KEEP LOOKING YOUNG It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

GUARDS OBJECT TO MOVE FOR RELEASE

SECOND REGIMENT PROTESTS AGAINST ACTION OF FORT DODGE COMMERCIAL CLUB.

REMAIN ON BORDER WHILE TROUBLE EXISTS

Iowa Troopers Hold That They Answered Call of President Wilson and That They Will Remain in Service as Long as Required—Declare Appeal Placed Them in Light of Quitters.

Special to Times-Republican. Webster City, Feb. 14.—The action of the Fort Dodge Commercial Club in seeking to bring pressure to bear to get the Iowa troops home from the Mexican border has raised the ire of the Second infantry, the only Iowa regiment left on the border.

The Iowa boys' point that they answered the call of the president and that they will remain in service as long as required.

Text of Soldiers' Protest. The protest of the Fort Dodge companies in behalf of the Second infantry is as follows:

"We were very much surprised, amazed in fact, to read in the Webster City Journal that an effort is being made by the Fort Dodge Commercial Club to get concerted action to bring the Second Iowa infantry home from the border.

"It answered the call of the president expecting to do its full duty and as long as there still exists a need or emergency for keeping us here, we are ready and willing to stay, in spite of the hardships it may entail.

"Any effort on the part of any person, organization or group of organizations to use their influence to hasten our return has our unqualified disapproval.

"Captain F. R. Frost, Co. G, "Captain H. H. Heath, Co. F, "First Lieut. James F. Barton, "Co. G, "First Lieut. E. R. Appel, Co. F, "Second Lieutenant Theodore "Munson, Co. F."

OLDEST BACHELOR DEAD.

Abraham Barger, of Lehigh, Dies Four Days Before 101st Birthday. Special to Times-Republican.

Fort Dodge, Feb. 14.—Within four days of his 101st birthday Abraham Barger, the oldest bachelor in Webster county, if not in the state, died at his home near Lehigh yesterday.

Mr. Barger went to bed as usual Sunday night. He lapsed into unconsciousness Monday and remained in this condition until he passed away at an early hour Monday morning.

Mr. Barger was born Feb. 18, 1816, in Lehigh, Pa., and he lived through twenty-five leap years, he withstood the assaults of Cupid and never married.

He made his home with his brother's family. He came to Webster county in 1862 and lived here ever since. He joined the Iowa militia during the civil war and with great regularity attended the Decoration day services in Fort Dodge.

"Moderation in all things" he gave as the motto of his life.

By the terms of the will of Mrs. Isaac Kersey, who died last week, all of her property, which includes a home in South Bedford, was given to Mrs. Will Keith and Mrs. Josephine Ray, neighbors who have cared for her for many years.

Her library was given to the public library. She also left provisions for a $500 monument and set aside $100 for the care of her lot.

Max Lacas was crossing Second street, just west of Warren street, at 8:45 o'clock Saturday night, when his hat blew off. He started to chase it and ran directly in front of an automobile driven by Peter Dow.

He was knocked down, and is in Mercy hospital with a bad skull fracture over his left eye and numerous bruises and cuts on his legs and body.

In every home Sloan's Lintment has earned its place in the medicine chest as a relief from pains and aches.

Quickly penetrates without rubbing and soothes the soreness.

Cleaner and more effective than musky plasters or ointments, it does not stain the skin.

For rheumatism, neuralgia, gout, lumbago, sprains and strains use Sloan's Lintment. At all druggists, 25c. 50c. $1.00.

DRIVEN INSANE BY WAR. German Woman, Who Had Endured Hardships of Conflict, Loses Reason. Special to Times-Republican.

Clinton, Feb. 14.—Grief and anguish, caused largely by the horrors of the European conflict, caused Mrs. Dora Holman, aged 24, who recently came from Germany, to be committed by the Clinton county authorities to the state asylum at Independence for treatment.

She lost her husband thru tubercular pneumonia during the war. In the war one brother was killed and another has been missing for six months.

It was here that she became violently insane and when physicians and authorities were called in consultation she attacked them, believing them to be Englishmen.

CLINGAMAN AT TOLEDO. State University Man Addresses Club on Community Problems. Special to Times-Republican.

Toledo, Feb. 14.—Community problems was the theme of an interesting and practical address given before the Toledo Commercial Club by Prof. O. E. Klingaman, head of the extension division of Iowa State University.

The lecture which was the first of a series arranged for by the organization was given in the club rooms and attended by numerous guests in addition to the regular membership.

The district is to be composed of the original independent district of Kentucky, which takes in a small portion of Palestine, some of the southwestern sections of Washington township and a considerable territory in Boone county.

Another special election will be held later for the purpose of voting bonds for the erection of a school house, equipping the same and providing the carrier's equipment and other necessary preliminary work.

Mrs. Howard Cope, of Hartland, assisted her husband Sunday in the revival meetings at the Friends church.

E. B. May is building a tenant house on his farm west of town, which will be occupied by Paul Cole.

Roland News Notes. Special to Times-Republican. Roland, Feb. 14.—Miss Martha Sheldahl, who has been ill, is now much improved.

Prof. Jacob Schutz has received a letter from Madame Sode Hammer that she will give a concert in Roland the latter part of February or the first of March.

The Berghen choir, under the direction of Prof. Jacob Schutz, has been practicing on the operetta to be given next month.

WAR WILL NOT STOP GAME. George Tebeau Believes Baseball Will Progress Despite International Crisis. Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 14.—The international situation between Germany and the United States will not stop baseball in this country, George Tebeau, owner of the Kansas City team of the American Association, believes.

He made that clear immediately following the severance of diplomatic relations. "Our league will play just the same," the Kansas City magnate said.

There may be some cuts in salaries, but sport should be as good as usual in this country this summer.

However, many of the nation's players probably would respond to a war call, he says should come. It was said, many players, perhaps, could qualify as experts for certain work, some of them having been prominent members of militia organizations while others have technical knowledge that would fit them for participation in particular branches.

Tebeau sent contracts to his players at about the same time President Wilson announced congress with the announcement that Count von Bernstorff had been handed his passports. No changes were made in the contracts for that reason and none will be, Tebeau said, unless the players complain.

"Any player who returns his contract unsigned, will find a bigger cut in his salary when we send him another," Tebeau threatened.

He said that any man who did not sign, could not go to the training camp. He believes most of his players will be satisfied with their contracts, however.

DUMBBELLS IMPROVE BATTER. "Pop" Young Strengthens Writings by Young Heavy Weights. Detroit, Mich., Feb. 14.—Harry Tutill, the well known trainer and publicist for the Detroit Americans, has allowed it to become known why "Pop" Young, the Detroit second baseman, showed improved batting form last season.

"Dumbbells did it," says Tutill. In 1915, Young batted 244 in 122 games. In 1916, he played 153 games and boosted his average to .263 and, incidentally, he hit about 200 in pinches. Regarding this great improvement Tutill has to say:

"The trouble with Young was his wrists. He did not have enough strength to bring his bat around to hit the ball sharply. I finally figured out that if he would swing dumbbells every morning, he would overcome his weakness. The improvement was noticed almost immediately."

STAR CATCHING STAFF. Detroit Americans Expected to Have Best Backstops in Country. Detroit, Feb. 14.—Baseball enthusiasts expect that the Detroit Americans will have the best catching staff in the league this season.

Spencer, one of the stars of 1916, finally signed his contract. He delayed in coming to terms with the club because of the president's request that he be paid $100,000.

Navin canceled an agreement which had provided that Spencer, if released, be sent to the Vernon club of the Pacific Coast League.

Oscar Stange, who usually has a mountain of fish to dispose of in the spring, has been conditioning himself in Detroit this winter.

Review of Sports and Athletic News

Des Moines, Feb. 14.—Iowa's basketball season, which threatened for a time to be desparately dull, has taken on new life in the past few days with the defeat of Grinnell by Ames and the double defeat which the University of Chicago team received when playing Iowa teams.

Ames showing in these games demonstrated that the award of the state title was not a formality but would be a exciting battle on the floors of possibly three schools.

The probability of high class fives, a partial promise of the early season play has been well developed in the later games of the season and with the first series of games over and the second just beginning it is practically certain that five or six teams are as good as any the Iowa teams of the east and also that these five or six teams are well matched.

Ames has been the unusual figure of the year's work. Beaten in their first game by Simpson and just escaping before the state normal five team found itself in its Missouri Valley game against Drake and since then has been a brand of game hard to fathom.

Its work, when it has the ball under the goal of the opponent, probably is the best ever displayed in Iowa. The record of the Ames team shows how one man can make a team. For some reason Erskine, the former Ottumwa high school star, did not come in the first games of the season, but in the Drake game he found himself and since that time has been a large part of the Ames game. Added to this, Page, former Fort Dodge star, with his speed on the floor, and the Ames team can worry most of the teams of this section.

The state university also had a weak beginning and then came strong, but seems to be facing a hard battle with two members barred from trips, and one of these two ineligible because of falling to pass his school work.

Kent has eleven other men on its squad, most of them good looking youngsters but none who can take the place of its regulars.

The most important game of the Hawkeye schedule comes this week Ames and Kent are facing the task of filling two places in less than a week's time.

The Drake team, while better than the average Drake team, has had the usual run of hard luck which follows basketball at the local school. Hawley, considered by many as the best forward in the state, has been used in most of the games.

There is no one out for the season. The semester examinations added one good man to the squad and if the star forward was on the floor, Drake would be able to battle the best in the state on about even terms.

In the Iowa conference, Cornell has been the team of prominence, all the way one to Grinnell. The meeting of the two teams mentioned at Mount Vernon this week will show the relative strength of the two teams.

Simpson has played good basketball and has the distinction of losing more close games than all the other teams combined.
