVING LIFE.

Y. M. C. A. TEACHER TO GIVE INSTRUCTIONS

Methods of Resuscitation to Be Shown, Including Use of Pulmotor-School Grows Out of Criticism of Department For Failure to Try to Revive People Taken From Water.

Davenport, Aug. 3.-Davenport's police officers are going to school to be taught the modern methods of resuscitation. The announcement came following a conference Saturday between Mayor Alfred Mueller and Police Chief Hans Schramm.

The school will open this evening at 5 o'clock under the personal direction of O. E. Johnson, physical director of the Y. M. C. A. The officers, forty-five in all, will see Mr. Johnson use methods of bringing back life to a drowned man.

In connection with the school Chief Schramm will ask the city council for a pulmotor. The chief declared today it had been almost impossible for his officers to attempt life saving under former conditions.

In a conference the chief and Mr. Johnson discussed the school. It was decided to instruct the night shift between 5 and 6 o'clock and the day shift from 6 to 7 o'clock.

The officers will be taught every detail in connection with the attempt to bring back life to a drowned person. They will be taught how to lay the body to expel the water and how to press in the ribs to create respiration.

Police Chief Schramm said his department had been criticized for their apparent lack of attempt to save people dragged from the water within an hour after they were drowned. With the aid of the Y. M. C. A. school and a pulmotor he is confident the department can save lives.

Heretofore the chief declares he had had to hunt over the city for a pulmotor and when one was found it would be too late to use it. If one is purchased by the city it will be kept at the patrol barn with other life-saving apparatus.

BOY MAY HAVE DROWNED.

Clothes of Lad Found on River Bank But Owner is Missing.

Waterloo, Aug. 3.-Whether a boy was drowned in the Cedar river near the bathing beach some time Sunday is a question that is causing considerable anxiety to Park Commissioner Hacker and McClintock and members of the police department. A suit of clothes, shoes and cap worn by a boy between 10 and 12 years of age were discovered in the bath house last night after all bathers had left the river and every effort has been made to find some trace of the owner of the clothing no clue has been forthcoming that would solve the mystery.

A white waist linen trousers, gray cap, tan shoes, a pair of stockings and a suit of underwear were left in the bath house. The clothes are in good condition and it is not believed the articles would have been discarded. The clothes were not checked in, but were left in a part of the bath house set apart for those who do not desire to take advantage of the checking privileges. Although every effort is made to keep all bathers within the limits established by the park commissioners it is sometimes difficult to impress upon the bathers the necessity of complying with the rules.

Special to Times-Republican. Mrs. Mary E. Franse, whose address is West Point, Nebr., Box 411, has written to the Pinus laboratories a very strong endorsement of Fruitalia and Traxo. In her letter, Mrs. Franse says: "About ten years ago I was about to undergo an operation for gall-stones when I heard of your medicine. Dreading an operation above everything I determined to try Fruitalia and Traxo and have never been sorry I did so, as I have never been troubled with gall-stones since."

Fruitalia is a powerful lubricant for the intestinal organs, and one dose is usually sufficient to give ample evidence of its efficacy. It softens the congested masses, disintegrates the hardened particles that occasion so much suffering, and expels the accumulated waste to the intense relief of the patient. Following a dose of Fruitalia, Traxo should be taken three or four times a day in order to rebuild and restore the system that has been weakened and run down by constant suffering. It is a splendid tonic, acting on the liver and stomach most beneficially.
