

DR. CHESIRE WILL EXAMINE FOR DRAFT

IS APPOINTED TO SUCCEED DR. A. C. CONAWAY, WHO WAS EXCUSED BY GOVERNOR.

FOURTH PHYSICIAN MAY BE APPOINTED TODAY

Final Arrangements Being Made by Dr. W. S. Devine, Physician Member of the Board, For Examinations That Start Monday Morning—Numbers to Be Issued to Fix Order.

The last preparations were being made today for the opening of the examination of men for the national army Monday forenoon. A change was made Friday afternoon by Governor Harding in the personnel of the examining physicians so far appointed. Dr. A. C. Conaway was excused from service because he has a commission in the medical reserve corps, and Dr. C. Chesire was appointed in his place. Dr. Chesire will serve.

Dr. W. S. Devine, physician member of the board, late Friday, recommended to the governor for appointment one of the local eye, ear and throat specialists as the fourth examining physician. In case the local board is allowed a fourth physician, which Dr. Devine understands will be the case, the appointment is expected before the day is over.

Prepare Examining Quarters. Dr. Devine today had prepared the grand jury room for the examination of the men. Scales and height measuring devices were installed, and eye testing charts supplied. This afternoon Dr. Devine and the other examining physicians will have a conference to arrange the details of the division of the examinations and the routine to be followed. The examinations will start at 8 o'clock and be continued until noon. They will be resumed at 1:30 and will be discontinued at 5:30.

First come first served—barber shop check system—will be the general system used in establishing the order of the examinations. The summonses for each day have been divided into four groups. One group has been notified to appear at 8 o'clock, another at 10, the third at 1:30, and the rest at 3 o'clock. In this way it was thought time might be saved many who might have had to wait a long time if all were summoned at 8 o'clock. Numbers are being prepared and the first man to appear will get No. 1 and will be the first man examined. Arrangements are being made to announce the numbers in the waiting room as fast as the men are wanted for examination.

At the Hospital. Mrs. A. C. Koshenbush, of Hubbard, underwent an operation for adhesion and the removal of an abdominal tumor at the Deaconess this morning. Her condition is quite satisfactory.

Miss Dorothy Stull, of Green Mountain, passed thru an operation at the Deaconess this morning for chronic recurrent appendicitis. Her condition is good.

Miss Gertrude Espe, 402 South Third street, submitted to a laparotomy at the Deaconess this morning. She is getting along nicely.

John, the 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Amblad, 205 South Fifth street, was operated upon for hernia at the Deaconess this morning. His condition is good.

GIVEN MAY SEE SERVICE.

Former Marshalltown Boy Captain of California Engineers.

Jay A. Given, of Sacramento, Cal., son of Walter Given, of Des Moines, formerly editor of the Times-Republican, is captain of engineers in the California National Guard and expects to see service in France this winter. Captain Given spent his boyhood in Marshalltown and was graduated from the Culver Military Academy, Culver, Ind., and from the engineering department of Iowa State College, Ames. He has been with the Southern Pacific railway, with headquarters at Sacramento, since his graduation from Ames in 1907. The California engineers expect to be ordered to France next fall.

SENATOR ARNEY WEDS

Prominent Business Man and Politician United in Marriage With Mrs. Ruth Binford Buck—Leave at Once on Motor Trip.

An interesting wedding that will be a surprise, even to the more intimate friends had expected it at any time this summer, was very quietly celebrated at 9 o'clock this morning when Mrs. Ruth Binford Buck was married to Senator Wallace H. Arney. The ceremony was performed at the home of Mrs. Buck's mother, Mrs. Angelica Binford, 119 North Second avenue, by Rev. H. O. Pratt. Only Mrs. Binford, her daughter, Jessie, and Mrs. Buck's little son, Richard, were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Arney left shortly after the ceremony for Waterloo, where it is probable they will remain until this evening or Sunday morning. From there they will motor to Osage, where Senator Arney's mother, Mrs. Sarah Arney, is seriously sick. Because of her precarious condition a western journey thru Canada to the coast and return, which Senator Arney had planned for his bride, had to be given up. For the same reason Senator and Mrs. Arney do not expect while away to motor a great distance from Osage, although they may run to some of the Minnesota lakes for short stays. When they return they will live in Mrs. Arney's home, 108 North Second avenue.

Mrs. Arney is a Marshalltown young woman who was born and reared here. She has been active in social and club work and has a great many warm friends. Senator Arney was also born and reared in Marshall county. He lived in Taylor township, where he farmed until three years ago, when he moved to this city. He is president of the Iowa Savings Bank of this city and the Albion Savings Bank, of Albion. Politically he is a republican, and after serving two terms in the house, was elected senator and was re-elected last fall for a second term.

ALBION BANK CHANGE.

A. L. Burgett Sells Interest to Robert W. Stevens, of Vanceville Bank. A. L. Burgett, one of the organizers, and for twelve years cashier of the Albion Savings Bank, has sold his holding in the corporation, amounting to forty-six shares, to Robert W. Stevens, of this city, cashier of the Vanceville Savings Bank. The transfer will become effective Sept. 1, when Mr. Stevens will become cashier of the Albion bank. Mr. Stevens has been at Vanceville about eighteen months, or since the bank was organized.

Mr. Burgett will move to a farm near Montezuma, in which he has had an interest for several years.

TO INSPECT FARM.

Golf Course Architect to Look Over Ingledue Land.

Thru arrangements made by Harry K. Donmead, F. A. Robinson, of Des Moines, a landscape gardener and golf course architect, will come to this city early in the week to inspect the Ingledue farm west of the city, on which an option has been taken for a new site for the country club and golf course. It is expected that Mr. Robinson will advise the Country Club board whether or not the land is suitable, or the best that is available for a golf course. It is probable that he also will be taken to inspect other possible sites near the city.

Feet Crushed in Car.

James Mills, aged 47, a stranger who gave Persia, Iowa, as his last place of residence, was injured at 1 o'clock this morning in the Chicago & Northwestern yards, when he climbed into a freight car of a west-bound train. After Mills had become settled in one end of the car the emergency brakes were set and bridge iron, contained in the car was shunted from the other end into the one occupied by Mills. The iron caught both of the man's feet, crushing them quite badly.

Mills was removed to the Deaconess hospital. He said he was on his way to the northern harvest fields.

CRAWFORD SENTENCED

Employment Agency Man Sentenced to Five Years in Fort Madison For Maintaining Disorderly House—Appeal to Supreme Court.

W. E. Crawford, who operated an employment and real estate agency, and who was convicted late in the winter of maintaining a disorderly resort in the second floor of the building at 11 West Main street, was sentenced to serve not more than five years at hard labor in the Fort Madison penitentiary by Judge Willett this forenoon. Crawford's attorney stated in the court that the case would be appealed to the supreme court. Appeal bond was fixed at $1,500 and Crawford started at once to make arrangements to post it. Since his indictment he has been under $1,000 cash bond.

Judge Willett refused to set aside the verdict and order a new trial. He said in passing sentence that he regarded that Crawford had had a fair trial. The court also pointed out that the court had no option in the matter of sentence, as there was only one sentence, that of not more than five years in the penitentiary provided by statute for the crime for which Crawford was convicted.

An effort was made to have the appeal bond remain at $1,000. The statement was made that Crawford could post a larger bond, and that the $1,000 bond had been posted in cash by Crawford's brother on which Crawford was paying interest.

Licensed to Wed.

A. Springer, machinist, aged 24, and Eula M. Haynes, aged 17, both of this city. Wallace H. Arney, banker, aged 55, and Mrs. Ruth B. Buck, aged 33, both of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ellis, six miles north of the city in Taylor township, are parents of a ten-pound daughter, born at St. Thomas hospital.

LOCAL COMMENT

The people of Marshalltown do not grasp the seriousness of the situation that confronts them in regard to the protection of their shade trees. Marshalltown long has been noted for its beautiful trees. They are a matter of comment with all visitors. But in a few years a lack of trees will be noticed if every possible effort is not put forward to protect the trees from the ravages of the Tussock moth. The history of the damage done by this pest in eastern cities gives all the weight necessary to this statement.

The work done last fall by the children, and for the most part it was left to the children, had its effect, but there were so many eggs deposited high on the trees, beyond the reach of little arms, that the trees this summer are filled with the caterpillars. Every one of the larvae killed means possibly thousands of new worms destroyed. These thousands will feed on the leaves of the trees, destroying them in time, and shut off the breathing power of the trees. The result will be they will die. By killing the caterpillars now, before they reach the pupa stage, or destroyed in the pupa stage before they become moths, to lay more eggs, is the only practical method of fighting the pest.

Bands of cotton batting, fastened tightly with a stout cord about the trees, so that the worms can not pass beneath the bands, probably is the most practical method of getting the caterpillars. They do not appear to want to go over the fuzzy bands. But they will crawl under them, where their cocoons, and there can be destroyed, or they may be killed in wholesale quantities by watching daily, and several times daily, the trees from the point below the cotton. One man who has been watching his trees closely, killed 129 of the worms in a single day on three trees. If these 129 worms had got high into the trees, been transformed into moths, and they, in turn, had laid large clusters of eggs, it is easy to imagine the damage to the trees. And this was the slaughter only of a single day, on three trees. It is going to take patience, and a constant watchfulness on the part of owners and tenants of properties if they combat the ravages of this destructive insect.

"Startling revelations" have been reported to the city council of Cedar Rapids by an examination by the city chemist of the city's milk supply, which was shown by the report to be "grossly impure." Of ten samples examined only one was "anywhere near" the required standard. The other nine were reported by the chemist to be unsanitary. If this situation exists in Cedar Rapids, why not in Marshalltown? How are the people of Marshalltown to know whether or not the milk they feed to babies is pure? They are entitled to know.

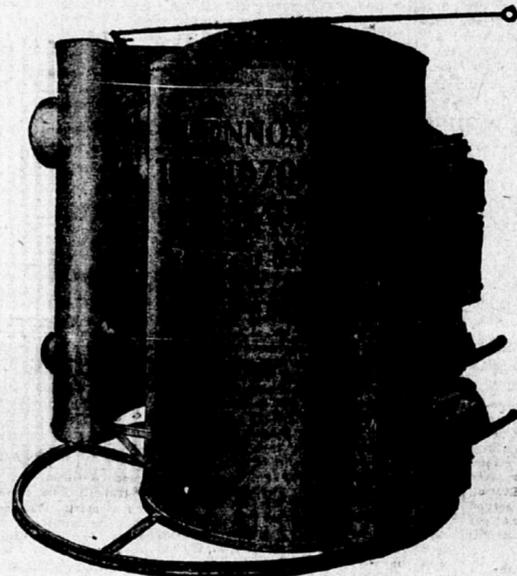

The Y. M. C. A., in view of the fact that its swimming pool is out of commission for the summer, is going to undertake the task of supervising swimming in the Iowa river, and make the sport safer for youngsters. This is a laudable undertaking on the part of the association, for it has been found that the boys will not give up their swimming, and that they go to the river because the pool is not available. If the lads must swim, and all feel that they must, it is far better that they have the supervision of elders than to take chances of being alone in case emergencies are to be coped with. One narrow escape from drowning in the river this week emphasizes the danger, however, and one must not forget that the river at best is treacherous, and may not be the same the next day as it was the day before.

Put a Furnace In Your Old House

WHO is going to get the benefit of war prices on corn; the wife and children in the house or the hogs and the cattle in the barns?

Our winter will be a cold one and your house needs a big, warm-air furnace to keep everybody warm. It will keep your floors warm where the babies live. It will heat every room in the house to an even temperature with fresh air.

Why live in close, stuffy rooms, where foul air will be heated over and over again with stoves? Why have coal gas in your living rooms and ice-cold sheets in the bed rooms, when a modern, gas tight furnace of heavy steel plates can be installed to make your house as modern, as clean, as warm, as comfortable and as healthful as any house in town?

Lennox Torrid Zone Steel Furnaces

are quick to heat because steel radiates heat instantly. They are gas tight and clean because they are made gas tight like a steam boiler, with no cemented joints to loosen and leak coal gas into the air chamber.

They are powerful heaters, sold thruout the Canadian northwest, where none but the most powerful can battle with a northern winter, because they have long smoke travel thru an extra radiator, and have immense radiating surface to warm large volumes of air. They respond instantly in mild weather to light fires of trash, wood or refuse about the place, and large, double fuel doors make firing easy with any kind of fuel—hard or soft coal, coke or wood.

We have dealers in every county in Iowa and expert engineers at the factory to design perfect warm air heating plans for any building—new or old.

Put some of your war prosperity into your house, where your wife and children live. When you are old and retired, they will be of more importance to you than the best of live stock are now.

Build and improve and make your house warm all over, while corn brings $1.00 per bushel or more.

LITTLE EMIL PALLEMBERG IS NEWEST BABY WITH BARNUM & BAILY CIRCUS

There is a new baby with the Barnum & Baily circus, which will be seen here Tuesday afternoon and evening. He is Emil Pallenberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pallenberg who have the trained bears which go on roller skates and ride bicycles. The little fellow is just passed his 1st year, and you may be sure that there is keen rivalry among the women behind the scenes for the privilege of taking care of the baby when his mother and father are out before the audience putting their black and brown bears thru their stunts.

Little Emil came along late in the winter of 1915, and was just in time to take the place of Katherine Wallace, who for five years was the pet of every member of the circus organization from the canvasmen to the clowns. Little Katherine is too old now to be a circus baby—being all of 5 years—so she was left behind in New York to go to school. Her mother, who is inconsolable when the big show first started on the road, but Katherine must be educated and the big show will not see her again as a traveling pet until her school days are over and then, perhaps, she will follow the circus rule and become understudy to her mother, later to take her place.

Before the circus left New York Katherine paid an official visit to the new baby and gravely bestowed upon it the kiss of sovereignty. Little Emil Fallenberg smiled under the kiss. He smiled too, when the photographer's flashlight went off right in his eyes, thereby proving himself a true son of the circus.

"He is the nicest baby I ever saw," declared Katherine, and she ought to know. She has brought up baby tigers and baby snakes and can tell just how to modify milk for a sickly kangaroo baby. She was delighted when she heard there was a real human baby to play with this year, but her joy was short-lived when it was decreed that she could not accompany it on the road.

Teaching a grizzly to ride a bicycle has no terrors for the mistress of the trained bears, but she confessed to some trepidation concerning the problem of getting her boy to sleep nights when the elephants tramp.

"I no like bears any more," she said, in her broken English. "Baby much nicer. I take him always with me. If they no let him go I no go and bears no go."

The bears came out of Germany with Emil Pallenberg three years ago. They went first to Holland and put up at an inn, where there was a beautiful daughter with circus ambitions. She and the bear master eloped, going first
