The English Lutheran ladies' aid society will meet with Mrs. Joseph Jacobson tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

A. C. Filloon has purchased the residence property at 1301 First street of H. O. Cutler and took possession yesterday. Mr. Cutler has moved into the west half of the west Willson flat on First street.

The C. W. B. M. of the Church of Christ will meet Friday at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. T. W. Cooper on Seneca street. Mrs. Chas. Poland will be leader. Everyone is invited to attend our missionary meetings. Secretary.

Miss Margaret Bell closed a fall term of school Friday in the Carpenter district southeast of town and Miss Ada Bell closed a fall term in the Breeze Hill district, east of the city. The Misses Bell will teach the winter terms in the same districts.

W. H. Barr has been tendered a position on the deputy force of the Ancient Order of United Workmen of Iowa. The position has a good salary connected with it, but would require him to be absent from home a large share of the time, and he is undecided as yet whether or not he will take up the work.

Friends in this city will be interested to know that Mr. and Mrs. Geo. F. Johnson, formerly of this city, now of Renwick, have disposed of their hotel in that place and have decided to locate in Brookings, South Dakota. Mr. Johnson is undecided as to what business he will enter in his new location. The many friends here will wish the family well in their new home.

Charles Varlette, the Des Moines street tailor, is making arrangements to go back to the fatherland. He expects to go in a week or two and may not return to the United States. Mr. Varlette has been in Webster City two or three years, has built up a good business here and his friends generally will regret it if he does not return after having a good visit in the old home.

James Traver, over Metcalf's dry goods store, has one of the best and most finely equipped studios in the state, and is prepared to do all kinds of photographic work—portraiture, commercial work, photographic post cards, copying, enlarging, framing, tinting, etc. The tendency now days is to have your photographs taken in your own home, called home portraiture. There is scarcely a home in Webster City where a nice corner cannot be fixed up for this purpose. Everything necessary to do this work, either by daylight or flashlight, can be taken into your home. I carry a complete line of up to date mounts and folders, and prices are as low as first-class work will warrant. My hobby is quality and that is what everybody wants when it comes to pictures. You are cordially invited to call and investigate my studio and different quality of work. James Traver, over Metcalf's store. 3122111

"KID NICHOLS" ASKS $2,500 DAMAGES

Asks the Freeman-Tribune That Amount for Publishing Iowa Falls Dispatch.

J. C. Nichols has filed a petition in the office of the clerk of the district court asking judgment against the Freeman-Tribune Publishing Company for $2,500 damages. The petition recites that the Freeman-Tribune published a dispatch from Iowa Falls, under date of March 13, stating that a report comes from Wyoming to the effect that "Kid" Nichols had been convicted of shooting Elk in Yellowstone park contrary to law. The dispatch was widely quoted throughout Iowa. Similar actions have been brought against other Iowa papers.

Auto Crank Kicked.

Glenn Bringolf of Denver, Colorado, who has been visiting relatives in the city the past month, sustained a fractured arm last Friday when attempting to crank an automobile. He is layed up at the home of his uncle, Robert Bringolf, on West Bank street. Though the injury is not serious it is giving him quite a little pain.

Arm Broken in Football.

Roy Ewing, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Ewing, who reside on West Water street, fractured his arm while playing football with some other boys Saturday. The young man was in possession of the pigskin when he was tackled by one of the other boys and thrown to the ground. The players piled on top of him and in the mixup his right arm was broken. The boy is now doing very well and though the arm will be useless for some time, he is able to be out.

A Successful Rally Day.

The Sunday school rally day service at the Methodist church Sunday was a decided success from every standpoint. The superintendent, J. L. Peterson, requested everyone to do all they could to make the attendance at least 300 and the collection not less than an average of 5 cents for each one present. His request was more than granted, the attendance being 306 and the collection $18.60. Every class was full to overflowing, making it in fact the biggest, busiest day the Sunday school has had in years.

Idle Capital is an extravagance no community can afford; to do anyone a benefit it must be kept moving and to do the most good it should seek legitimate channels. Then let us divorce ourselves from the prevailing "get rich quick" fever and get back to the good ways of our forefathers. Put your money into something at home, where it will help your home town and enhance the other interests you may have. Why not build a home? There's no satisfaction like that born of the knowledge you own a home. Start it today and tomorrow you'll awaken with a feeling of independence like that of 1776. Of course you'll need lumber, but we can quickly help you out, as our stock is complete and most orders can be filled the day we get them. d11 Young & Clifton.

An Interesting Document.

Speaking of family trees, Capt. F. E. Landers has one, the roots of which have been traced back through six or seven centuries—through nine generations in America and twelve in England. Among the ancestors of Mrs. Landers in England are many lords and barons, members of parliament, etc. The genealogy of the family includes the famous John Dunham, of Scrooby, member of the First Pilgrim Church, who fled from England to Holland and took passage for this country on the Mayflower under the name of John Goodman. Mrs. L. A. McMurray of this city, whose family name is Dunham, is also a descendant of John Dunham and the same English family tree as Mrs. Landers. Upon the sheet containing the pedigrees of the family there are pictures or copies of the coat of arms of twenty of the different old English families of which Mrs. Landers is a scion.

There are very few, indeed, who have the family genealogy traced back as far as this of Mrs. Landers. It required an immense amount of work and is a most interesting record, especially to the family whom it most directly concerns.

WORK BEGUN ON NEW WILSON AVENUE HOME

F. A. Schroeder Begins Erection of Fine New Residence for H. L. Hampton.

F. A. Schroeder, one of Webster City's enterprising contractors, began work today on the new residence of H. L. Hampton on Willson avenue. This building will occupy the site of what was known as the old Miller property, one of the finest residence sites in the city. Webster City has established a record this year in the number of fine new homes that have been built. Mr. Hampton is only one of a number of our loyal citizens who are showing by their actions that they have confidence in the future of Webster City.

Mr. Hampton's new home will be a combination cement and frame structure. It is to be modern in every way and when finished will be one of the substantial and valuable additions to the already large number of fine residences in this city. Let the good work go on.

A METHODIST HALLOWEEN.

The Dorcas Bible class of the Methodist church very pleasantly entertained the members of the Business Men's Bible class last evening at a Halloween party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Oleson on Division street. The rooms were beautifully decorated in autumn leaves and jack-o-lanterns. Various games and diversions were indulged in, after which delicious refreshments were served.

A SPOOKY PARTY.

Misses Ruth and Opal Christenson were hostesses at a very happy Halloween party at their home Saturday evening. They had invited eighteen maidens who accepted and all were having a merry time when six ghosts arrived. Soon after their admittance the girls discovered these ghosts to be six boys of their acquaintance whom the hostesses' mother had invited. Still later in the evening "The Devil" appeared on the scene, he being impersonated by Mr. Chas. Ingertson, who had masked so cleverly that he was unrecognizable and "His Satanic Majesty's" antics were very amusing to the children. The evening ended with the serving of a Halloween supper.

JUNIOR HALLOWEEN PARTY.

The Junior Halloween party at the home of Dr. O. C. Buxton last evening was a complete success. The forty-four members of the class were all present and royally entertained throughout the evening. The home was gaily adorned with class colors, orange and black, and the high school purple and gold. Jolly Halloween games, weird ghost stories, and lively music, formed a portion of the entertainment, and all joined in an enthusiastic search for their fortunes which had been hidden in every conceivable nook and corner of the big house, black cats and witches aiding them in the hunt. At ten o'clock a sumptuous Halloween supper was served in two courses in the basement, which in its autumnal decorations of cornstalks and yellow pumpkins, was certainly a festive dining room. This Halloween party was pleasant proof of the strong social spirit of the class of 1913.

A GOBLIN PARTY.

About twenty-five members of the Plus Ultra class and friends of the Christian Bible school enjoyed a Halloween party Friday evening at the home of Miss Lucile Maxon, 908 Boone street. Eighteen of the members came masked, which made it a very "spooky" affair. The house was tastefully decorated in the class colors—blue, white and gold—while jack-o-lanterns grinned from all corners, and one of huge size greeted the guests on the porch.

Little Miss Myrtle Maxon, crowned as a small witch with a broom on her shoulder, guided the guests to the robing room. At 9:30 a flash light picture was taken of the ghostly guests in their weird array, then the judges appeared and watched the spectral march, after which all unmasked amid much merriment. The first prize was a tie on "the twins"—Misses Jessie Hummel and Odessa Short. The second prize was awarded the little "Alabama coon"—Miss Edna Jones. A second flash light picture was then taken. Immediately after this

THEIR BUGGY OVERTURNED

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Thompson are Thrown out of Rig and Narrowly Escape Fatal Injury.

TEAM FRIGHTENED AT AUTO

Mr. Thompson Escapes Serious Injury, but His Wife is Badly Hurt.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Thompson were thrown from their buggy Sunday afternoon while returning to their home about six miles north of the city. They narrowly escaped fatal injury.

The Thompsons had been in the city visiting relatives and were returning home about four o'clock in the afternoon. Mr. Thompson was driving a very high spirited team. They had just reached the top of the hill north of the city when they were met by Verne Clifton in his automobile. The horses Mr. Thompson were driving became frightened at the car and started to cause trouble. Mr. Thompson managed to hold them until Mr. Clifton stopped, but instead of quieting down when the car stopped they continued kicking and plunging in a terrible manner. Mr. Thompson finally lost control over them and the carriage was overturned. The occupants were thrown violently to the ground. Mr. Clifton hurried to the place where they were thrown out, and although Mr. Thompson received some bad bruises and had several painful wounds about the face, he was able to arise. However, his wife was unable to move without assistance. The injured people were taken into the home of J. H. Craig, who resides close to the place where the accident occurred. A physician was sent for and as Mrs. Thompson was found to be quite seriously injured, the couple were brought back to the city and taken to the home of Mr. Thompson's mother, Mrs. John Thompson, who resides on West Elm street. Though Mr. Thompson is not seriously injured and escaped with some wounds about the head, his wife is still confined to her bed with spinal injury. It is also thought that she may be hurt internally.

Though the cause of the accident was Mr. Clifton's automobile, he is in no way to be blamed, as he was driving slowly at the time and stopped his car as soon as it was possible.

For convenience of public you can get change or checks cashed hereafter on Saturday night, Sunday and Monday night, at Buster Brown's—drugs, on the corner, 11-302622 everybody was invited upstairs to Madam Fortune Teller's den, from which place issued peals of laughter that told all were enjoying themselves. A guessing contest was also indulged in. A huge pumpkin was placed on a table and its weight guessed. Miss Esther Bell won. A jar of seeds was counted and number guessed. Miss Nina Edwards being successful. "Honorable mention" might be made of all the costumes, as they were pretty and unique. At a late hour refreshments were served, consisting of popcorn, grapes, apples and mint wafers. All departed, vowing it the best time of the season.

SENIORS HOLD HALLOWEEN PARTY.

The annual Halloween party of the senior class of the high school was held last evening jointly at the homes of Miss Bessie Cunningham and John Dodge, both on Walnut street. The social part of the evening was spent at the Cunningham home, while the banquet was served at the Dodge residence.

Upon arriving at the Cunningham home the guests were received by "ghosts." They were conducted to the rear of the house through dark stairways and spooky lanes. They were also taken upon a journey through "Hades," where weird witches and goblins received them. The house was profusely decorated with jack-o-lanterns, black cats, owls, etc. Only the lanterns were lighted, making the scene as weird and impressive as possible. At thirty-three the crowd repaired to the Dodge home, which presented a similar appearance in its decorations, and here an elaborate three-course banquet was spread. The class members enjoyed themselves hugely until a late hour.

A STRONG LETTER OF ENDORSEMENT

Manson Friend Writes to Rev. Kamphoefner Strongly Commending Dr. Calfee.

Rev. C. H. Kamphoefner received a letter this morning from Mr. M. W. Fitz, president of the Farmers Savings Bank and one of the leading citizens of Manson, with whom Mr. Kamphoefner has had a pleasant intimate acquaintance for a number of years, in which he speaks of the work done in Manson by Dr. W. J. Calfee, who opens a series of evangelistic meetings at the Methodist church tomorrow evening. Mr. Fitz says:

Dear Brother Kamphoefner: I learn that you have been fortunate enough to secure the services of evangelist Wm. John Calfee for a series of revival meetings, and I am just volunteering a line to you to congratulate you and your church in being able to secure such an evangelist and at such a favorable time of the year. Mr. Calfee just closed a two weeks meeting here last night which has been very successful in every way, as he has interested so many men whom other ministers of the gospel have not been able to get up to. Every one, both out and in the church, admires him. He does not use a questionable nor an objectionable method in his work. He comes so near "wearing the smile that don't come off" and all his work is of the sweetest kind. Every one who hears him wants to hear him again, and when he is done with you there are no sore spots to be patched up. I have heard it said repeatedly since he has been here that when we want an evangelist again we want take any chances with a stranger if Brother Calfee can be had. Others say that he could come back here and start a meeting with as large a crowd as he closed this meeting with.

Tell your folks that they can safely throw away their prejudice against evangelists; that instead of slipping in on the back seat the first night, that they can safely walk down to the family pew and feel proud to occupy it throughout the meeting.

I trust that the Spirit may move your people to righteousness and that your effort may be crowned with great success.

Yours truly,
M. W. Fitz.

Is Strongly Commended.

The Manson Journal makes the following comment concerning the work of Dr. Calfee, the evangelist who is to assist in the evangelistic campaign which is to begin at the Methodist church next Wednesday evening:

"Evangelist Calfee led a strenuous life last Sunday, addressing five audiences, including the great men's meeting in the Y. M. C. A. hall. The scenes witnessed in these services have greatly stirred the community. Scores of young people came to the altar consecrating their lives to God, many who had never before made a profession of religion accepting Christ as a personal Savior. Interest grows with every meeting, and great things are expected before the close of the last services Sunday evening.

Evangelist Calfee is a fearless and convincing speaker, brave and tenderhearted, loving men back to God—while he hurls conternation into the ranks of sin. Rev. Calfee has a definite message for men. He is a big, manly man, and presents a faith and type of Christianity that challenges the admiration of every man's heart."

Arm Fractured.

Ralph, the fourteen months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed McFarlane, sustained a fracture of his right arm last Saturday. The little boy was playing at his home on Walnut street with his sister at the time of the accident and it is not known exactly how the injury was received. The injury did not give him much pain and was not discovered until some time after the accident occurred.

JUNIORS AND SENIORS HAVE BIG TIME

Annual High School Class Scrap is Fiercest in the History of School.

The annual class scrap between the juniors and seniors this year was one of the fiercest in the history of the high school. Several of the members of these two classes are nursing minor injuries from yesterday's affair.

Though it has always been the rule in the past for the seniors to punish the juniors at this time and also keep them from enjoying their Halloween party, this year the tables were turned and the undergraduates reigned supreme during the entire day over the upper class members.

This is caused by the small number of seniors in the high school at present. The scrap started Sunday afternoon when some of the boys in the lower class procured an automobile and after overpowering some of the seniors carried them about nine miles into the country, where they kept at the home of a farmer near Woolstock. After this they returned to the city and it is said that others were found and kept in different places. However, the day was not spent without some little glory for the top class men, as they also succeeded in capturing some of their opponents and hid them away to different places for safe keeping. Though no injury is meant by the young people in this affair, they are some times careless about the treatment given to their rivals. On one of these occasions one of the seniors was taken from his boarding place and spirited away. His rivals in order to keep him bound him securely with a rope. After staying in this position for several hours the boy gave up and was returned to his room in one of the local rooming houses. He was unable to walk to the place and it was necessary to take him back in an automobile. When he had reached his room it is said he was placed in the care of a physician and for a time he was thought to be seriously injured. However, yesterday afternoon the lad returned to the fray and has entirely recovered today.

The class girls also enter this contest although not with such vigor as the boys. Yesterday there was just one young lady senior who braved the dangers of captivity and attended school all day. Several of the girls who wished to attend the senior party last evening went to the home of Miss Bessie Cunningham, who was hostess, where they were in hiding during the entire day. At the Cunningham home the night locks on the doors were kept in constant use. There were four young ladies in this crowd. Sunday morning the president of the senior class, Miss Katherine Kelly, was taken by friends to the home of Miss Bessie Lyon, one of the high school faculty, where she was kept for safety until evening, when she was returned home. Monday afternoon she was dressed in disguise and taken to Cunningham's to the party. One of the seniors was imprisoned at the home of Verne Buxton, a junior and after staying there for some time was rescued by his classmates who used a ladder with which they ascended to the second story of the house.

Though some of the members of both classes were used quite roughly at times, they are very agreeable towards each other today and are consulting between classes as to which liniment is the best for the bruises they received.

Want Second Hand Clothing.

Any one having second hand clothing that they want to dispose of, if they will let us know we will call and get it. We have had several calls for clothing and didn't have anything for them. Yours in the Master's service, Capt. T. R. Wallace. American Salvation Army, 226 Bank street.

Innes-Fordyce.

At 8 o'clock Friday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Nott, occurred the marriage of Miss Margaret Innes of Scotland, and Mr. E. O. Fordyce of Buckeye, Iowa. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. McCracken in the presence of a few invited guests. Following the ceremony a bounteous supper was served, and singing and music filled the evening until a late hour. The groom is a nephew of Mrs. Nott. The guests present: Miss Jennie Nott, Miss Annetta Nott, Miss Myrtle Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Goodrich, Master Lyle Goodrich, Mr. A. S. Holt.
