HAUNT OLD BARROOMS

FORMER SALOONS OF COUNCIL BLUFFS CONVERTED INTO SOFT DRINK PARLORS.

FORMER PATRONS FIND SUBSTITUTE FOR BEER

Increase in Interstate Railroad Fares Causes Greater Traffic on Council Bluffs-Omaha Car Lines—Transfer Means 25 Cents Saving to Passengers.

Special to Times-Republican.

Council Bluffs, Jan. 24.—So many of the former saloons of this city are being operated as soft drink emporiums as to cause comment. In a few of them the proprietors have gone to considerable expense in transforming their places. Generally the bar fixtures have been left as they were. In a few places a drink is being sold that resembles beer in everything but the taste. It is drawn from a keg just as beer is, and apparently, so far as a means of promoting sociability, has every quality that beer has and yet does not intoxicate. These places have their old patrons and many who are new ones and cater to a large number of people. Admittedly a few of the places are being retained and kept open in the hope that the mule law repeal will be defeated in the courts.

Street Car Traffic Increases.

The closing of the saloons and the application of the new interstate railroad fares has increased the street car traffic to and from Omaha enormously. Iowa people enroute to Omaha always end their journey here if they are once west of the situation, for the railroad fare between the cities is 25 cents and street car fare has to be paid to ride to any of the railroad depots in Omaha uptown, while by alighting here an Omaha car or one from which a transfer to an Omaha car can be secured, is taken and all Council Bluffs-Omaha cars land passengers in the heart of the business district of Omaha. The result is that the street car is more popular in making the round trip. Under the new passenger rates a considerable saving is made by buying tickets to Council Bluffs and repurchasing in Omaha after a street car. Saloon patrons are much in evidence on the bridge cars.

Same Conditions in Cedar Rapids.

Cedar Rapids, Jan. 24.—Buildings which were formerly used as saloons are still "the poor men's clubs." To be sure, many of them are closed, but some which were most prominent in the wet days are still open. Of course they sell no intoxicants. But they handle pop, beer, tea, malted milk, "Non-toxo," ginger ale and cigars. They may open as early as they please and remain open as late as the crowd wants to stay. They may have tables and chairs—in fact, they have no legal restrictions whatever—and they seem to enjoy their new-found freedom. One of them stated that altho the patronage didn't line up at the bar as thick as it used to do, yet he was doing a good business and was not having to pay the county and city a big tax.

ASSAULT CHARGE IS FILED.

Accused Man Surrenders to Officers and Pleads Not Guilty.

Special to Times-Republican. Nevada, Jan. 24.—John Myrser had a preliminary hearing before Justice Smith upon a charge of assault with intent to commit manslaughter, preferred by Lewis W. Williamson, a farmer of near Story City. The alleged assault was committed on Jan. 19 and shortly afterwards Myrser went over to Gilbert and gave himself over to the authorities. No one appearing against him he was allowed to go.

Later Williamson came to Nevada and preferred the charges before Justice Smith and as soon as the man learned of the papers being out for him he came to Nevada and gave himself up. He has been in jail over Sunday.

Myrser had been working for Williamson and there was some dispute in the settlement. Williamson claims that Myrser fired upon him with a gun. According to the story of Myrser, who does not appear alarmed over the affair, he was in the room when Williamson came in looking for trouble. He said that he wished to avoid trouble with the man so he picked up the gun which was in the room and fired a shot thru the floor to frighten Williamson away. He then packed up his belongings and left the place, going over to Gilbert where he told his story and gave himself up.

Myrser is a farm hand who came from over near Boone. He insists that there was no assault and that he fired the shot merely as a means of frightening Williamson away in self defense.

Indian Healer Returns From St. Louis With Hard Luck Story.

Special to Times-Republican. Iowa City, Jan. 24.—New "hard luck" stories are told by Dr. William "Deerfoot" (Kirk) the Iowa City "Indian doctor," who was acquitted of the charge of murder, and then of manslaughter in two trials here. He is back from his old home in St. Louis, where he slipped and fell on the ice. His brother, Paul Grant, similarly fell.

NEW MEAT PACKING ESTABLISHMENT IS NOW PRACTICALLY ASSURED.

WILL FORM $50,000 STOCK CORPORATION

Frederickson & Hooper, of Gladbrook, to Enlarge Plants at Tama and Gladbrook—Tama Business Men Subscribe For Stock—Location is Considered Ideal.

Special to Times-Republican.

Tama, Jan. 24.—The new meat packing plant is now an assured fact at Tama. It has long been a desire to have such an institution here but it remained for the commercial club to make overtures to Frederickson and Hooper, of Gladbrook, to enlarge their already successful business in Tama and Gladbrook. They have subscribed $25,000 of the proposed capital stock and in thirty minutes on Saturday fourteen signatures were secured for various amounts on the streets of Tama. So many of the prominent and wealthy farmers were so enthusiastic over the opportunity to secure some of this stock that the committee in charge now feel secure in assuring the people of this community that the stock will all be sold this week and then operations for the building of the plant will be commenced as soon as weather conditions will permit. It is planned to start business as soon as $50,000 is subscribed and to add to the capital as fast as the business demands. There is no better location for such a business than in Tama and Gladbrook, where the best raising and feeding communities in the world and shipping facilities are the best in the whole state. Nothing but words of encouragement are heard for this enterprise. There are no knockers.

JOHN FAGAN, SR., DEAD.

Prominent Wright County Farmer Victim of Kidney Disease.

Special to Times-Republican.

Clarion, Jan. 24.—John Fagan, Sr., died at his home in Clarion Sunday forenoon at 11 o'clock. He was taken down with kidney trouble on July 5 and has been a most patient sufferer for nearly seven months. Mr. Fagan was born in Ireland June 10, 1848. He came to New York state when 7 years old and moved from there to Ogle county, Illinois, where he was married in 1867. Mr. and Mrs. Fagan first settled at Cedar Falls, moved from there to Colo. Story county, and then to Wright county in 1882, making them residents of this community thirty-four years. They retired from their farm in Grant township to their present home in this city in 1902. He is survived by his wife, one daughter and five sons.

Mr. Fagan was the type of man that makes the entire community feel that they have lost a friend and neighbor. He endured the hardships of the early days with strength and fortitude and was one of our most successful farmers at the time of his retirement in 1902. His funeral services, doubtless, will be held in St. John's Catholic church Wednesday, tho this is uncertain until word is received from a son in South Dakota.

Corned beef omelet—Put some corned beef, a little salt and red pepper, season with a little oil, and when the omelet is ready to turn, sprinkle the corned beef over it.

Rice croquettes—Rice croquettes are very good for a busy day—like wash-day or ironing day—for they may be made hours before they are needed, of cold boiled rice, beaten egg and seasoning, and carefully dipped in crumbs and egg, then kept in the refrigerator until time to cook.

Pear salad—Drain canned pears free from syrup and chill thoroughly. Serve with French dressing on lettuce leaves, with cream cheese balls.

MOORE LODGED IN JAIL.

Former Cashier of Parnell Bank Arrested in Omaha.

Marengo, Jan. 24.—Charles Moore, former cashier of the Parnell Savings Bank and treasurer of the city, who disappeared from his home about Dec. 1, was located by Sheriff I. J. Reed at the Wellington Inn in Omaha, where he has been since Dec. 8. A shortage in the city funds and several warrants unpaid together with his disappearance caused the city of Parnell to issue a warrant for his arrest. Sheriff Reed located Moore thru his cashing of a traveler's check. The sheriff arrived in this city with his prisoner Friday morning and Moore is in jail awaiting bonds until the March term of court. Moore has borne an unblemished character heretofore. The Parnell Savings Bank is the bank that was robbed of a considerable sum last fall and as yet the robbers have not been caught.
