URGE LAW BUILDING

STATE BAR ASSOCIATION TO ASK QUARTERS ON STATE CAPITOL GROUNDS.

NO PROVISION FOR BUILDING IS FOUND

Capitol Extension Law Does Not Provide For Erection of Office Building Out of Taxes Levied For Capitol Extension—Proposed Building Would House Supreme Court.

Special to Times-Republican.

Des Moines, May 12.—Activities on the part of the state bar association to secure the passage of a bill by the coming legislature providing for the erection of a fire-proof building on the capitol grounds for the department of justice, is arousing interest about the state house. It is the feeling here that such a building would show the passage with the state bar association back of it, the supreme court judges favoring it and the lawyer members of the legislature, of which there is always a goodly number, working for it.

State officers housed outside the state house, or some of them at least, are wondering where they are going to come in at. One of them got down the code supplement yesterday and said he failed to find any provision in the capitol extension law for the erection of an office building out of the taxes levied for capitol extension. The capitol extension tax, he pointed out, was only for the purchase and improvement of the grounds and not for the erection of any buildings.

Would House Supreme Court. If the temple of justice were erected according to the ideas of those who are boosting for it the new building would house the supreme court, attorney general's office, law library and possibly the state railroad commission and commerce council. That would leave the rooms now occupied by these bodies vacant to be occupied by some of the state officials now outside of the state house. But it would not be enough room for all of them it is claimed.

The offices now outside of the state house are as follows: State food and dairy department, state veterinarian, oil inspector, commissioner of labor statistics, industrial commissioner, state free employment bureau, board of education, state commerce council and fire marshal.

More Room is Needed. The state food and dairy department now occupies an outside flat building using two stories and basement and is anxious for more room. A laboratory is maintained on the second floor where chemical analyses of milk and food products is carried on extensively. All of the other outside offices are in flats which pass beneath it. Those purchased in the capitol extension zone. These flats are about the only buildings left standing in the tract and they will have to stay until room is found for these offices.

This summer the state executive council will complete its expenditures on the tract to grading, completing the work on the streets and drives, landscaping and the removal of the soldiers' monument. The council is now advertising for bids for the bridge, which is to bridge over the curved road along Court avenue or what was formerly called Court street, between East Tenth and Eleventh street. The object of the bridge is to prevent any break in the plateau from the capitol building south to the railroad tracks. It will be about 150 feet long and some seventy feet in width. All street traffic will pass beneath it.

The street cars running to the fair grounds and to Grandview park will pass along Court avenue and under this bridge, while other east side cars will continue to travel on Grand avenue along the north side of the state house as they do now. At least that is the present plan. Steps will lead up from the street level along Court avenue to the capitol grounds at each end of this bridge. Bids will be received on this bridge up to May 25 when the council hopes to let the contract and proceed with the work.

The council has asked experts in the Ames forestry department to come down and trim up the trees in the way they should grow on the capitol grounds. There are many beautiful native trees in the tract.

RESIDENCE FOR PREXY.

Plans Are Drawn For New Building at Grinnell College. Special to Times-Republican. Grinnell, May 12.—Another building in connection with Grinnell College is now likely to be built this summer, the trustees having authorized the erection of a residence for the president of the college, that shall be ample in size and modern in all its equipments and calculated to last in the process of erection. Brainerd and Lewis are the architects selected to prepare the plans for this new structure. They live in Boston, Mass. W. H. Brainerd is a graduate of Iowa College in the class of 1883. The plans are not completed but it is expected the residence will be of the old colonial style and practical. Nothing has been said in this connection as to the exact location but the plans of the landscape artist for the college grounds for the next few years place it in a different place from the president's home. It is said that it is quite within the bounds of reasonable expectation that President and Mrs. Main may be in the new home when the next Thanksgiving proclamation is complied with.

Tenacious Tires of black "Barefoot" Rubber

"LIKE A Pup to a Root," do they hang on to the Earth, when you throw in the Clutch, or throw on the Brakes.

But, instead of merely grinding against said Earth, for traction, they CLING to it, much as your bare foot clings to slippery surfaces.

This new and wonderful Goodrich "Barefoot Rubber," is as stretchy almost as a pure Rubber band, —Light-weight as Rubber in its native amber color, but stronger, tougher, longer-wearing (in Tires) than pure Rubber could ever be.

That Lightness, Stretch, and CLING-quality is due, in part, to the absence of the heavy and inert white substances which, in other Tires, provide the gritty texture designed to give effective but grinding Traction, when Clutch or Brakes do their work.

To provide its maximum Traction with minimum Friction (which means minimum Heat, minimum Tread-Wear, and lessened Strain on the rubber adhesive between fabric layers.)

—That's the Mission of the new Goodrich "Barefoot Rubber."

How well it does this work,—how much more Resilience, Comfort-in-riding, and Mileage, it gives,—may be realized only by test.

"BAREFOOT RUBBER" can be had in Goodrich Safety-Tread Tires,—Goodrich Motor-Cycle Tires,—Goodrich Bicycle Tires,—Goodrich Truck Tires,—Goodrich Rubber Boots, Overhoes, Soles and Heels, and in no other make but Goodrich.

Get a sample of it, at the nearest Goodrich Branch or Depot today. Stretch it thousands of times, but tear its fibres you can't.

With all this,—observe that the best Fabric Tires in America—made of this TENACIOUS "Barefoot" Rubber,—cost you no more (and usually less), than ordinary Tires made by other responsible manufacturers.

No "larger-sized" Tires (taken Size for Size and Type for Type), are made than Goodrich Black-Tread Tires.

Why, then, should any Business Man pay more than the Goodrich "Fair-List" Price, for any Tire, until he has at least tested one pair of these new "Barefoot" Rubber Goodrich Tires?
