

ALL NATIONS 8; WEBSTER CITY 4

An Interesting Ball Game at Riverside Park in This City—All Nations Exceptionally Strong.

WHITE SOX NOT AT THEIR BEST

Home Team Makes Creditable Showing Considering Strength of Opponents.

The All Nations-White Sox ball game in this city Friday afternoon drew a big crowd of spectators and an interesting contest was witnessed. The visitors have trimmed up every team they have met in this section of country and that the home boys should be a sacrifice to their prowess was no surprise to the fans. In fact, the White Sox did well in making the showing they did, especially in view of the further fact that they put up a rather weak article of ball. The visitors are an exceptionally strong aggregation. The score was 4 to 8.

In the first inning for Webster City, Morgan made a two base hit, and on error by Seymour on Sucher's grounder, Morgan scored. One hit, one run.

Second inning, All Nations: Blattner walked. Dunbar made first on error by Mitchell, advancing Blattner to second. Jackson hit for two bases, scoring Blattner and Dunbar. Seymour made first on fielder's choice. Graves hit to Richards and was put out at first. Schaunburg singled, scoring Seymour. Mendez struck out. Two hits, three runs.

Second inning, Webster City: Moose singled, Berggren and Clapper struck out. Richards singled. Ludeman singled, scoring Moose. Morgan struck out. Three hits, one run.

Third inning, All Nations: Brandell three base hit. Donaldson singled, scoring Brandell. Blattner to first base on Richards' error. Dunbar hit into a double. Jackson flew out to Clapper. Two hits, one run.

Third inning, Webster City: Sucher three base hit and scored on passed ball. One hit, one run.

Fourth inning, All Nations: Graves, second man up, two base hit. Schaunburg hit by pitched ball. Mendez singled, scoring Graves. Brandell struck out. Donaldson singled. Mitchell caught Schaunburg at the plate. Three hits, one run.

Fifth inning, All Nations: Blattner walked. Dunbar sacrificed, advancing Blattner to second. Jackson two base hit, scoring Blattner. Moose's error on Seymour's grounder scored Jackson. Morgan caught Seymour at third. Schaunburg flew out to Berggren. One hit, two runs.

Sixth inning, All Nations: Mendez walked. Brandell flew out to Morgan. Donaldson two base hit, scoring Mendez. Blattner singled, but Dunbar fouled out and Jackson went out on a fly to Berggren. Two hits, one run.

Eighth inning, Webster City: Corbin singled. Sucher singled, but Brandell caught Corbin going to third. An error by Mendez scored Sucher and gave Mitchell first base. Moose and Berggren were put out on infield grounders. Two hits, one run.

EXCITING SCENE IN AUTO POLO CONTEST AT IOWA STATE FAIR, AUG. 26 TO SEPT. 4.

WILL ISSUE A NEW CITY DIRECTORY

Reed & Sjuln of Iowa City Will do the Work—Will be Out Soon.

A new city directory is being gotten out by Reed & Sjuln of Iowa City, which will be out soon, probably by the last of September. The former directory was made in August, 1911, by this same firm, but the constant changes in a growing city make a directory compulsory every few years. Webster City has had many changes in residents during the past three years and a new directory will be welcomed, especially by the business houses of the town. Mr. Reed has been here for several days and has already gathered much of the material for the new book. Should you be confronted by a young man at your door, who asks you innumerable questions which you may think too personal to be of any possible interest to him, just bear in mind that he is the herald of a new city directory which, to be authentic, will necessitate the answering of the questions correctly and promptly.

PRICES HAVE MOUNTED ALARMINGLY

Local Dealers Say There is no Reason for Rise in Price of Flour and Sugar.

In Webster City the prices of food-stuffs have mounted alarmingly since the declaration of war by foreign countries. Flour which formerly sold at $1.65 per sack, has risen to $1.90, or a rise of $1.20 per barrel. Sugar which sold from $4.50 to $4.58 per 100 pound sack now retails in the city for from $7.85 to $8.00 per sack, or in the neighborhood of 12 pounds for one dollar. There is absolutely no reason as known by retail merchants for a rise in either of these important foodstuffs. Navy beans have also advanced, as also has canned salmon and fish of every kind, including sardines, shrimp and lobster. Unless the relief promised by the president is soon forthcoming, there will be a surprising advance in all canned fruits, for the average housewife will hesitate to put up more fruit this season with sugar at the highwater mark. All imported goods will advance naturally for the stock on hand in importing houses is the only supply available. This will include Italian and French macaroni, spaghetti and vermicelli, olive oil and all imported foods. Figs and dates and certain imported vinegars will all be left off the bill of fare should war continue. Several grocers in the city who had on hand large shipments of flour are not taking advantage of the rise in prices to any extent, but are selling these commodities at very reasonable prices. One grocer makes the assertion that the people themselves are responsible for the soaring of prices, in that they are easily scared into buying large quantities of stuff at high prices, fearing that they may go still higher. The wholesale dealers know this and take advantage accordingly. If the public would hold off and buy just as usual, what they need and no more, there would not be the rise in prices of necessities that there is.

There is absolutely no excuse for the rise in the price of flour. Wheat has advanced a possible five to eight cents per bushel, but the supply of wheat is enormous. Granaries everywhere are bursting with the storage of wheat kept by companies waiting for the price to go still higher: It takes approximately five bushels of wheat to make one barrel of flour; if wheat rises two cents per bushel the legitimate rise in price on a barrel of flour is ten cents. It is hoped that justice will not delay in this matter which involves the sustenance of the American race.

Social Affairs

LAWN PARTY.

The Misses Amy and Irene Frank and Annette McFarland entertained about twenty-five friends at the Frank home on Willson ave. Friday night at a lawn party in honor of the Misses Leota, Gertrude and Inez Sparks of Antigo, Wis., former residents of this city. A dainty supper was served on small tables on the lawn at 6:30 o'clock and the evening spent with a few games and with visiting.

SIX O'CLOCK DINNER.

Miss Clarine Mueller entertained twenty young lady friends at 6 o'clock dinner at her home on Division street Friday night in honor of her visiting friend, Miss Lucile Brunner of Waterloo.

House and table decorations following a scheme of yellow and brown made attractive the pleasant home. Dinner was served in four courses at small tables prettily decorated with vases of golden glow at the center, and dainty place cards aided in decoration. During the social hour which followed, an impromptu musical program furnished entertainment in connection with social conversation.

Other than town guests were Miss Bethene Smith, Estherville; Miss Eva Roberts, Independence; Miss Lilah McCauliff, Hampton.

Peterson Will Pitch.

Peterson, late of the Fort Dodge ball team, signed up with Manager Kearns Friday as a member of the White Sox pitching squad for the remainder of the present season. This gives Webster City a formidable pitching staff—second to none of the strong teams in this section.

Roads and Roads.

Some of the farmers residing northwest of town call attention to the fact that it is unnecessary for Webster City people to go to Fort Dodge to witness some of the most damnable road making in the state of Iowa. Our good friend W. H. VanNote was in town a day or two ago and suggested that while roasting was good it would not be out of order to give the city council a few touches for the abominable road the council put in on the east side of the Kurtz farm. This strip of road reaches from the Crooked Creek railroad crossing at the National Sewer Pipe plant west to the corner and thence north nearly a mile. This work was under the charge of the city. F. J. Lund gave the city sand if the city would sand the road. The council thought here was an opportunity to get something for nothing, so they proceeded to put the sand on the road about six inches deep, with the result that it was almost impossible to plow through it with an automobile on low gear. Everybody avoided the new road, which was put in last year, and drove along the side. The city didn't propose to let the public escape thus easily, hence a month or so ago they put the grader on again and threw a lot of dirt upon the sand, but not enough to hold the sand in place. The result is something awful to contemplate and must be seen to be appreciated. Had the street and alley committee, or whoever had the matter in charge in the first place, used ordinary judgment, that strip of road would now be one of the finest in the county and be a thing of joy forever. If about two inches of sand instead of six had been put upon the roadway it would have become mixed with the dirt and a good road would be the result. Too much sand is worse than none at all, as it does not pack like some kinds of gravel. It is a matter of general knowledge, too, that in many places too much gravel is put upon the roads and the roadways become wavy and bumpy. Experienced road makers declare that an inch or two spread at a time after the dirt road is leveled properly insures best results. It will then spread evenly and the result is a smooth driveway. Then later more gravel can be added from time to time as needed. In many places leading out of the city too much gravel has been used and the result is not satisfactory. If you want to see a nice gravel road go west from the Catholic cemetery. There the road has been sanded and graveled, but not too much of this material has been used. Up north of town, along the Charlie Segar farm, is another place where the men spreading the gravel used judgment. It is much cheaper to put the gravel on as it should be than it is to spread it two or three times as thick as best approved methods warrant.

A WORD TO TEAMSTERS OF THE CITY

Justice G. F. Tucker Will Investigate Complaints of Cruelty to Animals.

Complaint has been made quite frequently of late, that certain teams hauling sand and gravel for paving purposes, have been over-driven, overloaded and worked when unfit for labor, especially so in hauling heavy loads of sand and gravel out of the pit and up the dump where the loads are deposited. The statutes of Iowa provide that if any person overdrive, overload, drive when overloaded, cruelly beat, or drive or work any animal when unfit for labor, or commit any other act or omission by which unjustifiable pain or suffering is caused or permitted to any animal, or shall knowingly permit such act or omission or cause or procure the same to be done, he shall be imprisoned not to exceed thirty days in the county jail, or be fined not to exceed one hundred dollars.

It will be well for all persons using teams for hauling in Webster City to heed this statutory provision, as a violation of this law is no trivial affair. A word to the wise ought to be sufficient.

I will say, however, to the good people of Webster City, who are friends of the domestic animals that cannot speak and tell of their abuse, that if you know of and can prove any violations of the above statute, if you will report the same to the undersigned, the matter will be speedily investigated.

G. F. Tucker.

The Last Sad Rites.

The funeral of the late Annie C. Smith was held at the home on Division street at ten o'clock Saturday morning and was well attended by neighbors and friends of the deceased. The body was laid to rest by the side of her parents in Graceland cemetery.

The services were conducted by Rev. Arthur Metcalf, assisted by Rev. L. N. Call, a neighbor and friend of the family since the earliest years of Miss Smith's life, and the services, though brief, were well suited to the occasion.

Those nearest and dearest to Miss Smith had gone on before and the happy reunion in Heaven of father, mother and daughter, whose devotion to each other on earth was so marked, should make this a day of rejoicing rather than one of sadness.

The departed will be most missed in the home by Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Lee, who for a number of years have so kindly and tenderly devoted their time to the care and comfort of the mother until her death, and since to the daughter. She will also be sadly missed by the members of the Literary Round Table of which she has been a member for the past eighteen years and in the interests of which she has been a tireless and faithful worker when her health would permit. Those of their number present in the city formed a guard of honor at the funeral and the pall bearers chosen were husbands of six of these club sisters.

At the grave pink roses, the club flower, dropped by each of the ladies upon the casket before it was lowered and all felt that the memory of this loved sister would be a sweet fragrance through all the future years of their club life.
