FARM BUILDINGS BURNED. Fire Destroys Crib, Corn and Straw On Fred Zeisness Farm.

Fire that was started by a spark from a gasoline engine being used to operate an ensilage cutter, set fire to buildings on the Fred Zeisness farm, two and one-half miles southeast of Lamolite, early this afternoon. The loss, roughly estimated soon after the fire, is placed at about $2,000 depending on the amount of grain that was destroyed. The insurance, if any, could not be learned.

The sparks from the engine set fire to a corn crib, containing 800 to 1,000 bushels of corn, and destroyed it. The flames also caught a straw stack containing about thirty tons and from there spread to a hog house, which was also burned. It could not be told this afternoon how badly the corn was damaged and whether it would be a total loss or whether it still had some feeding value.

Neighbors, who were summoned, kept the fire from spreading beyond the corn crib, straw stack and hog house. The fire truck was summoned from State Center, but the fire was under control before it reached the farm.
