Hose House Will Become Car Station

By an arrangement made by the city with Manager Charles Munson, of the Iowa Railway and Light Company, portions of the North Third street line are to be provided with a waiting station at the intersection of Third and Center streets. The city has agreed to allow the utilities company to use the lower floor of the brick building, that was formerly the home of the River hose company of old volunteer days, for a waiting station. The street railway company has agreed to remodel the lower floor, provide toilets, and seats both inside and outside the building to make the place comfortable and convenient. A family rents the second story of the building, and it will have supervision of the property. Arrangements have been made for the first motorman down to the end of the line in the morning to unlock the building and for the one who makes the last trip at night to lock it.

POLING TALKS FOR SUFFRAGE.

Christian Endeavor Worker From Boston Gives Fine Address. Before an audience which completely filled the Methodist church, Daniel A. Poling, of Boston, prominent Christian Endeavor worker, gave an address favoring woman suffrage Sunday night, which was pronounced excellent both in point of argument and delivery. Mr. Poling, who is active head of the Christian Endeavor movement in the United States, has a fine command of language, and his delivery is pleasing and effective. In his address Sunday night Mr. Poling took up many of the arguments against woman suffrage and refuted them in such a decisive and logical way that his hearers were all convinced. He used as his strongest argument the same appeal which W. J. Bryan brought into play, namely the mother in the home. Indeed, Mr. Poling's entire speech had for its central theme the plea of the mother in the home, who needs and wants the vote. Music was furnished by the Methodist choir. Mrs. Ida Smith, of Cedar Rapids, state president of the W. C. T. U., which organization brought Mr. Poling here, introduced the speaker. The meeting was a union one, in which churches of the city joined.

ALUMNI REUNION JUNE 12.

Committee Sends Out Notices Announcing High School Alumni Program. At a second meeting of Marshalltown High School Alumni Association, held Saturday at the Marshalltown Club, Monday, June 12, was selected as the date for the annual reunion. Red Men's hall was chosen as the place in which the reunion to this year's class will be given and a short program arranged.

The committee in charge has sent out announcements urging especially that out-of-town members make an effort to be present. As a special inducement every out-of-town member paying his dues for this year will receive a copy of Pebbles annual, the high school paper. This year's senior class, numbering seventy-four, the school board, and teachers of the high school are to be guests at the reception.

Miss Forbes to Wed. Mrs. I. T. Forbes entertained thirty guests Saturday afternoon at her home, 403 North Third street, to announce the engagement of her daughter, Edith, to Garret Carter. The afternoon was spent visiting and sewing and at 5 o'clock tea was served in two courses by Mrs. G. A. Swanson and daughter Myrtle, Mrs. W. I. Good and daughter Gladys, and Misses Marjorie Maudsley and Marie Moyer. A color scheme of pink and white was carried out on the small tables, at which tea was served, in the use of pink gladiolus and tiny pink silk lilies, which were given to each guest and contained white paper kittens with the names of Miss Forbes, and Mr. Carter and the date, June 29, written on them.

Miss Forbes is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. T. Forbes and has lived all her life in the city. She was graduated from high school, then taught school in the country for two years, and has been a teacher at Anson school this year. Mr. Carter is the older son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Carter, and is employed at the Marshalltown State Bank.

Satisfaction and Economy. There is a reason why we have had to turn away so many customers for paper hanging this season. While we have employed more men this year than ever we have had from two to three weeks papering contracted ahead. First, we employ only first class mechanics, men who know how to do the work right, who have had years of experience in their work. Second, we have turned customers away because it is our policy to promise work only on dates we know we can fill. Third, our prices on paper have always been lower than the rest. Our work is now in shape so we can furnish experts on short notice. Wouldn't you rather get your work done when promised, save money on your job and have your work satisfactory, than to tear up and then sit and wait, pay more for your paper and get a bum job? Of course you would. Then see us for satisfaction and economy. Simmons' Book Store.

In the District Court. Charles and Frank Haas, of this city vs. Sadie Steelmith, et al., is an action.
