MEMBERS OF PAROLE BOARD ADOPT NEW RULES RELATING TO PRISONERS.

TO COMPILE FACTS ABOUT EACH CONVICTED MAN

Closer Supervision of Paroled Prisoners to Be One of New Reform Measures—Board to Hold Six Meetings Per Year and to Visit Prisons More Frequently.

Special to Times-Republican.

Des Moines, Oct. 14.—The state board of parole today announced important changes in its rules and its plans of work. The board has decided to visit prisons oftener than has been the plan heretofore, to make hearings earlier and to give closer supervision of paroled prisoners. An effort is to be made to reach exceptional and meritorious cases early and to more readily place men out after they are voted a parole.

As soon as a man enters prison he makes an inmate's statement, biographical in its nature, and gives references. An investigation is taken up from the office of the board corresponding with these references, and the judge and county attorney are asked for letters concerning the case and the man, and the clerk of the court is asked for the grand jury testimony, if there is any, so the board early has considerable information about the prisoner. Then at a meeting of the board at the prison the prisoner is called in for a personal interview.

At the time of the organization of the board in 1914 it adopted a plan of having this interview eleven or twelve months after the prisoner entered prison. About two years ago this was changed to interviewing him as near nine months as possible after he went in and now the rule is being changed so as to interview him at near six months as possible after he goes in. The interviews are being made earlier for two reasons. One is so that investigations of the prisoners may be taken up earlier so the board may have early knowledge of the case and the man in January or April, six months after he is received, and usually meritorious cases may be passed on earlier than heretofore.

Six Meetings Per Year. From the organization of the board it has had its regular meetings four times a year, commencing the first Monday in January, the first Monday in April, the first Monday in July, and the first Monday in October. The board is now changing the rule to meet the first Monday in February, April, June, August, October and December, making six meetings a year. The purpose of this change is to give more prompt hearings to prisoners, to distribute the work along more evenly, and to give more frequent visits to the prisons. The condition has been that toward the end of each term the board has paroled in the neighborhood of fifty men in a short time and the consequence has been that they have been bunched up so it was impossible to get some of them out to good jobs for several weeks. Making the terms more frequent will distribute the work along more evenly and will doubtless result in getting the men out more promptly after they are voted a parole. Another change the board has recently made is to vote paroles to some of the best of the continued men while it was at the prison, and before it returned to the office. The tendency of this change is to more promptly release the men and to distribute them along and not bunch them up.

Several other small changes are being made in the rules in an effort to facilitate the work. Copy of the revised rules will soon be in the hands of the printer.

Improved Conditions. Since the employment of a second parole agent a few months ago there is apparent an improved condition among paroled men. It is now possible to place men more quickly in good jobs after they are paroled and to visit them more frequently during the year on parole, and to more quickly respond to their calls when they are in trouble. The number absconding and the number who are having to be sent back to prison for violations have perceptibly diminished. The rules have been amended in some particulars and the practice has been developed in handling the 200 or more who are constantly on parole so as to make the most practical possible efforts to help them to become re-established as producers outside instead of state charges.

They are advised and assisted in saving a portion of their earnings. The average wage received during August of this year of men paroled as follows:

Gas In The Stomach Is Dangerous

A Warning of Acid Indigestion, Prompt Use of Magnesia Stops All Sourness and Pain.

Sufferers from indigestion or dyspepsia should remember that the presence of gas or wind in the stomach invariably indicates that the stomach is troubled by excessive acidity.

This acid causes the food to ferment and the fermenting food in turn gives rise to noxious gases which distend the stomach, hamper the normal functions of the internal organs, cause acute headaches, interfere with the action of the heart, and charge the blood stream with deadly poisons, which in time may ruin the health. Physicians say that to quickly dispel a dangerous accumulation of wind in the stomach and to stop the food fermentation which creates the gas, the acid in the stomach must be neutralized and that for this purpose there is nothing quite so good as a teaspoonful of pure bisulphated magnesia taken in a little water immediately after meals. This instantly neutralizes the acid, thus stopping fermentation and the formation of gas, and enables the inflamed, distended stomach to proceed with its work under natural conditions. Bisulphated magnesia is obtainable in powder or tablet form from McElyde & Will Drug Company, or any drug-gist; but as there are many different forms of magnesia it is important that the bisulphated which the physicians prescribe should be distinctly asked for.

farm hands was $24.91 each for the month, and in addition to this they received their board, and for other men than farm hands, $45.78 each for the month. The total earnings of the paroled prisoners for August was $7,118.91. Altogether the work of the board is in excellent condition.

COE COLLEGE NEEDS $350,000.

Remarkable Growth Causes Board to Take Steps to Increase Endowment.

Cedar Rapids, Oct. 14.—If Coe College is to take care of students who are expected to pour into its halls within the next five years at a rate of increase equal to that of the last five years, it will need more buildings on the campus. This fact is recognized by the board of trustees which met in its mid-annual session at the Coe today. When President Marquis said that at least four new buildings would be necessary within the next five years, the board approved the plan to raise $350,000 for completing the dormitory system and raising a productive endowment of $1,000,000. The board pledges itself to raise one-half of this amount locally.

Dr. Marquis announced that the four new buildings needed would be first, the completion of the group of girls' dormitories of which Voorhees hall is one wing; second, a library building; third, a hall of liberal arts, and fourth, a music hall, the estimated cost of all being $500,000. The plan outlined was for the college to start a campaign for $350,000 which will complete the dormitory system and raise the endowment to $1,000,000. The plan was to be completed in the next five years. The plan was to raise this $350,000 at once in order to rush the work on the dormitories.

SABBATH SCHOOL INSTITUTE.

Presbyterian Synod to Hold Meeting at Cedar Falls, Oct. 18-19.

Special to Times-Republican.

Cedar Falls, Oct. 14.—The twenty-first annual sabbath school institute of the Presbyterian synod meets in Cedar Falls Monday evening, Oct. 15, and continues thru Tuesday, Oct. 16, and Wednesday, Oct. 17. Rev. O. F. Ensign, D. D. of Marion, is chairman of the synod's committee, and Rev. S. R. Ferguson, D. D. of Cedar Rapids, superintendent in Iowa, Missouri and Kansas. Rev. William H. Hall, of New York, and Dr. Geo. L. Robinson of Chicago, are two of the speakers from abroad.

The synod of Iowa begins Tuesday evening with a sermon by Rev. Scott W. Smith, D. D. of Cedar Rapids, retiring moderator. Beside representatives of the nine boards of the church, Dr. Robinson will give a number of addresses. The work of home missions in the synod will have much attention. The denomination has about 50,000 members in Iowa. Matters with reference to the possible consolidation of some of the Presbyterian colleges will also be before the synod.

Grinnell and Vicinity.

Special to Times-Republican.

Grinnell, Oct. 14.—Andrew McIntosh is again at his home in this city after an absence of several days looking after his land interests in Dakota.

After the recent defeat of the Simpsons, the Grinnell College football team is keeping in practice to meet the fast Beloit team on the grounds here on Saturday of this week. The skies look fair to them and the hope is of a hopeful and expectant kind. But a week later, when they meet the Carleton aggregation, they are expected to bring all their spare muscle into active operation.

The inter-collegiate debating relations are to be changed this year, and in place of the old triangular Drake-Grinnell-South Dakota contests, there will be a quadrangular of Carleton, Beloit and Grinnell, with an additional triangular of Coe, Cornell and Grinnell. The arrangements are not yet complete and the question is not yet selected but the general plan has been agreed upon and announced. Inter-society debates will be staged along the general lines of discussion finally selected and there appears to be plenty of material for winning teams in debate with outside schools.

Rev. H. W. Tuttle and President J. H. T. Main are to represent church and college here at the National Convention of Congregational churches at New Haven, President Main being already in the east. He will also attend on Friday evening of this week the meeting of the New England Alumni Association of Iowa College, to be held in Boston.

The recent decision of the supreme court of Iowa in the case of J. E. and C. S. McAninch, sustaining the decision of the lower court that found them guilty of practicing medicine without a license, is of interest here, not only because of its bearing on other similar practitioners but because these were formerly Poweshiek county citizens. Some relief to the feelings of the convicted comes from the fact that three of the judges dissented from the decision.

Majk Lerman came to America and Iowa from the town of Zumbia in Australia and has made astonishingly good time in farming. Recently in traveling about the state he had the surprise of meeting two of his former acquaintances from the old home town, who, like himself, had come to make this country their home.

CORONER CONCLUDES CLINTON MAN KILLED WIFE BEFORE COMMITTING SUICIDE.

STEPSON TESTIFIES TO MYSTERIOUS INCIDENTS

George Channon Quarreled With Wife Prior to Her Disappearance—Husband's Body Found Later—Channon Declared by Friends to Have Killed First Wife and Was Paroled.

Clinton, Oct. 14.—The theory of the coroner and police that Mrs. George Channon was slain by her husband before he committed suicide by hanging himself early Tuesday morning, was strengthened at the inquest when Coroner Kellogg brought out testimony to the following effect:

That Channon had served time in the Iowa penitentiary for cutting his first wife's throat with a butcher knife. That he and his wife had quarreled Saturday night, the last time the woman was seen alive.

That Mrs. Channon wore only her house clothes and no hat when she left Saturday night.

That Channon, while a peaceable man when sober, was regarded by associates as violent when drunk.

The coroner's jury, after listening to the evidence, returned a verdict to the effect that Channon's death was due to his own act. The really important phase of the inquest, however, was the light which was thrown on circumstances preceding the disappearance of Mrs. Channon.

The couple had been married only three weeks. Their nuptials took place in Morrison, and Mr. and Mrs. Channon had since been living at 315 North Second street.

The little son of Mrs. Channon, George Sill, told a clear and straightforward story on the witness stand. He said his mother and father had often quarreled since their marriage, always because of the latter's drinking. Witness had heard no threats, but had often seen his stepfather take hold of his mother's arm and pull her around. She did not seem to be afraid of him, however.

Found Parents Gone. Saturday night the couple had quarreled. At about 7 o'clock Channon sent the boy to a barn a block or so away to hitch up his horse, asking him to drive back and take away some empty bottles to sell. When the boy returned his mother and her husband had gone. He put away the horse and went to a picture show. The couple did not return during the night, and the boy, who was worrying, telephoned to Miss Fogg, of 619 Murray avenue, who worked with Mrs. Channon at the Reserve hotel. Mrs. Fogg had not seen the woman.

Says Channon Burned Clothes. Miss Fogg was put on the stand and gave some important testimony. She said Mrs. Channon phoned her Saturday evening. The woman was crying and said George had come home intoxicated, and had burned up all his clothes, shirts, socks and ties, and had nothing left but what he wore.

Channon's Jail Record. Two witnesses, Matt Logan and Fred Myers, gave information as to Channon's jail record, which they had received from the man himself. Channon worked for Mr. Logan for a time, and according to witnesses was peaceful when sober, but witness thought he might be dangerous while intoxicated. He said Channon had told him something of his penitentiary record, and understood him to say he went after his first wife with a butcher knife because of jealousy.

Fred Myers' testimony in this respect was more definite. "If I ever do anything desperate again," Channon had once said to the witness, "I will never go to the penitentiary for it." Channon had told him he cut his first wife's throat and was sent to the pen for thirty years, witness believed from Des Moines, and served seven or eight years and was a model prisoner. Then he was paroled or pardoned.
