

It Ruins Hair to Wash It With Soap

Soap should be used very sparingly. If at all, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

ODEON SEASON TO OPEN ON SEPT. 16

"THE LADY IN RED," CHICAGO OPERETTA SUCCESS, SECURED FOR TWO NIGHTS.

PRELIMINARY SEASON TO BEGIN TUESDAY, AUG. 24

"The Merry Burlesquers," of Columbia Burlesque Wheel, First of Forty Burlesque Attractions For Season—Buses Secure Only Week of One-Night Stands of Entire Season.

Preparations for the formal opening of the 1915-16 season of the Odeon have been completed, and Thursday, Sept. 16, has been fixed as the date. The attraction will be "The Lady in Red," the operetta success that is now appearing at George M. Cohan's Grand Opera House, Chicago.

The cast for the attraction here will be the same as now appearing in the operetta, including the six principals, Valli Valli, Ed Martindale, Will Phillips, Glenn Hall, Gertrude Vanderbilt, and Jack Hoppid.

Manager A. J. Busby has booked "The Lady in Red" for two nights—Thursday and Friday. The dates come in county fair week, and an experiment is to be tried this year differing from the custom heretofore. It has been the policy to play a separate show during fair week, and instead of this the management is going to provide a first-class attraction for two nights, with the idea of affording visitors to the city an opportunity to see a show that they could not see at home. The company numbers fifty people.

Burlesque Once Each Week. Another new undertaking for the approaching season will be the introduction of high class burlesque once each week. Busby Bros. have secured for the season the attractions of the Columbia Burlesque Wheel, which puts out forty shows for as many weeks. Thirty-nine weeks are week stands and the other weeks taken by "The Burlesques" for their four houses—Marshalltown, Waterloo, Oskaloosa, and Quincy, Ill. The other three nights of the week are to be placed by the Busby Bros. at any points they may desire.

The first of these burlesque shows, "The Merry Burlesquers" will open the preliminary season next week, on Tuesday, Aug. 24. Each of the shows carries about forty people and a carload of scenery. Manager Busby says that he can guarantee absolutely that the attractions of the forty weeks will be clean, both in word and action. They will be much the same as musical comedies, with vaudeville interspersed.

Savage's "Sari" Sept. 30. Another big musical show of high class has been booked for Thursday, Sept. 30. It is Henry W. Savage's "Sari," which is to open in Chicago next week. The company numbers about sixty-five people, including an orchestra.

Many Attractions Booked. Busby Bros. have booked a great many good attractions for the season, but in some instances they are contingent upon whether or not the companies are sent out. W. L. Busby, of Quincy, who has recently returned from New York where he has been looking after the bookings for the "Sari" says that the outlook for good shows is better now than a year ago this time, when many shows were not sent out because of the tightening of the money market due to the European war.

Several of the New York successes of the present season are included among the bookings. They include "Tain Bel's," a clever farce by Salisbury Field and Margaret Mayo, which is put out by Selwyn & Co., and has been running at the Harris Theater, New York all summer. It has enjoyed a big run in New York.

"It Pays to Advertise," one of the best up-to-the-minute comedies produced in many seasons, produced by Cohan & Harris, and on all summer at the George M. Cohan Theater, New York, is another of the New York successes booked. This is a show that should be seen by every business man, and especially the business man who does not believe that "it pays to advertise." Every statement made in the argument of the play is a fact backed by figures that can be substantiated, and the play is worked out in a most clever manner. Another Cohan & Harris production booked is "On Trial," which has been on all summer at the Candler, New York.

Still another New York success that has been booked is "Sinners," a powerful play with a strong moral lesson, which has been running at the Playhouse in New York all season. This is a William A. Brady production and is well worth seeing.

Resident Manager J. A. Rachford, of the Odeon, will come to the city Monday to look after the details of getting the theater ready for the opening.

BIG CO-OPERATIVE MEETING.

Farmers Gather at McCallsburg to Hear Address Upon Co-operation. Monday night of this week an enthusiastic mass meeting of stockholders and farmers in the vicinity of McCallsburg was held in the opera house, to discuss co-operation pertaining to the products of the farmer and stock producers. The theme of the meeting was to devise ways and means for the farmer to secure a better price for the livestock which he produced and wherein he could participate in the profits after it left the tail-end-gate of his wagon and up to the time in which the meat reached the consumer's table. All of these possibilities were fully and clearly set forth by the speakers to the satisfaction of every one present.

lized system. He said that he had taken stock in the British Co-operative Packing Company of Marshalltown, which he had visited the plant, and found that every statement made to him by the representative of the company, were verified by his investigations and that he was exceptionally well pleased, and advised his friends and neighbors to join hands in furthering the biggest proposition and movement which has ever been made possible for the stock raisers to share in the profits and enjoy a proper compensation for the cattle and hogs which they produce. This result can only be gained thru co-operation.

The first speaker was Mr. R. A. Hall, of Marshalltown, who is vice president of the British Co-operative Packing Company. Mr. Hall spoke on the various benefits of co-operation and its successful operation in various states in this country and in Europe, and showed where the farmer was receiving a bigger price for the product which he produced. In addition to this, he also shared in the profit made by his co-operative company. Some very interesting figures were set forth, one of which was the price received for butter. The farmer is getting, at the present time thru his co-operative creameries, 28, 29, 30 and 31 cents per pound for butter fat. And figuring the retail price of butter, he receives about 80 cents on every dollar of butter. In fact, while the middleman gets but 20 cents, and the farmer don't have to churn the butter. With the present method of handling livestock the farmer receives, after figuring shrinkage, about 40 cents on every dollar of meat retail, while the middlemen gets 60 cents. And this is after deducting the shrinkage in killing and curing the meat. He also went into detail in explaining the organization of the British Co-operative Packing Company, and how the profits would be returned to the stock holding producers pro rata based upon the amount of raw material sold to the plant. And also gave a detailed description of the British & Co's packing plant of Marshalltown, which is to be taken over by the new British Co-operative Packing Company.

The next speaker introduced was Mr. W. J. Ray, of Colo, Iowa, who is secretary of the Iowa State Grain Dealers Association. Mr. Ray gave a very interesting history of the association, which he represented, and which is one of the largest and most beneficial organizations the farmers were identified with in Iowa. And said in part that thru the farmers' allied efforts, they had practically taken the system of old line elevator companies, who formerly touched the key that dictated the price to be paid for grain in every elevator company operating in the country. But those days, thank God, have passed, and that he hoped to see the great success of the farmers' elevator followed up with a farmers' terminal elevator. Mr. Ray went on to say that the most important movement before the farmers of Iowa was the establishing of his own private plant, where he could get a little of the fat or easy money, as well as the lean and hard earned money.

Mr. G. E. McCarrroll, of Clemons, Iowa, formerly in the employ of the United States department of agriculture, followed with an interesting talk on hog raising. Mr. McCarrroll is a graduated veterinarian and gave some sound advice to the farmer, to keep his hogs out of the prepared hog mud-hole and all the hole up with sand and not to reduce his hogs with whole corn, which is an unnatural food for hogs. He told them to dedicate a portion of their farms to the hogs, and plant therein roots, such as potatoes, carrots, beets, pumpkins, artichokes, etc., and let the hog do the stinging and not put a barbed wire wing in their noses, and if you must feed corn to your hogs, then crack it first and soak it well before feeding. Give your hogs lots of good water and special cholera will disappear from your farm. He also advised the farmer not to try and make a 2-year-old hog in the months. Give them eighteen months to grow and you will have better results and more money and fewer dead hogs. He also advised the farmers to get together and push and not stand back and expect the other fellow to do all the work. And if you want to see the real circus, pay your money like a man and come in thru the main entrance and let the other fellow sneak under the canvas if he must see the show.

Several questions were asked by the audience present which were all answered satisfactorily. It is the purpose of the new co-operative packing company to hold meetings in the surrounding territory for the purpose of creating a clearer understanding between the farmers and the company in the near future. British Co-operative Company.

COURT RE-OPENS TERM.

Controversy of Davis Heirs With Mother is Resumed. Judge Willett reopened the March term of the district court this forenoon to continue it for the rest of the week, if necessary, and then probably adjourn it for the term.

Especially assigned for today, in addition to several other cases that were left over and were set for trial, was the action of Harry E. F. Davis, et al., vs. Mrs. Minnie B. Ross, their mother and guardian. The family lives in Liberty township, where the property in controversy is situated. The case was brought to trial last winter after having been continued because of Mrs. Ross' sickness. After the trial had been started, Mrs. Ross was again taken sick, and had to submit to an operation, which caused another continuance of the case.

The action is a controversy over property of the Davis estate and the estate of the minors. They claim a sum estimated at $10,000 as their share of the estate. The action was brought on objections to the final report of Mrs. Ross as guardian of the estate of her children, who ask for an accounting of her guardianship. This guardianship extended over a period of several years, and during it the minors, and especially Harry Davis, was engaged in farming operations on the land of the estate. Because of the variety and nature of these farming operations which dealt with livestock, grain, and the usual farm crops, the accounts and claims of both sides are complicated.

Mrs. Ross makes the claim that Davis owes the estate as a result of these farming operations.

Local Weather Record.

Mayor Henry Hansen, of Union, telephoned to County Attorney Ray P. Scott this forenoon that A. H. Stuart, a one-armed man of this city, was under arrest there for alleged "bootlegging." Mayor Hansen is reported to have said that the Union officers had evidence of one sale of liquor against Stuart and that they seized ten pints of whisky.

Later it was learned here from Union that Harry Pitzberg, said to be of this city, was arrested with Stuart. Both pleaded guilty in the mayor's court and were held to the grand jury under bond for $500 each. They were locked in the Eldora jail.

Stuart was arrested in this city last November, and a charge of bootlegging was filed against him after the officers found two cartons of bottled whisky in Stuart's buggy. The charge could not be sustained at the preliminary examination and Stuart was discharged.

He has refused to give the iron bar, which makes a deadly weapon, to Sheriff Edgar, who has put Gates on a light diet of bread until he is willing to surrender the iron bar. Gates was still holding out this morning. Gates was held for resisting and beating Officer Will Lage so badly that the officer sustained fractures of the ribs.
