ANSONS TRAMPLED IN FARGICAL GAME

BURLESQUE EXHIBITION GOES TO CLINTON PILOTS BY 14 TO 1 SCORE.

BEARD IS HAMMERED FOR TWENTY SAFE HITS

Support Blows Up and Errors Are Numerous and Costly—Procession of Clinton Players Around the Bags in Fourth, When Eight Runs Are Scored—Ansons Earn Lone Tally.

Following their double victory of Sunday the Ansons showed a complete reversal of form yesterday and took the count in the opening game with Clinton, 14 to 1. It was the poorest exhibition offered by the locals in many moons, and the worst defeat suffered by the Ansons since the club was organized.

Three things contributed to the defeat of the Ansons—the ragged work of the home infield, the terrific batting of the visitors and the effectiveness of Drohan for the Pilots. The latter might have been eliminated and still the home outfit would have had no chance, but had the Ansons played their usual game their chances for victory would have been slim as two runs were enough to give the visiting moundsmen a victory.

Twenty safe hits were registered against Beard and when the game was concluded the Ansons were ready for the hospital, the infielders being incapacitated by reason of stopping hot drives with their shins and the outer gardeners exhausted from shagging balls hit to the outskirts. Practically the entire outfit left the impression that they had been up all night Sunday celebrating a victory.

Errors Come in Bunches. Ragged playing figured in the defeat of the home hopes, but even had every misplay been eliminated the Pilots still would have won by a gigantic margin, so terrific was their hitting. The home team flew their kite early in the performance, and in the latter part of the time. The infield was guilty of a large majority of the errors, but the outfielders committed antics which could not be classed as good defensive baseball, being guilty of errors of omission, rather than commission, which were quite as costly as the latter.

Ansons' Run Is Earned. Drohan was master of the situation at all times, but the lone tally of the Ansons was earned. It came in the sixth, when Murphy hit for three corners and scored on Drohan's single. Lynch was the premier stickler for the local crew, polling three safe blows in the course of the game. He also added a stolen base to his credit.

The Pilots grabbed off enough runs in the second inning to put Drohan on easy street and thereafter there was no question about the decision. Singles by Menne and Evans, and an error by Ryan, put the scores on the bags, and a safe drive by Drohan, and Kensel's sacrifice fly, registered the runs.

The storming of Fort Beard was started in the fourth, when seven safe hits, a brace of errors, and a wild pitch contributed eight runs to the visitors' total.

One Awful Bombardment. It was an awful bombardment which Beard faced in that round. Menne led off with a single and scored on Evans' double to left. Link beat out a bunt and Drohan singled, scoring Evans. Lynch failed to hold Kensel's blow, and Link and Drohan tallied. An error by Ryan gave Simmons a life and put Kensel on third, from which point scoring was an easy matter when Beard let loose a wild pitch. Milligan varied the entertainment by hitting to Ryan for an out at first. Ellison singled, however, scoring Simmons, but was in turn forced at second by Nolt. Menne singled, putting Nolt on third, and both Nolt and Menne scored when Evans singled and the outfielders lost the ball. Link terminated the burlesque by lofting to T. Ryan.

Last Games of Season Here to Be Played Tomorrow.
Wednesday's games with Clinton will be the last that the Ansons will play at home. A double header will be played, with Slattery pitching the second game. As the final appearance here of the team's premier pitcher, he has been assigned to the second game in order that people who are unable to get down to the first game, may go at the regular hour and see Slattery's performance.

BEARD GOES TO HENRY, ILL.

Is Placed Under Suspension by Local Team as Matter of Form.
Guy Beard, of Princeton, Ill., off whom, as an Anson pitcher Monday, the Clinton Pilots fattened their batting averages with twenty hits, left the city Monday night for Henry, Ill., where he goes to join the Henry team. The Henry team has a month's game left to play, and in order to take advantage of the offer, Manager Lynch placed Beard under suspension locally. To take his place Lynch has signed Wallyworth, a right handed pitcher formerly with the Clinton team. Slattery will be with the team until Sept. 5, when he reports to the Pittsburgh Pirates at Chicago.

CHALLENGES "ALL-STAR."

Jack Herbert Declares "Left Outs" Could Beat Waterloo Selection.
The choice of an all-stars baseball team, chosen from the Central Association clubs, has been left to the official scorers of the league, and the first selection, that of the Waterloo Times-Tribune, has made its appearance. This choice is not official, but it has attracted the attention of Jack Herbert, manager of the Cedar Rapids Bunnies, who declares his selection of a team composed of the "left outs" can defeat the star-studded challenge.

The all-star combination, according to the Waterloo paper, is as follows: Shortstop, Muscatine left field; Single-ton, Burlington, center field; Meinert, Burlington, right field; Simmons, Clinton, third base; Hollcher, Keokuk, catcher; O'Day, Muscatine, second base; Menne, Clinton, first base; Brennan, Waterloo, and Rolleg, Burlington, catchers; Baichley, Burlington; Slattery, Marshalltown; Miller, Burlington; Mellinger, Cedar Rapids; Garrett, Mason City; Whaley, Waterloo, and Bixby, Keokuk, pitchers; Reinhart, Muscatine, utility; Ned Egan, Muscatine, manager.

Herbert issues a challenge for three games to be played at Bunny park, Cedar Rapids, on Saturday, Sept. 11, and Sunday, Sept. 12, two games being played on the latter date.

Several players named on the two teams have signified their willingness to participate in the series. It has been suggested, however, that Herbert await the official selection of an all-star team, and that chosen by the Waterloo paper will undoubtedly be changed in some positions.

SAVING GAME FISH FRY.

Deputy Warden Metcalf Says Thousands Have Been Placed in River.
Fifteen thousand game fish fry, and some partly grown fish, have been seized from ponds and bayous in the Iowa river valley and placed in the river, according to the estimate of Deputy Fish and Game Warden Charles Metcalf, of Albion, who did the work with assistance. He says most of the small fish were taken from the ponds in the game preserve at Monon ridge.

Finds Father After Thirty-five Years

Many years ago there lived in Liscomb a man named John Demert—at least the latter is the name by which he was known. More than thirty-five years ago he and his wife separated. In 1880 John Demert was admitted to the county poor farm. "Poor and simple" is the notation on the records of that institution opposite his name. He was known there as Demert with the accent on the first syllable.

Again, in 1891, he was admitted to the farm from this city, and still again, in 1899, he was admitted from Gilman. He is now 83 and still an inmate of the farm.

Ten days or two weeks ago a business man applied to Sheriff J. G. Edgar for help in finding the whereabouts of one John Demert, formerly of the Liscomb neighborhood. The applicant was Ken E. Penney, of the Farmers' State Bank of Rudd.

Penney told the sheriff that Mrs. Penney was the daughter of DeMart, and that she had not seen or heard from her father for thirty-five years. She was anxious and worried and fearful that he might be dead. She wanted to find him if alive, so her husband started the search.

Sheriff Edgar directed Penney to Robert Deubow, Thomas Swearingen, and J. H. Augustine, three of the oldest living pioneers of Albion. They were not able to supply any definite information, but one of them sent Penney to James Boyd, of Liscomb.

In a letter received from Penney Saturday, the writer said that Boyd had written him that he thought the man for whom Penney was searching had died at the county farm two years ago. Penney asked Sheriff Edgar to investigate this report. The sheriff did so this forenoon. Then he learned that there was a John Demert, but no John DeMart, at the county farm. Mrs. Kountz went to investigate and, supplied with the names of daughters that the sheriff had, she was able to confirm the fact that Demert is DeMart, the missing father.

Over the telephone, a little later, Penney at Rudd, confirmed details that make the identification positive. He said he would be down soon for his father-in-law, who is a simple-minded old man 83 years of age, who is much liked by those in charge of the county hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Penney reached the city this morning and early this forenoon they went to the county farm. It would be hard to describe the happy reunion of the long-separated father and daughter that took place. But it was one of the happiest incidents that has ever happened at that none-too-happy place.

Old Mr. DeMart, accompanied by his daughter and son-in-law, came to this city. All were as tickled as children, and they were planning to leave for Rudd this evening.

Local Weather Record.
Sixty-six and 40 were the extremes of temperature Monday compared with 58 and 35 the range Sunday and 65 and 32 the maximum and minimum a morning Monday. At 7 o'clock this morning the temperature was 49 compared with 42 at the corresponding hour Monday morning.
