Prices—Will They Be Higher or Lower? A Few Facts Concerning This Question.

Some time ago we predicted that every day necessities in meats and groceries would sky high in price. At that time we urged you to buy and buy heavily. Those heeding this advice were fortunate, for they have saved money. We honestly believe prices are going still higher until they reach the highest point in history. Again we are urging you to buy a supply for the winter. Our stock is very complete and our prices have not advanced in just proportion to the ever increasing cost of goods. By increasing the volume of our business we can sell cheaper and with your co-operation we hope to reduce the high cost of living. Another big sale for Friday and Saturday only.
