HOUSE TO BE ON GROUND IF PEACE NEGOTIATIONS BEGIN

COLONEL E. M. HOUSE

That President Wilson is sending Colonel E. M. House to Europe to be on the ground when the time for peace negotiations comes, is a report that went the rounds in Washington. From various sources, diplomatic and other, the American government has been informed that in six months' time the peace movement in Europe will have gained great momentum. At that time, according to a belief entertained in administration circles, the present military deadlock existing on all the fronts will have been emphasized and become clear beyond peradventure to all the nations. It will then be realized that a decision can be reached only by years more of fighting and a tremendous cost of lives and money. All the belligerents, it is believed, will be in a frame of mind to accept even a temporary peace. Colonel House, it is understood, will be then in an ideal position to act as agent of President Wilson as a mediator and go-between for the belligerent nations.

His Useful Head. A Washington man has in his employ a faithful but at times stupid servant in the person of an old dorky named Zeke.

Recently, when the employer had vainly endeavored to get something done in a certain way, he gave up in despair, exclaiming:

"Zeke! Zeke! Whatever do you think your head is for?" Zeke, who evidently thought that this was another of the troublesome questions that his employer was always asking, pondered it deeply. Finally he replied:

"Well, boss, I guess it's to keep my collar on."—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Might Need Them. "After de sarmin't, t'mor' night, Brudder Simmins," said old Deason Whang, "we-all is gwine to have rousin' hozaner meetin' and burn up yo' paragraphs, bless de Lawd!"

"Burn up which, sah?" returned Goat Simmins, the recently converted gambler man, in considerable astonishment.

"Yo' gambin' paragraphs, sah. When a spottin' man gets converted and washed whiter dan snow, dey allus burns up his kyahnds and dice and stich accoun'ous stuff at dat, midat loud shouts o' praise. De Lawd is wit' 'em, and de gambin' brudder steps fo'th and flings his paragraphs on de fish and he stands with bowed head whilst "Not me, sah! I ain't gwine to do no stich-uh thing!" "But, muh goodness, brudder, yo' am converted, isn't yo' and—" "Yassah! I's sho' converted, but de don't make me a blamed fool! I'm backside and need dat stich!"—Kansas City Star.
