

Cuticura Is Just Right For Baby's Tender Skin. Bathe him with Cuticura Soap and warm water. Dry gently and if any sign of redness, roughness, itching, or soreness, smear with Cuticura Ointment to soften, soothe and heal. Finally dust on a few grains of the fragrant, delicately scented Cuticura Talcum.

HEARTS TREATED FREE

By Dr. Franklin Miles, the Great Specialist Who Secures a $250 Treatment and New Book Free. Heart disease is dangerous, hundreds drop dead who could have been saved. Many report cured after doctors failed. To prove the remarkable efficiency of this method, a special treatment for heart disease, short breath, pain in side, shoulder or arm, oppression, irregular, palpitation, smothering, and puffing of ankles or droopy, Dr. Miles will send to afflicted persons a $250 Free Treatment. Bad cases usually soon relieved.

Cured His Piles

New 80 Years Old But Works At Trade of Blacksmith and Feels Younger Than Piles. The oldest active blacksmith in Michigan is still pounding his anvil in the town of Homer—thanks to my internal method for treating piles.

Mr. Joseph Lyon, Homer, Mich. I wish that you could hear him tell of his many experiences with internal piles, salves, dilators, etc., before he tried my method. Here is a letter just received from him:

Dear Sir: I want you to know that your treatment has done for me, what I had suffered with for many years and used suppositories and all kinds of treatments, but never got relief until I tried yours. Am now completely cured. At the age of 88 years old, and the oldest active blacksmith in Michigan, I feel years younger since the piles have left me. I will surely recommend it to all I know who suffer this way. You can see my letter any way you wish and hope it will lead others to try this wonderful remedy.

Yours truly, J. L. LYON, 10 Page Bldg., Marshall, Mich. Please send free trial of your method to:

FREE PILE REMEDY R. Page, 10 Page Bldg., Marshall, Mich. Please send free trial of your method to:

WASH REMOVES RINGS UNDER EYES. Marshalltown people will be surprised how quickly simple white-camphor hydratis, etc., as used in Lavoptik eye wash, relieves white eyes and dark rings. One lady who had eye trouble and unsightly dark rings was relieved by a single week's use of Lavoptik eye wash.

PLANS TO SPEED ASSEMBLY WORK

LEADERS PREPARING TO PUSH PRELIMINARIES OF LEGISLATIVE SESSION.

SESSION CONVENES ON MONDAY, JAN. 10.

Message of Retiring Governor to Be Received on Tuesday, and Kendall Will Be Inaugurated on the Thursday Following—No Early recess to Be Held if Leaders Have Their Say.

Special to Times-Republican. Des Moines, Dec. 30.—Iowa legislators will be gathering in the capital city the coming week and all of the members will be here by Saturday, Jan. 8, when the caucuses for the selection of the speaker of the house and other officers of the legislature will take place. The session will convene Monday, Jan. 10.

On Monday the organization of the house and senate will be perfected with the formal election of the speaker of the house and the lieutenant governor. The caucus will be held Thursday evening, and the inauguration will be held Thursday morning.

Heretofore the custom has always been to adjourn Thursday in order to give the speaker of the house and the lieutenant governor a chance of occupying the chair. The force of secretaries and clerks will be elected and the members of both branches sworn in. If the usual procedure is followed the message of the retiring governor will be received at a joint session of both the house and senate Tuesday afternoon. Thursday the incoming governor will be inaugurated and give his address and the inaugural ball will be held Thursday evening.

Plans for Speeding Up. There is a disposition this year to hurry along the legislative process so that, if possible, they may be ready to announce Thursday. If so the session can continue without the usual three-day layoff, and time counts this year, the old timers say, when one revises the constitution in the care of and the constitutional convention provided for.

Action the first day or so of the session fixing a time limit for the introduction of bills seems assured. The plan is to pass a concurrent resolution at the time of the introduction of bills other than appropriation bills and committee bills.

The further plan is to promptly appoint a code revision committee composed of eight members of the senate and eight members of the house to have general supervision of matters of procedure in connection with code revision. The revision committee is to make summary and statement of pending legislation about Feb. 15 and to report to the legislature the time required to dispose of it and to recommend the consideration of such code revision bills as it is believed can be disposed of without imperiling those that may not be reached.

Major Leon W. Alsworth, who during the world war was promoted to have charge of all of the foreign cable services with headquarters in London, is to be secretary of the senate. Before the war Major Alsworth was manager of the Des Moines office of the Western Union Telegraph Company and gained an acquaintance with politicians thru his services in helping wire out the news of political conventions and big political gatherings here. Since the war he has made his home in Ames.

There is no apparent change in the speaker's position, with Representative Frank B. Hays, of Black Hawk county, evidently the winner. Representative James B. Weaver, of Polk county, is particularly interested in putting thru code revision and it is expected he will push this aggressively.

In the caucus of the coming general assembly there are sixty-three members without legislative experience and there are more than the usual number of inexperienced senators. This fact is one of the arguments for code revision, since the new members will have the experience of the regular session to help them in the code revision work.

ELECTORS TO VOTE JAN. 13. Iowa to Carry Out Formality at State Capital.

Des Moines, Dec. 30.—Iowa's thirteen presidential electors will meet at the seat of government "the seat of government" on this date on Jan. 10, 1921, the second Monday of the year, to cast their ballots for the president of the United States. They are pledged to Iowa's solid republican vote last November, to vote for Warren G. Harding, the republican candidate for president, and the casting of their ballots here is merely a formality, the result of which is known three months in advance.

certificates is filed with a district judge here; the second set of thirteen is sent by mail to the president of the United States; and the third set of certificates is sent by special messenger to the president of the United States senate.

In addition to these certificates, each elector received a certificate, sent by the governor in accordance with a statute, inviting him to attend the meeting of the electors here.

Grinnell and Vicinity. Special to Times-Republican. Grinnell, Dec. 30.—The J. T. Hays home in this city witnessed a family gathering of note. It was the complete family with one exception, a son in Idaho. The two from out of the city were Mrs. Charles Sexton from Ferguson, Iowa, and Mrs. Joseph Smith of Newburg.

Mr. and Mrs. H. I. Davis have had a visit from Mrs. Davis's brother, A. M. Trimble, who has now returned to his home in Lincoln, Neb. Mr. Morgan, of Grinnell, a veteran of the civil war, plans to enjoy New Year's day in a double capacity, as it will be his ninetieth birthday.

Oscar Stowe plans to start early next week on his return trip to his home in Dakota. He has been visiting a brother in Montezuma and other relatives in Grinnell.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Emery have had an enjoyable visit from Mr. and Mrs. Harold Guth, whose home is at Lakota, S. D. Guth was accompanied by Arlene Powers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Powers, then of Grinnell.

Gerald Laros, who has been visiting relatives and friends in Grinnell and near vicinity, started on Tuesday on his return to his home and work in Cincinnati, O.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Fraser are again in their home in Grinnell after a visit at the G. M. Fraser home in Albert Lea, Minn.

Professor and Mrs. Matlack and family have been enjoying a visit from Mr. and Mrs. A. Wolcott Matlack, who have now gone back to their home in Staebenville, O. The two men are brothers.

The C. S. Woods home is entertaining for a few days Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Allen, who come from their home in Owatonna, Minn.

Elders News Notes. Special to Times-Republican. Elders, Dec. 30.—There is a new baby in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shirley, living in the north part of town. The Congregational Sunday school recently received a box of five oranges, the gift of Edgar and Robert Hugginbotham, of Redlands, Calif. Former residents of Elders. At a recent meeting of the American Legion post the following officers were chosen: Commander, Albert Steinberg; vice commander, Larry Moser; adjutant, Frank Gill; finance officer, Carroll Cruik. Dr. Frank Boddy, with his wife is spending the winter in Florida, recently sent to his mother, Mrs. Sarah Boddy, of Elders, a box of fruit.

The Palace of Darkened Windows

By MARY HASTINGS BRADLEY

"You were told there was a quarantine, weren't you?" Billy supplied, as she hesitated. "I suspected I had seen you drive off in that motor."

"The Baroff told me—that Vienna girl who came into your room." "Why, you know everything! How did you?"

"I was painting out in front of the palace," Billy sounded more and more casual as she spoke. "You said you were an engineer," said Arlee. His heart jumped. At least she had remembered that!

"So I am—the painting was just a joke." "And you happened there," she began, wondering, and after he had opened his mouth to correct her, he closed it silently again. Gratitude was an unwieldy bond. He did not want to burden her with obligation.

Stoutly he dwelt upon Falconer's part in the attack the next night, and upon the entire reasonableness of his abandonment of the trail. He put it down to his own mulishness that he had hung on and had learned thru the little boy of her removal from the palace.

He interrupted himself then with questions, and she told him of her strange trip down the Nile in the dahabiyeh, under guard of the old woman and the Nubian. "But how did you come?" "Well, I just swung on to the same train he was in," said Billy. "And I got out at Asatou because he'd bought a ticket there, but I couldn't see a thing of him in the darkness and confusion of the station, and I had a horrible feeling that he'd gone somewhere else. The Lord knows where to you. But the limp—that's the little Arab boy who adopted me and my cause—went racing up and down, and he got a glimpse of the captain tearing off on a horse and a woman in a long black dress carrying a bundle on a donkey. The man raced behind him and yelled he'd dropped something. The man went back to look, and the limp ran alongside him, asking him for work as a donkey boy, but the fellow shook him off and went on his way. We lost the horseman when we kept the donkey-man in sight and followed him on to the village. I recognized where the limp stole these two camels—jolly good ones they are—and I was trying to make out where you were for there were lights in several windows. I suddenly heard your voice and then I saw a glare of fire. Well, my revolver was a passport. Now, how about that fire?"

"What started it?" "I don't know," she was trying to make love to me," he answered breathlessly, "and I just got to the candles." "Are you burned at all? Truthfully now? I never stopped to ask."

"If I am, I don't know it," she laughed. "I'm not. Then, 'Isn't this crazy!' she burst forth with. "It's—it's off the beaten track," Billy B. Hill admitted. "It's a jump back into the Middle Ages." His note of laughter joined hers as they sat staring owlishly at each other thru the dark of the after-storm.

A little longer they talked, their questions and answers fitted back and forth over those six strange days; then, as the excitement waned, Billy heard a sleepy little sigh and saw a small hand covering a yawn. The girl's slender shoulders were writhing with incalculable fatigue. Instantly he commanded sleep, and obediently she curled down into the little nest he prepared, plowing her head upon his coat and almost instantly he heard her rhythmic breathing, slow and untroubled as a little child. His heart swelled with a feeling for which he had no name, as he sat there, his back against a camel, staring out into the night, an unknown feeling in which joy was very deep and triumph was merged into a holy thankfulness.

Live Sports News and Comment

Hoyt Back in New York After Being Shifted Often

Walter Hoyt has gone back to Greater New York. The Brooklyn lead, who as the star pitcher of the Erasmus ball team was signed by John J. McGraw, was shifted to the minors and then came back and made an enviable record for himself in the big time circuit, was recently traded by Harry A. Frazee of the Boston Red Sox with three other players to the New York Yankees.

Folz has been called one of the most promising right handers in the American League and although he has only just turned 21 he has been taking his turn on the mound for the Boston Red Sox. He has been successful in winning despite the fact that he is the youngest twirler in either league.

Coach "Hurry-Up" Yost, of Michigan, is one of the western gridiron masters who will never consent to a change in the football rules that will curb the effectiveness of the forward pass. Yost recently broke into print with a condemnation for those coaches who propose to limit the usefulness of the pass. In his statement he declared there was entirely too much tampering with the game and that unless the rules completely learned to let the rules alone, the game will be ruined.

Football players were not the only ones at the Ohio State special to California, who took exercise in various stopping places en route to Pasadena. When the train arrived at Chicago, Coach Wiley and Assistant Coach Chick Harley rode out all the followers in the party and ordered them to take the same hike that was prescribed for the football players. There was not a dissenting voice, and the Buckeye group walked in a merry song as they struck out for Lincoln Park road where most of the walking was done. Coach Wiley enjoyed a laugh as some of the followers not in the best of condition, lagged themselves back to headquarters.

Branch Rickey is blocking a record sale in baseball. John McGraw, of the Giants, said last week he would be glad to buy Roger Hornsby outright even at the record price of $1,000,000. Rickey, who is in charge of the sale, says that McGraw would not let him know he would pay this fabulous amount for the Cardinal star during a fanning bee, when he cuts the Texas look. McGraw let it be known he would pay this fabulous amount for the Cardinal star during a fanning bee, when he cuts the Texas look.

Many young tennis players work day and night during the season to develop respectability of play. Vincent Richards, one of the most brilliant players in the east, is suffering from too many strokes and is unable to play. Richards' supply of strokes was never noted generally until attention was called to it by Norman E. Brooks, the great Australian player. Brooks says Richards' variety of strokes is a positive menace to his advancement in the court game, and bids the youngsters to forget many of his freak strokes.

Decisively he jumped to his feet and said breakfast. Where was it? What was to be done? Directions were vague. They had breakfast on the edge of the desert, and the Nile lay somewhere to the east of them, and to the east, there fore lay breakfast and trains and telegraph lines and all the outposts of civilization.

As they looked their hearts stirred and quickened with that incommensurable thrill of the desert, and their eyes turned and sought each other in silence. The words of the hymn were written with incalculable fatigue. Instantly he commanded sleep, and obediently she curled down into the little nest he prepared, plowing her head upon his coat and almost instantly he heard her rhythmic breathing, slow and untroubled as a little child.

He had meant but forty winks, but it had been when his eyes closed and it opened them to the real half-light of early dawn. The sky was purple; the sands were fawn-colored; the crest of a low hill to the east shone as if it were living gold, and the next instant it seemed as if a heavy wind had sprung up. It was the sun shining up in the heavens and great waves of color, like a sea of flame, mounted higher and higher with it.

Impulsively Billy bent over the little figure sleeping so soundly at his side, speaking her name gently. And Arlee, waking with a start and a catch of her breath that went to his heart, opened her eyes on a wild splendor of morning that seemed the other aspect of the radiant joy within her. They looked and looked while the

WHILE YOU'RE TALKING

BROWN SAYS

Whenever Ty Cobb's advent as a big league manager is discussed some of the chimes in the party usually chime in with the thought that Cobb can not expect to hold a team to discipline when he never has yielded to discipline himself. But these birds are shooting wide at the mark.

They point out that Cobb reported late for spring training and ignored the club rules. These rules are designed for the good of the players who do not study, judge for themselves or consider seriously their own good. No one ever has accused Ty Cobb of injuring his playing ability by late starts.

Cobb studied his own makeup and physical needs as thoroughly as he studied pitchers and batters and base-runners. That he schooled himself in the game before he became a player in the game proved that he managed himself successfully. When he knows that the responsibility for the success of a ball club rests on the shoulders alone of the manager, he will be a manager.

Easy Days For Batters. Dick Hobble, who last year managed the Akron team, and will be managing present day hitting with Mike Donlin in a fanning bee at the New York baseball gathering.

The batters have a snap compared with several years ago," said Hobble. "Nowadays the pitchers must throw a white ball which you can always see, and you know they can not curve it. As soon as it becomes nicked or winged it goes out of play. Soft for the batter."

"Should say it is soft," injected Donlin. "The pitchers have a tough time of it with the restrictions on the pitching, which gives the batters lots of confidence. Remember when I was with the Pirates?" asked Mike. "Well, the first day I went in to hit against the Giants we had two men on and Red Ames had me in and nothing. Then he laid one in and I smacked it out for two sacks and broke up the game. It was the first game of a double-header. Between games I asked Ames why he did not hook one for me. It meant my life. He would be taken from me," he replied. "That gave me the tip that McGraw would not allow a pitcher to throw a curve. He had a standing fine for the pitcher who threw a curve for me, and I must have hit 300 against the Giants that season."

"That is something like the condition that exists today." "great butterflies strayed, as gold and dewdrops as the day. High overhead, black against the stainless blue, hung a far hawk."

"At last the way entered a narrow defile among the rocky hills, and a sharp curve led them finally out upon the open side, looking down into green fields as straight and trim as checker boards in a vast, varying tints, and off over the far Nile. The fertile lands were wide here, and fed with broad canals that offered the surprise of boats' white wings between the fields of grain. Not far ahead, beyond the desert sands, stood that magic green roof of a group of palms, and near them some mud houses and a pigeon tower.

"Breakfast," said Billy triumphant, and gaily they rode down on the sleeping village. Back toward the Libyan hills runs the canal El-Souhayan, and as it curves to the north a reach of sand sweeps down from the higher ground, interrupting the succession of green fields. Jagged rocks have tumbled down from the limestone plateau above and increased the grateful bit of shade which the half dozen picturesque palms do not sufficiently bestow.

A Stubborn Cough Loosens Right Up

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easily and pleasantly.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest congestion, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get relief in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, croup, throat tickle, bronchial asthma or winter coughs.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 3/4 ounce of Pinex into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. This mixture is a ready-made molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you get a full pint of a family supply of cough relief for less than 10c. You could buy ready-made for three times the money. Keeps perfectly and children love to take it.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract. It is a natural, drug-free preparation. It is a natural, drug-free preparation. It is a natural, drug-free preparation.

Ask your doctor about Gleesco. Your druggist will tell you that there is more of it sold every year than all other cough medicines. It costs 50c per bottle and is worth ten times as much in time of need.

Dr. Drake's GLEESCO FREE TO ASTHMA SUFFERERS Free Trial of a Method That Anyone Can Use Without Discomfort or Loss of Time.

We have a method for the control of Asthma, Hay Fever, and other allergic conditions. It is a simple, safe, and effective method. It is a simple, safe, and effective method.

FREE TRIAL COUPON FRONTIER ASTHMA CO., Room 1618 Niagara and Hudson Streets, Buffalo, N. Y. Send free trial of your method to:

Bronchial Troubles. Soothe the irritation and you relieve the distress. Do both quickly and easily by using promptly a dependable remedy—PISO'S.

Railroad Time Table. MINNEAPOLIS & ST. LOUIS. Effective April 1, 1921. NORTH BOUND. No. 1—Albert Lea Mail (except Sunday) 8:43 a.m. No. 2—Mason City Mail (except Sunday) 8:05 p.m. No. 5—North Star Limited (daily) 1:35 a.m. Local freight (except Sun.) 6:30 a.m. SOUTH BOUND. No. 2—St. Louis and Keosauqua City Mail (except Sun.) 5:50 p.m. No. 10—Peoria Express (except Sunday) 8:30 a.m. No. 6—North Star Limited (daily) 1:35 a.m. Local freight (except Sun.) 6:30 a.m. ST. LOUIS CITY BRANCH. Leave Arrive 9:00 a.m. (except Sunday) 5:00 p.m. 9:00 p.m. Passenger (daily) 8:25 a.m.

and fracturing the jaw, but saving his life. Thomas had taken hold of a plug which had been charged by a short circuit and could not break away.

Whenever Ty Cobb's advent as a big league manager is discussed some of the chimes in the party usually chime in with the thought that Cobb can not expect to hold a team to discipline when he never has yielded to discipline himself. But these birds are shooting wide at the mark.

They point out that Cobb reported late for spring training and ignored the club rules. These rules are designed for the good of the players who do not study, judge for themselves or consider seriously their own good. No one ever has accused Ty Cobb of injuring his playing ability by late starts.

Cobb studied his own makeup and physical needs as thoroughly as he studied pitchers and batters and base-runners. That he schooled himself in the game before he became a player in the game proved that he managed himself successfully. When he knows that the responsibility for the success of a ball club rests on the shoulders alone of the manager, he will be a manager.

Easy Days For Batters. Dick Hobble, who last year managed the Akron team, and will be managing present day hitting with Mike Donlin in a fanning bee at the New York baseball gathering.

The batters have a snap compared with several years ago," said Hobble. "Nowadays the pitchers must throw a white ball which you can always see, and you know they can not curve it. As soon as it becomes nicked or winged it goes out of play. Soft for the batter."

"Should say it is soft," injected Donlin. "The pitchers have a tough time of it with the restrictions on the pitching, which gives the batters lots of confidence. Remember when I was with the Pirates?" asked Mike. "Well, the first day I went in to hit against the Giants we had two men on and Red Ames had me in and nothing. Then he laid one in and I smacked it out for two sacks and broke up the game. It was the first game of a double-header. Between games I asked Ames why he did not hook one for me. It meant my life. He would be taken from me," he replied. "That gave me the tip that McGraw would not allow a pitcher to throw a curve. He had a standing fine for the pitcher who threw a curve for me, and I must have hit 300 against the Giants that season."

"That is something like the condition that exists today." "great butterflies strayed, as gold and dewdrops as the day. High overhead, black against the stainless blue, hung a far hawk."

"At last the way entered a narrow defile among the rocky hills, and a sharp curve led them finally out upon the open side, looking down into green fields as straight and trim as checker boards in a vast, varying tints, and off over the far Nile. The fertile lands were wide here, and fed with broad canals that offered the surprise of boats' white wings between the fields of grain. Not far ahead, beyond the desert sands, stood that magic green roof of a group of palms, and near them some mud houses and a pigeon tower.

"Breakfast," said Billy triumphant, and gaily they rode down on the sleeping village. Back toward the Libyan hills runs the canal El-Souhayan, and as it curves to the north a reach of sand sweeps down from the higher ground, interrupting the succession of green fields. Jagged rocks have tumbled down from the limestone plateau above and increased the grateful bit of shade which the half dozen picturesque palms do not sufficiently bestow.