

MAN HUNT LED BY BROTHERS

Farmers of Two Counties Engage in Search for Marzyk.

ONE MAN IS ARRESTED

Feeling so High That Legal Authorities Will Not Permit the Jailing of the Prisoner in the County.

Ellsworth, Kan., Oct. 20.—Never since the day when cattle thieves infested this western Kansas country has there been seen such a man hunt here as was waged yesterday for the murderer of the Showman family, slain here last Monday, but the slayer is still at large.

Sheriffs and citizens possess in motor cars, persons in carriages and horseback, and men on foot, all heavily armed, searched this and Rice county, the first county south, all day. Most of these men are determined that the murderer shall expiate his crime by death. They are not backward about saying they will shoot if the suspect is sighted. So grave has become the danger of lynching in case of an arrest that Prosecutor Samuel Bartlett yesterday notified county officials that under no circumstances should a prisoner in the case be imprisoned in this county. Arrangements have been made with the sheriffs of three counties for keeping the prisoner should an arrest be made.

came a message that a man answering the description of Charles Marzyk, who is being sought in connection with the murder, was being detained. The man was apprehended by the sheriff, who had a telegraphic description of Marzyk. Local officers last night forwarded a photograph of Marzyk to Newkirk to be used in identifying the suspect.

Sheriff Bradshaw and a force of deputies spent the day near Geneseo, twenty miles south of here, searching for a man who is said to fit the description of a man who left some bloody clothes at the Baker hotel here on the night of the murder. The sheriff's search was fruitless.

One of the largest posses was led by three brothers of William Showman, the head of the murdered family. Two of them had rifles and the other a shot gun. This shot gun belonged to the dead man, and it was agreed that if the suspect was sighted and was within range Samuel, one of the brothers, should take the first shot at him with William's gun.

JUHL IS GIVEN A LIFE SENTENCE

Accomplice of Tom Hatch Pleads Guilty to Murder.

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 21.—Peter Juhl, an escaped Stillwater prison convict, who on Aug. 12 shot Detective Frazer, Frazer dying a day or two later, yesterday afternoon pleaded guilty in the district court to murder in the second degree and was given a life sentence in the penitentiary from which he had escaped. After the death of Detective Frazer, Juhl was returned to the penitentiary to serve his original sentence.

The shooting of Frazer took place on a street car in the heart of the city. Frazer had placed Juhl under arrest under suspicion of being a "plume thief" and failed to recognize him as the escaped convict. It was during the struggle which followed that the detective was shot.

MURDERER MAKES GOOD HIS ESCAPE

Detectives Admit Chances to Capture Marzyk are Few.

Ellsworth, Kas., Oct. 21.—Private detectives and county officers who have been searching since last Monday for the man who murdered the five members of the Showman family, say today the outlook for the capture of the slayer is gloomy. They believe the murderer has left this vicinity.

Every report save one, that the man detained at Newkirk, Okla., resembles Charles Marzyk, who is under suspicion, has been investigated and no light shed on the mystery. An officer who knows Marzyk was sent to Newkirk last night to attempt identification.

For a time yesterday officers thought they had John Smith, the mysterious man who left bloody clothes at the Baker house here on the night of the murder, and who was found by a coroner's jury to be responsible for the killing. At Kanopolis yesterday John Smitherman, a laboring man from Junction City, Kas., was arrested by local officers. However, Sheriff John Harber of Junction City came here last night and practically convinced the authorities that Smitherman had nothing to do with the Showman case.

A private detective yesterday found finger prints on a bucket in which the murderer washed his hands before leaving the Showman house. A message has been sent to Lansing prison, requesting copies of the finger prints of Marzyk.

Two Killed in Revolver Fight.

New Orleans, Oct. 21.—A special dispatch was received here last night from Celba, Honduras, stating that Lot Tomlinson, an American, was killed last Monday in a revolver fight with a native, which also resulted in the death of the native. Tomlinson was constructing a branch railroad for Vaccaro brothers and had a quarrel with the Honduran. He was a native Texan and formerly was with the Texas rangers.

Aviator Abandons Trip.

Pasadena, Cal., Oct. 21.—Aviator Fowler abandoned his proposed transcontinental flight yesterday afternoon. His manager wanted him to return to Los Angeles and make a flight over the hippodrome there Sunday. He refused to do so.

PASTOR ACCUSED OF MURDER

Time of Hearing Set on Date Announced for the Wedding.

REV. RICHESON IS IN PRISON.

Police Claim That He is Responsible For Death of Avis Linnell, the Music Academy Student.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 21.—A narrow cell in Charles street jail today holds the Rev. Clarence Virgil Thompson Richeson, the young pastor of the Emmanuel Baptist church, Cambridge, who was arrested yesterday for the alleged murder of pretty Avis Linnell of Hyannis, Mass., to whom he had been engaged. His commitment to jail without bail on a charge of first degree murder, marked a temporary end to a chain of circumstances which police detectives have followed assiduously since the death of Miss Linnell last Saturday by cyanide of potassium poisoning.

Miss Linnell, who was 19 years old and a student at the Conservatory of Music, was found dead in the bathroom of the Young Women's Christian association home here. At first the police believed she had committed suicide, but later developments indicated that she had unknowingly taken cyanide of potassium sent her by some other person, in the belief that it would remedy her embarrassing physical condition.

For several days the police inquiry made little progress, but information received early yesterday that Mr. Richeson had purchased cyanide of potassium at a drug store in Newton led the officials to decide upon his arrest. A dozen officers, headed by Deputy Superintendent Watts, were forced to maintain an eight-hour vigil outside the fashionable home in Brookline of Moses Grant Edmonds, where the clergyman had been staying during the past week before Richeson was taken in custody. Repeated pulls at the doorbells, rappings and shouts failed to bring any response from those within the house through the night and the police who were without a warrant, were unwilling to make a forcible entrance.

The deputy superintendent and his assistants with a crowd of newspaper men remained on guard until about 7 a. m., when they were admitted.

Mr. Edmonds is the father of Miss Violet Edmonds, for whose marriage to Mr. Richeson on Oct. 31 cards had been issued. These invitations were recalled today. The Edmonds family, however, maintains faith in Mr. Richeson, and the only announcement in connection with the withdrawal of the cards was that the marriage had been postponed. Richeson's hearing has been set for this date.

Even when faced by William Hahn, the Newton druggist who declared that Richeson had purchased cyanide of potassium from him a week ago Tuesday, the minister was apparently unperturbed. As Hahn was shown into the room at police headquarters, Richeson stepped forward and shook his hand. It was noticeable that the druggist was more moved than the accused man.

Facing the clergyman, Hahn, who has known Mr. Richeson for several years, told how Richeson walked to his store Tuesday evening, Oct. 10, and said: "I've got a dog at home that is creating a disturbance. She will be a nuisance unless I can kill her soon."

Mr. Hahn said that he responded to Richeson: "I never knew you had a dog," and that Richeson replied that he kept it in his room.

Another Message Found.

Boone, Oct. 21.—Another message from the balloon Topeka II, entered in the international balloon race contesting for the American long distance record, was picked up by some teamsters seven miles south of town yesterday. It was similar to the one picked up near Luther recently.

Yield Four Tons Per Acre.

Story City, Oct. 21.—M. O. Marvick has finished harvesting his fourth crop of alfalfa this year. The dry weather of the past summer seems to have been strictly to the liking of Marvick's alfalfa field. When everything in the ordinary grass line looked seared and yellow, the alfalfa loomed up greener and judicer than ever. The four acre field looked like a veritable oasis in a barren desert.

The four cuttings have averaged about a ton to the acre each, making something like sixteen tons of fine hay from the little field.

Rodgers Reaches Waco.

Waco, Tex., Oct. 20.—"Cal" P. Rodgers, the aviator, en route from the Atlantic to the Pacific, flew from Dallas to Waco yesterday, 100 miles, in ninety-five minutes, landing at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. His only stop was at Hillsboro, thirty-four miles north of Waco, where he replenished his gasoline supply.

Before alighting Rodgers circled a downtown office building twice, made a perilous dip and flew around the city, descending in his flight to just above the house tops.

He resumed his journey this morning, with Austin, 108 miles distant, as the next stopping point.

Mrs. Rush at Sheffield.

Hampton, Oct. 21.—Mrs. Aletha Rush, recently acquitted of the charge of murdering her husband, is spending a few days at Sheffield with friends before going to her old home at Jamison, Clarke county, where she will reside with her parents.

Her visit to Sheffield is the result of urgent requests of many of her friends who stood by her throughout her recent ordeal. She was accompanied to the town by her father.

Fell Down Shaft.

Cedar Falls, Oct. 20.—Stanley Moore of Waterloo, employed by the Blackhawk Construction company which is erecting the new bank building here fell down the elevator shaft at 2:45 yesterday afternoon and sustained a fracture of his left ankle and possible other injuries the extent of which are not known at this hour.

Mr. Moore came to Cedar Falls from Waterloo yesterday afternoon to look over the work on the building here and in some manner stepped or stumbled into the open elevator shaft falling two stories. He was at once removed to a hospital.

Watch Two Suspects.

Santa Barbara, Cal., Oct. 19.—Two men are under surveillance in connection with the alleged attempt to dynamite the El Capitan bridge over which President Taft's train passed early Monday morning, according to admissions made last night by authorities. They deny that arrests are imminent.

The theory of an expert coming to the bridge with high explosives seems to be doubted since the stamp on the dynamite found there is the same as that used by the Southern Pacific workmen in blasting along this section.

The Obscure Glory.

Des Moines News: Four men of high distinction met in the corridors of the state house of one of our western capitals. Life had brought them honor and success. One was a normal school president, another a leading lawyer, one a state official, and one a merchant of prominence and wealth. They had been school boys together.

Suddenly one of them said: "Do you remember little Miss M. who taught us first in the old district school house on the prairie? I owe all that I have done and been to that little woman." Instantly each of the other three said, "And so do I."

The teacher of whom they spoke had long been dead, a victim of consumption while she was still little more than a girl. She had died before her ambition could flower. Perhaps she died lamenting that her little circumscribed life, hemmed in by the limitations of that prairie school house, had been bare of opportunity. Yet years afterward four men who had left a mark upon their time were to say with affection and reverence: "I owe all I am to that woman."

If all the men in the world could speak their inmost belief as to the guiding influence of their lives, we should no doubt hear an almost unanimous testimony to the abiding power of small things.

In the smallest corner of human life, consecrated human service fills the world with light and beauty, unconsciously touching human souls with noble aspirations that make life "marvelous in the powers that cannot die."

Prominent in Her Class.

The following dispatch, giving more particulars in relation to the Self Government League of Grinnell College, was sent out from that city yesterday:

Miss Dorothy Tuttle of Webster City has been honored by the girls of the college here by election to the office of vice president of the Self Government League. Miss Tuttle is a senior in college and is one of the prominent girls of her class, assisting last year in the production of the junior annual as well as carrying the leading part in "The Faith-Healer," the society play of the year. The other officers of the League are Mabel Welch, president, of Chicago. Hazel Bemis of Bondurant, treasurer, and Helen Somers of Grinnell, secretary.

The girls of the college have only this year completed their plans for self government. Organizations which have been successful in other institutions have been studied and a constitution worked out to meet local needs. This constitution was adopted at a mass meeting last week. Hereafter the social usages of the college will be set by the girls themselves. The rulings of the constitution, however, embrace the customs that have long governed educational affairs in the college. This move attempts to prevent delinquencies by placing the control of affairs in the hands of the girls instead of college authorities.
