LAWYERS DRAW HUGE FEE.

Fort Estate Pays Clarion Firm $10,000, Administrator Says.
 Probably one of the largest cash fees ever paid a firm of lawyers in the state for conducting the litigation of a single lawsuit was paid by the estate of W. J. Fort, of this city, to Nagle & Nagle, of Clarion. The fee was $10,000 in cash. James M. Fort, administrator of the estate, testified before Judge Willett in the district court Monday. The administrator was being examined for the purpose of discovering assets. The examination was made on the application of three of seven heirs, all of whom are brothers and sisters of William J. Fort. The examination was not finished, and by stipulation it was continued until Oct. 27. At that time the administrator promised to bring into court certain books and papers of the estate that are now in Illinois. The suit in which Nagle & Nagle received a fee of $10,000 was the action of W. J. Fort vs. Mrs. Mary E. Colby, et al., a suit brought for the possession of 1,800 or more acres in Iowa and Illinois. The suit was twice tried in the district court and was twice appealed. Lawyers say Nagle & Nagle probably earned their fee, as this lawsuit was one of the most notable ones over land that has been adjudicated in Iowa in recent years.

The application for the examination of the administrator was made probably because in his annual reports for 1913 and 1914 he had not shown any disbursements of estate funds, although he showed small items of money he had paid as taxes for the estate.

Fort testified that he and his wife were allowed $5,000 for caring for William J. Fort. This allowance was made by the court. J. J. Wilson was appointed special administrator to pass on the claim, which he recommended and Judge Nichols allowed it and ordered it paid on the special administrator's recommendation.

After the lawyers had taken their fee of $10,000 Fort testified that there was about $1,700 remitted to him, it being a balance of rents, etc. that had accumulated in the Clarion bank that was acting in the capacity of a trustee to receive money for the estate during the litigation. Since then, he said, he had received about $5,500 from the bank. It also was rent money. This sum Fort has not disbursed, he said, because its ownership was in dispute. He testified it was claimed by heirs to whom W. J. Fort had deeded the land from which the rents came, the deeds to become effective at his death.

The administrator will make an annual report in a day or two, and it is indicated that objections would perhaps be made to it on behalf of heirs.

Creditors of R. W. Chamberlain, former jeweler who assigned his assets to his attorney for the benefit of creditors, have refused to take over the assets. Dog Gulps Diamond and Rises in Value

William A. Thompson, of this city, claims that one dog of his acquaintance has the most expensive taste on record. This particular dog, now dead, was playing with Mr. Thompson recently at Iowa Falls, and Mr. Thompson was endeavoring to drive the dog away. Determined not to be driven away, the animal grabbed Mr. Thompson's hand a moment and then let go. During the brief time that he had hold of the hand he pulled off and swallowed a $200 diamond ring which Thompson was wearing on his finger. Mr. Thompson noticed his loss shortly afterward.

H. R. Rogers, a colored man, owned the dog, and he at once realized the remarkable change in the value of his dog, so when Mr. Thompson wanted to buy the animal, the price asked was $10. To all appearances the cur was no more than a 10-cent pup, but he had a diamond ring in his interior, so the owner might decide any moment that he would rather have the dog with the diamond inside than $10 in ready money. Mr. Thompson hastily paid the required amount, brought the dog home, and put an end to both the animal and the story by killing him and extracting his diamond from the canine's anatomy.

FINISH MAIN STREET.

Pavers Start Laying Pavement in Linn Street—Getting More Gravel.

Thomas Carey & Sons finished the pavement in East Main street in front of the fair grounds this forenoon. They prepared to move at once to Second and Linn streets, to begin the Linn street pavement west to Ninth street.

The city has been advised that at least one of the sand pumps are working a night gang, and the supply of gravel has been increased very much the last day or two. It is said that a third sand and gravel pit is to be opened in the John Sieg land in the Iowa river valley, above the soldiers' home. This gravel will be especially convenient when the pavers get to working in the western part of the city.

ENROLLMENT INCREASES.

High School Attendance Goes to 610 and Wards Also Show Gains.

Further additions were made to the enrollment of the public schools by the attendance today, which showed gains in the different buildings over Monday, the opening day.

In the wards, however, all of the figures were not obtainable up to noon. In the buildings canvassed by Superintendent Palmer gains of from twelve to fifteen were shown. In the high school this morning fifteen more students had enrolled, bringing the attendance up to 610. A year ago on the second day of school, the attendance was 511.

Start Ordinances Thru.

Two ordinances, both for the M. & St. L. railroad, and in connection with use freight depot and yards project in the Third ward, were passed to their first reading by the council Monday forenoon.

Second and Railroad streets, and the Chicago Great Western right-of-way. This is the freight depot site. In addition the ordinance vacates the east and west alleys for half a block thru the block just west of the freight depot site.

How to Lose Your Tan, Freckles or Wrinkles

A day's motoring, an afternoon on the tennis ground or golf links, a sunbath on the beach or exposure on a sea trip, often brings on a deep tan or vivid crimson or freckles. A very necessary thing then is merricized wax, which removes tan, redness or freckles so easily. It literally peels off the affected skin—just a little at a time, so there's no hurt or injury. As the skin comes off in almost invisible flaky particles, no trace of the treatment is shown. Get an ounce of merricized wax at your druggist's and use this nightly as you would cold cream, washing it off morning. In a week or so you'll have a completely new skin, beautifully clear, transparent and of a most delicate whiteness. Write for a sample. It's free. This season may be easily and quickly removed by bathing the face in a solution of powdered merricized wax dissolved in which hazel, 1/4 pint. This is not only a valuable astringent, but has a beneficial tonic effect also.
